

SHOOT WOMAN; STEAL JEWELS

WAGGONER SAYS HE'S GUILTY AND GETS 15 YEARS

Robin Hood Plea in Bank Fraud Futile.

New York, Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Charles Dolos Waggoner, Telluride, Colo., banker, who "sliced" six of New York's largest banks out of $500,000, pleaded guilty today to using the mails to defraud.

Mr. Waggoner, an aging man, dressed in a shabby gray suit, preserved his self-possession when he heard Judge Frank J. Coleman impose a sentence of 15 years at Atlanta. He had been indicted on six counts, the maximum for each count being five years and $1,000 fine. The judge disregarded usual custom by ruling that the five year sentence on three counts run consecutively instead of concurrently. It was a stiff sentence.

Testifies as to His Motive.

The plea of guilty surprised the prosecution, which had expected to proceed with evidence. Despite the plea, Mr. Waggoner was put on the stand and sworn, as the judge wished to question him concerning his motive.

"Just why," asked Judge Coleman, "did you commit this very serious crime?"

"I am rather be in the position now than in that have those folks at there who trust me think that I did not do all I could for them," the defendant replied.

"Do you think they wanted you to commit such a serious crime?" continued the judge.

"No," the prisoner admitted, "but you depended on me to take care of them."

"A Moral Obligation."

"You weren't responsible for the financial troubles of Telluride," said the judge. "It wasn't your fault that the banks were closed down and business became bad."

"There is a difference of opinion," Mr. Waggoner replied, "but I considered that I had a moral obligation to help those folks."

He cited instances of depositors in the bank who would have been ruined unless he managed in some way to preserve the institution's credit.

"The idea," he said, "was to force the banks of Denver to loan him $150,000 through the manipulation of false credits in the New York banks. With this $150,000 he could have straightened out the whole thing."

Prosecutor Is Sarcastic.

Where he plan failed, he admitted, was through the refusal of the Denver banks to give him this loan.

Waggoner's plea of "moral obligation" to his people "seemed to amuse United States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle.

"A hero," he remarked aside in his best Shakespearean manner.

"Then, to the court: 'Ever since this defendant was arrested the defense has been putting out Robin Hood propaganda.'

"But he's a wolf in sheep's clothing and for years he has capitalized on his reputation he made as an honest banker. He was the one who was to benefit most by this fraud. And he was afraid of what an outraged local sentiment might do to him if the public found out he had been defrauding them for years."

Judge Convinced of His Sanity.

"This whole scheme of raising $150,000 by fraud in New York was nothing but a method of getting out of the jurisdiction of Colorado into the jurisdiction of New York."

"There were $93,000 in forged notes in his bank, and he forged them."

Mr. Tuttle said that postal inspectors calculated that all but $35,000 of the $500,000 would go to Waggoner as soon as he met obligations, such as the alleged forged notes.

The district attorney's speech impressed Judge Coleman, who said: "I was convinced this defendant is a sane man and I am also convinced that there was no altruistic or honorable motive behind his actions."

Irregularities Are Reported.

Telluride, Colo., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Charles C. D. Waggoner was guilty of irregularities in the conduct of the bank of Telluride, were made known today by investigators.

Officials and attorneys who have been investigating the bank's affairs claimed that through fraudulent transactions he bankrupted some of his personal friends, that he defrauded widows entrusted to his care and forged notes for many thousands of dollars in his manipulations. He was indicted in blank by friends and in his hands were filled in for large amounts for which those assigned them now may be held in doubt, according to the investigation.

REVEAL IDENTITY OF TWO PILOTS IN ENDURANCE TEST

The two "mystery pilots" who are flying the plane Chicago We Will over the Sky Harbor airport in an effort to establish a new refueling record are Kenneth Hunter and John Hunter, brothers. This was disclosed last night by Dr. David L. Hedberg, chairman of the Evanston Lions club committee making arrangements for placing air markers in Evanston.

John Hunter was pilot of the refueling plane on the first flight of the Chicago We Will, while Kenneth is chief pilot at the South Bend airport.

At midnight last night the plane had been aloft 257 hours. Earlier in the day the pilots had asked for warmer clothing, which was delivered to them by their refueling plane. The Hunters said the motor of their plane was functioning perfectly and that they expected no difficulty in breaking the record of 421 hours, set by the St. Louis Robin.

Fight for Land Reveals Huge Attorney Fee

A contract was revealed yesterday by the terms of which an attorney will receive between $50,000 and $200,000 in contingent fees if his twenty-one clients win their claims in the condemnation proceedings on riparian rights brought by the Lincoln park board. The attorney is Charles Weinfeld of the firm of Schuyler, Weinfeld & Parker. He confirmed the provisions of the contract.

He said his clients ask land, not money, on the ground that the strip between Sheridan road and the line of the park board would establish what he called the "park board line" and would be entitled to land with a depth of 1,000 feet from Sheridan road.

The made land, if privately owned, would have a maximum value of $30,000,000, it is estimated.

The claims of the property owners are opposed by the park board, which in 1904 established a riparian boundary line along the lake shore.

"Absolutely no compromise will be made with the property owners for land past this hypothetical line," said W. H. Beckman, attorney for the park commissioners, yesterday.

THIRTY CHICAGO PUPILS EXPELLED AT EVANSTON H. S.

Thirty sons and daughters of Rogers Park residents, who registered at the Evanston Township High School under fictitious Evanston addresses, were expelled yesterday and advised to attend Chicago schools, for support of which their parents paid taxes.

Supt. Francis L. Bacon of the Evanston school, in announcing the expulsions, said he suspected about 70 other Chicagoans were among the 3,000 students and declared that they would be dealt with as they were found out. In every case thus far discovered the parents had connived with the pupils in the deception in order to afford their children what they regarded as the superior advantages of the Evanston High school, Mr. Bacon said.

2 GUNMEN GET TRACK VISITOR'S $50,000 GEMS

Her Companions Are Held by Police.

Mrs. Nellie Perky, wife of a millionaire Florida real estate operator, who came to Chicago with her husband three weeks ago for the racing season, was shot through the jaw and robbed of her $50,000 jewels at dusk in Cicero yesterday as she and two chance acquaintances were motoring back to town from the Hawthorne track.

An investigation of the robbery and gunplay, which occurred at Cicero avenue and 25th street, led to the detention early this morning of Mrs. Perky's companions at the track. Mrs. Marie Knowles, 38 year old divorcee, was locked up in women's quarters at the Oak Park police station while James Lamorte, alias Lamont, one time keeper of a gambling resort, was held in the Cicero station.

Husband Learns of Robbery.

The wounded woman, who is 40 years old, is in the Frances Willard hospital with a fair chance of recovering. Her husband, R. C. Perky, who left his wife here when recalled home to Key West on business, was planning to take a train for Chicago this morning. His share of the vacation had been cut short when the Florida storm situation occasioned his return to the south.

The Perky had come here as guests of John H. Porter, president of the Calumet Steel company. It was in Porter's three story mansion, 5454 Hyde Park boulevard, that Mrs. Perky met Mrs. Knowles and Lamorte, according to information obtained from the detained pair by Assistant State's Attorney Walker Butler.

Yesterday, two days after Mrs. Perky's departure, Mrs. Knowles telephoned Mrs. Perky at the Porter apartment. Mr. Porter, his servants explained last night, was away in Detroit on business.

Borrow Car from Maid.

Mrs. Perky accepted the divorcee's invitation to attend the races. Mrs. Knowles called for her shortly before noon and, learning that Porter had taken his own limousine to Detroit, borrowed the Negro chauffeur's small coupe from the chauffeur's wife, Mrs. Lamar Grant, who is a maid in the Porter home. Mrs. Knowles explained she was a frequent visitor at the Porter home, and well acquainted with the servants.

The two women drove downtown, lunched at a loop restaurant, and then called for Lamorte at the McCormick hotel where he resides. Before they reached the track, Mrs. Perky removed her 16 carat diamond ring, diamond bracelet, diamond necklace, and dinner rings she had worn at lunch, and put them in her purse.

At the track Lamorte produced a pass issued to State Representative Ernest W. Turner on which he and his party were admitted free. Lamorte, whose big wagers have made him a prominent figure at Chicago tracks, advised the women on bets and introduced them to some of his turf acquaintances.

They were returning to the city with respectable winnings when a larger car swerved obliquely in front of the borrowed coupe at 28th street and Cicero avenue. Two men got out of the obstructing car and ran back to the coupe.

Woman Kneads; Is Shot.

One shoved a pistol against Lamorte, who was at the wheel. The other leaped through the opposite window with a pistol in his right hand. With the left he seized Mrs. Perky's purse.

When she clung to it, screaming, he shoved his weapon under her chin and fired, the bullet ranged upward through her head, passing over her forehead above her left eye, without, however, severing the optic nerve. She sank back, unconscious, leaving the purse in the gunman's hands.

The robbers jumped in their own car and were off before Mrs. Knowles or Lamorte could spot the license number, the pair said later. Lamorte, aware that Mrs. Perky was seriously wounded, made no effort at pursuit, but drove the coupe to Dr. Joseph Pietrowski's office at 4926 West 98th street. The physician administered emergency treatment, saw his patient en route to the Willard hospital, and then notified the Cicero police.

Son Slays His Father to Get Farm, He Says

Kentland, Ind., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Charles Hyers, 34, of Hammond, Ind., confessed tonight that he shot and killed his father, James Hyers, 54, Tuesday night, that he might inherit eighty acres of land. The son shot through a window at his father, whose body was found by a half brother with whom he lived near here.

Charles Hyers said he conceived the plan after his wife threatened to leave him because he was penniless and unemployed.

Flames Sweep Aurora Movie; Loss $300,000

Fire early today was sweeping through the Strand theater in Aurora, one of the oldest movies in the town, and damaging other buildings in the block. The Strand is located at Broadway and Benton street, in the heart of the business district. Officials announced the loss would be at least $300,000.

The fire started at 3 a. m. under the stage of the theater and gained headway rapidly, sweeping through the interior and up to the roof. The cause was not ascertained at an early hour. The theater is located near the tracks of the Burlington railroad, and the theory was advanced that a spark from an engine might have started the flames.

The theater is owned by the Public group. It was formerly the Aurora opera house.

Women Free? Conflict Rages on New Styles

All sorts of issues having to do with the sociologists, psychologists, and reformers have labeled "woman's freedom," "feminism," and "sex equality" are being settled in the dressing rooms of shops and department stores along State street and Michigan avenue.

The new styles which have been predicted season after season with little effect at last are here. Whether the likes it or not, the Chicago woman who goes shopping in smart shops today has to buy high-waisted, long-skirted, form-fitting clothes, many of which resemble the styles shown in Godey's Lady's book of 40 years ago, or none at all.

"It just goes to show that all this woman's emancipation stuff is simply chaffed off," one buyer for a loop store said in disgust. "I don't like the new styles, and it isn't just because I haven't a wasplike waist, either. But women are falling for them!"

Conflict Rages in Shops.

A tour through the shops and department stores, in an effort to obtain a symposium on how the new styles were being received, showed heartfelt conflict.

"Women don't like the styles, and I don't blame them," a second buyer confessed. "I don't think we should give up this painfully won freedom. And every one knows that how a woman dresses she is. How can we feel independent if we wear long skirts, corsets, and frilly things?"

"No woman exists—except the very young—who isn't in quest of youth today. Why should she put on draperies and long skirts?"

"It is purely a commercial thing. In my opinion, Manufacturers, and designers want to fust these styles on us so that every one will have to discard her present simple dresses and go in for these elaborate things. But the women won't stand for it! We're more sensible than men like to think we are."

Another Point of View.

Another buyer had this to say: "There is nothing saccharine about the new styles. Look at this evening dress. She pointed to a shimmering gown of silver and white with bouffant skirt, such as colonial dames might have worn. "It has dignity. A flapper wouldn't feel like talking slang in it. But it isn't gushy. A girl wearing it wouldn't have to reply with downcast eyes when asked for a dance."

Women are going wild over the new styles. They are starved for an outlet for their natural feminine desires. After all, most of us women have to work these days, but do we have to give up charm?"

One woman declared with fervor that she "could choke Fannie Hurst for what she said about the new styles, but," she added wickedly, "I suppose I shouldn't blame her. I'm pump myself, and one should be tall for the new styles, but I think they will make me look taller."

Back Again to Womanhood.

There is no doubt about one thing the discussions indicated; women are going to think of themselves as women again, they are going to long to be fascinating, not merely brainy and independent or capable of bringing in the pay check.

The woman who has counted her calories day by day need not worry. In fact, she'd better keep on counting them, the style experts agree. For most of the dresses, while they accentuate the bust, cling to the waist, rippling out after they have reached the hips, over which they fit snugly.

U. S. ACCEPTS BID TO LONDON NAVAL PARLEY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—While Washington and other capitals were assessing today the implications of the understanding reached by President Hoover and Prime Minister MacDonald for cooperation between Britain and America to preserve world peace, the state department announced the acceptance by the United States of the British invitation to the London navy reduction conference.

The text of the acceptance, which was delivered to the British foreign office this morning by Ray Atherton, American chargé d'affaires in London, follows:

"I have the honor to refer to the note which you were good enough to address to the ambassador on Oct. 7 and I take great pleasure in informing you that the American government hastens to accept the invitation of his majesty's government to a conference on naval armaments to take place in London the latter part of January which will unite the powers signatory to the Washington treaty in a discussion which will anticipate the problems raised under article 21 of that treaty as well as broaden its whole scope by the inclusion of the other categories of ships."

Limitation of Cruisers.

The American acceptance makes it clear that what the United States desires is a reopening of the Washington conference agreement to bring about not only a limitation of cruisers and destroyers and the abolition of submarines but a reduction of battleship tonnage in the interest of the lightening of the burden of taxes for armament.

The second paragraph of article XXI of the Washington treaty provides that the United States, "after consultation with the other contracting powers, shall arrange for a conference of all the contracting powers which shall convene as soon as possible after the expiration of eight years from the coming into force of the present treaty to consider what changes, if any, in the treaty may be necessary to meet technical and scientific developments affecting sea power."

It would devolve upon President Hoover to call this conference in 1931, or thereafter, but the holding of the London conference next January will make it possible to anticipate the meeting provided for in the Washington treaty.

Revise Battleship Program.

The proposal to revise the battleship limitation of the Washington conference downward will bring before the London conference various suggestions made by Mr. Hoover and by the British admiralty. The British will renew the effort they made at the Geneva conference of 1927 to procure a reduction in the size of battleships and the caliber of guns. The Washington treaty limited capital ships to a tonnage of 35,000 and guns to 16 inches. The British want the tonnage limitation reduced to 25,000 and the gun caliber to 13 or 14 inches.

The American delegation at Geneva opposed this change, the result of which would be to prevent the United States from building the equals of the British battleships Rodney and Nelson, the largest and most powerful warships in the world, which the British were allowed to build subsequent to the Washington conference.

Save U. S. 400 Millions.

Mr. Hoover proposed the postponement, at least to some extent, of the replacements of capital ships that are to be made, beginning in 1931, under the Washington treaty. Britain and America are scheduled to lay down ten new battleships each between 1931 and 1936 to replace obsolete ships. As battleships cost about $40,000,000 each, the omission of replacements would save each country about 400 million dollars.

It is not clear that the general board of the navy approves this step. At least the admirals are divided on the question, for unless Britain scraps the Rodney and Nelson, the American fleet will be inferior to the British until the United States replaces two of its old ships with new ones, the equal of the British pair.

The sincerity of the British professions of acceptance of the principle of parity between the two navies will be tested at the London conference by the British attitude toward adjustment, not only of cruiser but of battleship tonnage.

Abolition of Submarines.
In advocating the abolition of submarines, the United States has now acquiesced in a British proposal to which it refused to accede at the Washington conference. At that time Mr. Hughes stood on the opinion of the advisory board that submarines are essential to our national defense. President Coolidge subsequently made the concession to the British view, Ambassador Hugh Gibson announcing at the Geneva conference the readiness of the United States to agree to the abolition of the submarine.

It was difficult to gauge the reaction of congress to the joint statement of President Hoover and the British prime minister. All of the leading senators interviewed appeared to be either amused or puzzled and none was willing to comment on the statement for publication at this time.

Anglo-American Alliance.
The general opinion seemed to be that the understanding is susceptible of interpretation as an Anglo-American alliance for the preservation of peace. Not a few senators suggested that this interpretation will cause considerable commotion at home and abroad.

Some viewed the statement as an effort to nullify the American interpretation of the Kellogg pact officially recorded by the senate in ratifying it. The senate approved it on the understanding that the United States assumed no obligation to join in action against any nation which may violate the agreement to renounce war. The Hoover-MacDonald pronouncement commits the United States to cooperation with Great Britain for the preservation of peace.

MacDonald Gives His Views.
It is well known that Mr. MacDonald had in mind in procuring the consent of Mr. Hoover to this declaration. During his election campaign last spring Mr. MacDonald issued a pamphlet in which he set forth his views on the preservation of peace. He contemplated that in the event of a violation of the Kellogg pact, Great Britain would join with other nations in boycotting, blockading and otherwise coercing and punishing the offending nation. And he made it clear that in his opinion it would be the duty of the United States to abide by, if not to participate in, the application of the coercive measures.

The maneuvering European chancelleries for years have been directed toward this goal. Being outside the league of nations, the United States is not bound to join in coercive measures. America would be free to trade with the offending nation. How to commit America to waive this right has been the subject of much heavy thinking abroad. The question now raised is whether this object has been attained through the action of Mr. Hoover in committing the United States to cooperate with Great Britain to preserve peace.

BRITTEN CALLS MACDONALD TRIP WORLD PEACE AID

New York, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Representative Fred A. Britten of Chicago, chairman of the congressional committee on naval affairs, who was a delegate from congress to the inter-parliamentary conference on disarmament at Geneva last month, returned today on the liner Leviathan. Of the visit of Ramsey MacDonald to the United States, he said:
"All of Europe feels that the ties of friendship between England and the United States will be greatly strengthened by Mr. MacDonald's visit, and these ties will be the deeper on the prospects of a successful naval limitation conference in London in January."
"If this conference terminates successfully and naval equality between England and the United States is definitely agreed upon, it will be the greatest step toward world peace that has occurred since the signing of the armistice. It will go even further than the now famous Kellogg anti-war treaties."
"With England and the United States determined to crush the spirit of war, I cannot conceive how any of the smaller dependent nations would think of settling international disputes by any other than peaceful means."

Representative Britten and Mrs. Britten, who accompanied him to Europe, intend to go to Washington immediately. Mrs. Britten, who was operated upon for appendicitis on the Leviathan on her eastward trip on July 27, has recovered.

PREMIER VISITS NEW YORK FOR REST AND TALKS

MacDonald Dinner Guest of Thomas Lamont.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 10.—[Special.]—Very tired but very happy at "having achieved more than he had hoped," Prime Minister MacDonald left Washington this morning and traveled to New York where he is now resting after one of the most strenuous weeks of labor in his life. He has another hard day before him tomorrow when he addresses two large meetings, but after that he expects to be let alone until his arrival in Ottawa towards the end of next week.

Britain's premier was the dinner guest tonight of Thomas W. Lamont, partner in the banking firm of J. P. Morgan & Co.
The prime minister's party left the capital on a Baltimore and Ohio special train a little before 9 o'clock. Secretary of State Stimson and a number of officials were on the platform to greet him and the party between Britain's chief representative and the American secretary of state was noticeably cordial. Sir Esme and Lady Howard also were on the platform and Mrs. Stimson came along to say good-bye to Isobel.

Host to Physicians.
At Philadelphia the train lay over for nearly three hours while Mr. MacDonald gave an entirely private luncheon to the physicians who cared for him when he was ill in Philadelphia two years ago and a few other personal friends. He was greeted at the station by the mayor and a delegation of the city council, while lined up outside were about fifty British veterans of the World war including three women in uniform. The prime minister walked down the line, shaking hands with each veteran.

At the Bellevue-Stratford hotel where the lunch was held there was a great crowd to greet him, but at the prime minister's special request the military reception which Philadelphia does so well on such occasions, was omitted. After the luncheon Mr. MacDonald held a short reception arranged by the English-speaking union and the Foreign Policy association and in a charming little speech thanked Philadelphia and its citizens for all they had done for him. Miss Isobel also made a little speech expressing her joy at being back in Philadelphia in happier circumstances than last time.

Admires Sky Line.
The prime minister's train arrived at Jersey City a few minutes before 10 and on the ferry crossing he stood on the upper deck of the ferry boat and

Ishbel Sees Musical Play After Private Dinner Party

New York, Oct. 10.—[Special.]—Broadway had its second glimpse of Isobel MacDonald tonight and Isobel gained her wish to visit a New York theater.

As the guest of Police Commissioner and Mrs. Grover Whalen, the daughter of Britain's premier was hurried from a private dinner party given in her honor by Sir Harry Glosier Armstrong, British consul general, and Lady Armstrong, to the Hammerstein theater, to attend the musical comedy, "Sweet Arelaine."

The party was small, slightly more than a dozen in number, comprising the group that met informally around the consul general's table. Miss MacDonald and her friends entered the theater without arousing more interest than the usual patron, but it soon became noised about that she was present in a box, and there was much craning of heads and murmurs of interest as she was recognized.

Arrives in Afternoon.
The quiet, self-possessed young woman who dominates the official social life of the British empire when she presides as hostess at 10 Downing street, came back to New York in the afternoon with her father for a final three days as a private citizen visiting this country.

Miss MacDonald will attend as many luncheons and dinners as possible by the side of her father, leaving the balance of her time free to visit the children's court, several settlements and social service organizations with her old friend, Miss Lillian Wald.

Busy Day Ahead.
Tomorrow, Miss Isobel will have a busy day. At 9 o'clock she will meet the newspaper women at her hotel, going from there to the Children's court. She joins her father at the Hotel Astor for a luncheon and will stand with him at a reception and given by the Foreign Policy association.

A private dinner party with Mrs. Irene Lewisohn of 133 West 11th street as hostess, and a dance at the Henry Street settlement complete her day.

Senate Closes Bargainer.
The fly in the ointment is the United States senate, and after Mr. Hoover's exceedingly frank talk with him he realizes that every proposal will have to stand the closest examination, and that in the senate he will find a closer bargainer perhaps than he found in the White House, and one that will demand real value in return for any concessions.

Naval Views Please Him.
He is particularly pleased that the freedom of the seas has thus entered the domain of practical politics. If parity is achieved, the freedom of the seas must become of great importance to Great Britain, dependent as she is for her food on free sea highways. When her navy was paramount and she could close these highways her doctrine was that of blockade. Today she thinks differently.

The matter of Britain's naval bases

CIVILIAN TO LEAD JAPANESE DELEGATES TO NAVAL PARLEY

[Copyright, 1929, By the New York Times.]
TOKIO, Oct. 10.—The cabinet today asked former Premier Wakatsuki, who headed the government in 1926, to lead the Japanese delegation to the forthcoming five power naval conference. Wakatsuki reserved his reply but it is expected he will accept.

Admiral Takarabe and Tenuo Matsudaira, ambassador to London, will be the other delegates. Their staff will comprise Vice Admiral Sakonji, Capt. Yamamoto, Capt. Toyoda, who until recently was naval attaché at London, and Commander Iwamura.

Political Factors Enter.
The selection of a civilian to head the delegation is intended to emphasize Japan's agreement with President Hoover's proposition that political considerations, as well as naval factors, must enter into the solution. The government is taking the greatest pains to sound influential opinion, in order to obtain support for its policy.

The British proposal for abolition of the submarine is not likely to succeed, it is held here. Japanese officials are considering their policy regarding limitation and are at present disposed to favor restriction to 70,000 tons all around, which would be equivalent to maintaining status quo as far as Britain, the United States and Japan are concerned.

London Voices Disappointment.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
LONDON, Oct. 10.—Disappointment was registered here today at the joint MacDonald-Hoover naval statement, which, the British assert, was obviously written almost wholly by Prime Minister MacDonald himself. The statement, it is said, adds nothing to what is already known, and the only thing definitely laid down is that Anglo-American relations are better than before.

With these veiled hints of disappointment, however, two factors must be borne in mind. First is the evident desire to persuade continental nations that no general Anglo-American working agreement has been arranged, and that the visit did not fix any solid front for Great Britain and

SPAIN PLANS TUNNEL TO LINK EUROPE TO AFRICA AT GIBRALTAR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
GIBRALTAR, Oct. 10.—The Spanish government has appointed an official board of investigation to study the possibilities for the construction of a submarine tunnel under the straits of Gibraltar, and Col. Pedro Jovenais has been appointed to take charge of the preliminary investigations.
Col. Jovenais said that his present plans include taking soundings at a depth of 2,600 feet, work upon which has already started nearly 5 miles west of Tarifa.
The preliminary work is expected to last nearly two years, after which the government will definitely decide whether the scheme will be proceeded with.

the United States when they meet here. The second fact is that Mr. MacDonald's political adversaries here, both within and without his party, would not be unhappy at finding that he had accomplished nothing in America.

The British correspondents accompanying Mr. MacDonald also cabled today that there is a distinct chilling of the enthusiasm with which Mr. MacDonald was first greeted. One correspondent states the doctory Republicans are wondering if President Hoover did not capitulate too much to Mr. MacDonald.

France Slightly Suspicious.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
PARIS, Oct. 10.—The Hoover-MacDonald statement has left French political opinion rather cold, though most of the newspapers comment favorably on it. The suspicion that the two leaders have reached a much more concrete agreement than the statement revealed continues to lurk here, and even the general tone of the Washington communiqué fails to allay it.

There is considerable talk in political circles today about a Franco-Japanese-Italian entente being created to form a strong bloc against Great Britain and the United States in the forthcoming naval conference. Certain suggestions concerning this are said to have come today from a Japanese source.

Mussolini Examines Bid.

ROME, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini held a meeting with two of his ministers today to make an examination of the naval disarmament invitation received from the British government on Tuesday. The two ministers were Dino Grandi, minister of foreign affairs, and Giuseppe Sirianni, minister of marine.

WAVOC WROUGHT BY HIGH LAKE; LIVES PERILED

Waves Sweep Boats from Harbor Moorings.

(Picture on back page.) The high waters of Lake Michigan were whipped up by an east wind yesterday to a destructive rampage that left its marks along 50 miles of water front from Waukegan to South Chicago. Fishermen were imperiled, small craft battered, lake shore highways flooded, and two apartment buildings on the shore were shaken by the battering waves.

From 10 p. m. on Wednesday when the east wind first arose until it attained its maximum intensity of 45 m.p.h. last evening, the lake level swelled 18 inches in the Waukegan harbor, according to observations of Harbor Master Adam Delioff. Corresponding rises were noted by coast guard captains at the Evanston, Central, Jackson Park, and South Chicago stations.

Coast Guard Battles Waves.

The wind was expected to subside within twelve hours, according to the early forecast of the weather bureau. Meanwhile, the coast guardmen and park commissioners were striving to repair damage and protect the battered shore against another possible onslaught of the wind driven waves.

Four Waukegan fishermen, members of the crew of the 45 foot fishing tug Sam, were rescued after a 12 hour fight against the waves. Their disabled craft, the same which weathered the recent lake storm of a decade last spring, was in danger of inundation when a coast guard crew from Kenosha found the exhausted fishermen two miles off Zion. The Sam was towed to Kenosha by the coast guard power boat. The Uncle Sam's master, John A. Olin, and his men, Charles Tilly, Anthony Barish, and John Cocanusi, were treated for exposure and were able to go home by train last night.

Lighthouse Saved from Death.

J. C. Jacobson, keeper of the Waukegan lighthouse, came near drowning late in the afternoon when his craft was whirled about by the waves along the south government pier. The pier, when an extension is completed, will connect the lighthouse with the mainland. Jacobson, clinging to concrete forms over which the waves were dashing until he was rescued by Milton Larson, a Waukegan boatman, who pulled him to firm footing.

The 15 foot waves, dashing against the pier, inflicted thousands of dollars of damage to freshly poured concrete and to concrete frames. It was estimated by officials of the Chicago Construction company, contractors for the pier. One huge wave struck and washed away a small warehouse where lighthouse supplies were stored.

Boats Swept from Harbor.

At Lake Forest and Highland Park the shore line was eaten away, while at Wilmette the mountainous waves swept over the breakwater and washed havoc among the 200 small craft moored in the harbor. Despite the precaution of Capt. Otto Fricke, who had three men at the harbor on duty last night, twenty-two small and power boats were torn from their moorings, swept out the harbor mouth, and dashed against the breakwater.

All but one of the boats were retrieved and towed to security by the coast guard power boat. A 20 foot sloop, owned by the Wilmette Sea Scouts, was still open as it keeled against the breakwater and sank.

Guests of the Admiral hotel at the foot of Foster avenue, in Edgewater, complained that the waves were shaking the building. The same complaint came from tenants of the Aquitania apartment hotel at the foot of Argyle street. Building inspectors examined both properties and reported there was no danger.

Breakwater Stands.

Fears for destruction of the new $1,000,000 Evanston breakwater proved groundless, the walls withstanding the battering without being weakened or damaged. Along the Lincoln park shore, however, and from 18th street to 11th street the sand fills for the unprotected outer drives were being washed away. Superintendent George T. Pennington of the south park board recommended that the highway engineers dump 25,000 tons of stone along the water front to preserve the fill.

HIGH LAKE LEVEL DISRUPTS AIR TRANSPORT LINE

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 10.—[Special.]—Lake Michigan's high level, coupled with a stiff wind from the southeast, disrupted service on the Kohler Trans-Lake line today.

Three passengers and a crew of two men flying here from Grand Haven, Mich., in an amphibian plane were taken off the craft by coast guards in a boat when it was found impossible to reach the port. Waves twelve feet high at times were breaking over the ramp, which is negotiated by the amphibians with difficulty even in calm weather.

The first plane, due here at 8 a. m., was blown far off its course before reaching the harbor. With its engine disabled by the high waves it was towed to Jones Island by the coast guard launch.

An attempt was made by the Kohler company to resume its schedule by supplying the pilots to land at the nearby airport.

Swift Lake Forest Estate Has Its Third Fire

An overheated boiler in the private mansion of Louis F. Swift, packer, at 1710 South Green Bay road, Lake Forest, last night started the third fire which has broken out on the Swift estate in the last 18 days. The damage in the garage amounted to only several hundred dollars. Automobiles were moved. The two previous fires, for which four men were indicted on charges, destroyed barns and were valued at $24,000.

FRENCH MEDIC DISPLAYS A NEW UPLIFT OPERATION

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, Oct. 10.—In America it's facial surgery; in France it's different. Speaking before a surgical congress here last night, Prof. Dartigues, prominent French surgeon, declared:

"It is a crime for a woman to go through life with ugly, overfull, too flat breasts, when a stroke of the knife would do the trick. A surgeon can make a woman a goddess with no pain or difficulty."

To prove his point a dance hall beauty mounted the platform, disrobed to the waist, and disclosed her Venus-like proportions.

"I did that," said Prof. Dartigues, while a hundred dignified medicals looked grave and said, "Very interesting."

HUNT FIRE BUG IN HOTEL; THREE BLAZES IN DAY

The Hyde Park police were early today conducting a search in the Senate hotel, 1447 East 58th street, for an alleged fire bug believed responsible for three fires last night, one on Monday night and several others in the last few weeks.

According to the hotel manager, John Alpine, all the fires have been started by lighting newspapers in the hallways. In one instance, lighted papers were thrown into an apartment and the resulting blaze did considerable damage. The other blazes have been discovered and quickly extinguished.

PARIS STYLE EXPERTS WAR ON "BRUTAL" U. S. CUSTOMS MEN

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, Oct. 10.—Fashion creators and jewelers on the Rue de la Paix are up in arms over the approaching arrival of United States customs officials and the methods they intend to use in assessing the true value of jewels, robes, furs, perfumes, and other articles, which Americans take back with them after a Parisian visit.

The point of disagreement seems to be over the wholesale price of such goods. The American law provides assessment on the basis of a wholesale price.

The French claim there is no possible wholesale price, because no wholesaling is done on such goods.

"The Paris fashion houses usually design and make only one model of their creation," said a couturier.

"The client chooses what she wants from the model and then the gown is made to order. You cannot possibly affix a wholesale price because there is no way of telling how many gowns of a given model will be made until after the season is over."

He admitted that France itself requested the return of American customs men, withdrawn last year, but expressed the hope that they would be a little less "brutal" than the former ones, whose swaggering ways provoked indignation.

Taking this action as an indication that track elevation is not a dead issue in Chicago, Ald. Horan announced that he would begin conferences soon with all the railroads with the object of starting a program of general track elevation.

C. & N. W. AGREES TO ELEVATE 2 1/2 MILES OF TRACK

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Ald. A. J. Horan (29th), chairman of the council track elevation committee, was notified yesterday that the Chicago and North Western Railroad company has accepted an ordinance providing for the elevation of two and one-half miles of its tracks on the Wisconsin division from Foster avenue to the city limits. The cost of the elevation, estimated at $4,000,000, will be borne entirely by the railroad company, which is permitted to operate a third track along the right of way.

Subways will be constructed at important street intersections, eliminating two of the worst death traps in the city, the crossings at Nagel and Harlem avenues. In the last two years 20 persons have been killed at these two grade crossings. The elevation proceeds through Norwood Park and Edison Park, where the tracks are almost in the center of the business district.

Taking this action as an indication that track elevation is not a dead issue in Chicago, Ald. Horan announced that he would begin conferences soon with all the railroads with the object of starting a program of general track elevation.

Rogers recovered just as the men neared the car and fired. One bandit staggered and the others pulled him into the machine and sped away.

HALT HANGING OF HAUKE BY INSANITY PLEA

Lawyers Act as Governor Refuses Clemency.

CRIMINAL COURT.
Harvey Gardner, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary; Frank Gardner, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the reformatory by Judge John J. Sullivan.
Henry Mass, burglary, sentenced to 1 year to life in the Penitentiary reformatory by Judge D. J. Normale.

William Henry Hauke, Canadian war veteran, again escaped the gallows last night when a last minute insanity petition presented to Judge Stanley Klarkowski was issued in accordance with the statutes. He was to have been hanged at 1 o'clock this morning in the jail garage, where a temporary scaffold was erected.

Gov. Emmerson earlier in the day had announced that he would back up his pardon and parole board by concurring in its decision that Hauke was not entitled to clemency. The governor had made known his attitude to Rodney Brandon, state director of public welfare. The latter had communicated with the governor, who spent yesterday in Chicago, to inform him of the decision of the new pardon board.

Present Insanity Petition.

As soon as the decision of Gov. Emmerson was announced Attorneys Emmet Byrne and Stanley L. Doyle, representing the American Legionnaires interested in the Hauke case, presented the insanity petition to Judge Klarkowski.

The judge said he had no alternative but to grant the petition inasmuch as it was in proper form. The attorneys allege that Hauke has become insane since sentence was imposed and that he is now regaining the war in his county jail cell.

Hauke, however, gave no indication that he still thought himself engaged in the war when interviewed by reporters. He politely told them he had no statement to make, that he was hoping for the best and depending on his attorneys. The insanity hearing will be held probably some time next week.

Crime Committed in 1925.

Hauke was convicted of the murder of Mrs. Isabelle Sheekley, 59 years old, 1405 West Sixty-seventh street. The crime occurred on May 28, 1925, but Hauke was not arrested until three years later. He is to be hanged because the murder occurred before the electrocution law was enacted. He has received four other stays of execution.

Robert L. Conn, a clerk of the Supreme court, was rushed to Chicago last night from Springfield to save three colored men who were scheduled to be executed at midnight. The court granted a writ of supersedeas to the men, Lafon Fisher, Leonard Shadow and Leon Brown, but somehow it became lost. Conn was sent with duplicates.

JIM GENNA GETS POLICE WARNING; GOES ON HIS WAY

Jim Genna and Claude Maddox wiped their feet on the "welcome" mat as they left the detective bureau last night. Not that they were at all angry, for they weren't. These gunmen had returned to Chicago after long absences to resume their respective businesses of making alcohol and peddling beer.

In the routine of police business, however, they had been sent to police headquarters as prisoners. The name of Genna is more familiar to every Chicago policeman than is the name of his commissioner, and seeing Jim Genna again after five years meant an arrest yesterday to Detectives Filletti and Balzano. Maddox had been arrested Wednesday night in Oak Park on suspicion and his identity became known positively when sent to the bureau of identification.

Back to Enter Business.
"Everybody connected with you has been killed," Deputy Commissioner Stege said to Genna. "Did you come back to be killed, too?"
"No, I come back to sell olive oil and cheese," said the survivor of the Genna brothers who were involved in at least a score of murders in Chicago.

"Well, if we can't deport you," Stege surmised, "we'll at least arrest you whenever the crack of a pistol is heard."

Genna had spent two years in prison in Italy after leaving here five years ago, but according to his passport he still isn't deportable. His lawyer was on hand an hour or two after his arrest and did not ask a writ of habeas corpus because he was told Genna would be released in the evening after all squad members had a chance to see him for future identification purposes.

"What do you know about the St. Valentine day massacre?" Assistant State's Attorney Harry Ditchburne asked Maddox. When the seven Moran gangsters were killed last winter police established the fact that the murder plot originated at the Circus cafe, where Maddox had been arrested a few days previous with part of a machine gun in his possession.

Got Beer Concessions.
Maddox was found to be part owner of the Circus cafe and to have obtained the beer concessions in the Cragin police district because he was a lieutenant of Alphonse Capone, and

54 ARE ARRESTED IN RAID ON ALLEGED CAPONE GAMING JOINT

Fifty-four men, most of them Italians and said by the state's attorney's office to be members of the Al Capone gang, were arrested late yesterday afternoon in a raid on an alleged gambling house in the rear of 2130 1/2 South Michigan avenue. The raid was made by the entire detective force of the state's attorney's office.

When the detectives, led by Sgt. Martin O'Boyle, tried to enter the place they found themselves barred by heavy locked doors. They smashed down the doors and allege they found gambling tables, race horse sheets, and roulette wheels. Charles Prieschett is the ostensible owner of the place, according to Pat Roche, chief investigator.

Among the prisoners was "Mope" Volpe, one time lieutenant of the late Diamond Joe Esposito, west side leader who was slain several years ago. All the prisoners were sent to the bureau of identification and to the police showups.

that he sought to invade the territory of Bugs Moran and sell beer. Maddox, alias Johnny Moore, was a former member of the Egan's Raid of East St. Louis and was supposed to have brought some of them here to kill the Moran gangsters. For eight months he was a fugitive.

But whatever Maddox told Ditchburne the prosecutor and the police were satisfied to release him. No writ was necessary for him, either, although one was asked.

"Remember, you'll be dead a long time," Stege said to Genna and Maddox after the farewells were spoken.

ALMA RUBENS WINS HER FIGHT WITH NARCOTICS

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Alma Rubens will be released from Patton Insane asylum near here within ten days, according to word received by her family and medical advisers. The movie actress was committed to Patton May 16 from the psychopathic ward of Los Angeles county hospital on orders providing for her treatment to conquer the narcotics habit. Miss Rubens is to be released as cured.

Miss Rubens was a movie headliner for ten years until her incarceration. According to persons in touch with her and with officials at Patton, plans are under way for Miss Rubens' reinstatement in a motion picture career.

Show Up for Collection.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 10.—(AP)—With the recovery of bonds valued at $14,000 from a recalled and supposedly destroyed $1,000,000 bond issue of the Interstate Utilities company, a Washington and Idaho corporation, and the arrest at Eugene, Ore., of Howard Polly, former chief engineer of the American Bank building here, members of the district attorney's office tonight believed they had uncovered a scheme to defraud the utilities company.

The bonds were said by Deputy District Attorney George Mowry to have been part of an issue which was tossed into a furnace in the American Bank building on June 24, 1925. Mowry explained that $750,000 worth of the bonds had been underwritten by a trust company.

His Bail Is Set at $12,000.

Polly, brought here from Eugene tonight, is charged with "having a false instrument of debt in his possession with intent to utter it as true." Bail was set at $12,000.

Mowry said about twenty-four of the bonds of $1,000 and $500 denominations were removed from the furnace. He declared an unidentified person helped to dispose of the bonds and that a nation-wide search is being made for this person.

Returned for Collection.

Mowry revealed that shortly after an investigation was started a week ago when one of the bonds was returned here from Des Moines, Ia. This was followed by twenty-one which were received by the United States National bank from San Francisco for "collection."

Officials of both the trust and utilities companies were present when the redeemed and unsold bonds of the issue were tossed into the furnace. Mowry said the officials left when the furnace door was closed.

The suggestion was advanced that the bonds were raked out soon after the officials left. They were said to have been in thick packages and it was presumed that only the outer layers had burned, leaving some "untouched by the flames."

STONE CRUSHER KILLS WORKER.
Clyde Crossan, 28 years old, 10629 Avenue F, was killed yesterday when his left leg became caught in a stone crusher on which he was working in the plant of the Valley mould and iron corporation, East 108th street and the Calumet river.

PANTAGES' AID IS UNDER FIRE AT GIRL TRIAL

Press Agent's Memory Proves Hazy.

BY GEORGE SHAFER.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 10.—[Special.]—William Jobelmann, former press agent for Alexander Pantages and a state witness, today gave his third account since last Aug. 9, covering what he said happened between his employer and 17 year old Eunice Pringle in a mysterious little room in Pantages' downtown office suite on that afternoon. He told his story to jurors who will find Pantages guilty or not guilty on Miss Pringle's charges that Pantages wronged her.

Previously Jobelmann had been reported as telling conflicting stories, first to police on Aug. 9, shortly after Miss Pringle caused Pantages' arrest, when he said the girl made threats against Pantages. A few days after that Jobelmann told his second story to questioners from the district attorney's office when he said the first account was wrong, and had been told on Pantages' insistence.

Memory Falls Him.

Today Jobelmann developed such a wiggling memory that he involved District Attorney Byron Fitts and a trio of defense lawyers in continual vehement wrangling until finally Judge Charles Fricke silenced all the attorneys and put the question to Jobelmann himself.

Apparently Jobelmann did his best to recollect for Prosecutor Fitts, whether he had or had not told that official that he repudiated his original account, and had told Fitts that "Mr. Pantages coached him to say that." But such was his faltering memory that all Jobelmann could recall exactly was that "Mr. Pantages told me his side of what had happened" between the theater magnate and the girl who burst out of Pantages' mysterious little side room, sobbing.

"He told me," Jobelmann testified, "that it was a frameup."

Tells of Hearing Screams.

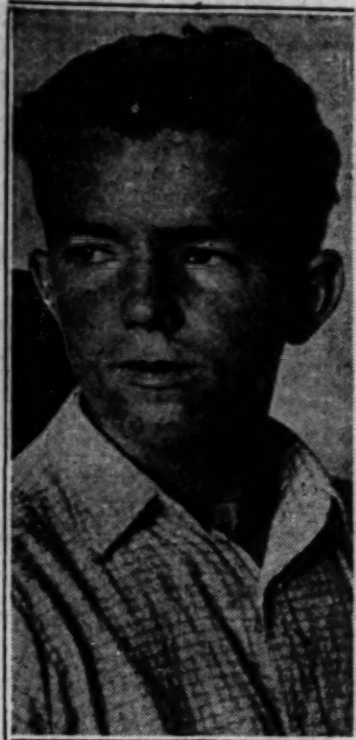

Jobelmann testified he heard screams and came out of the Pantages theater main offices. Through the doorway in the little room he saw Pantages and the girl struggling, he said. Jobelmann testified he went upstairs and closed doors leading into the Pantages theater so that the screams would not be heard.

The earlier prosecution testimony of Louis Fischer, newspaper copy boy, that Fischer was standing on the landing where it was possible to see and hear Miss Pringle, was corroborated by Jobelmann. There was another group on the Pantages building stairway near the landing, Jobelmann testified, and in this and a few other details he corroborated W. C. Hale, an actor.

Lawyers in Squabble.

Hale's testimony was continued from yesterday. A squabble between counsel developed from one defense cross question put to Hale. Attorney W. L. Gilbert asked him: "Were you not on the Equity pay roll when the Equity Actors union was fighting with the theater owners on this date?" [Aug. 9].

Then ensued an extended altercation between counsel.

Joseph Ford, a defense lawyer, demanded the district attorney be disciplined by the court. The astonished witness sat forgotten while six defense lawyers, two prosecutors, bailiffs, and judge all talked at once. Judge Fricke finally ended the bickering with the statement that he would "cite all loud and raucous remarks or charges exchanged between counsel, as misconduct hereafter."

FRANCE TO BUILD GIANT DOCKS FOR LINERS FROM U. S.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
PARIS, Oct. 10.—Paris will be brought closer to New York in the near future. Raoul Dautry, director general of state railways, speaking before the American club today divulged that work will be started immediately to improve the landing facilities at Havre and particularly at Cherbourg.

The latter port, where passengers now have to disembark in tenders, will build a giant new landing dock to enable the largest liners to enter. There will be new express trains, which will cut the present time of 6 hours down to 4 hours and 15 minutes from the dock to Paris. The train time between Havre will also be cut down to 2 hours and 30 minutes, he said, with the use of new super locomotives.

The new train service will be put in effect next spring, while the new docks at Cherbourg will be completed in 1931.

INDICT DEPUTY WHO SLEW BOY; CHARGE MURDER

Ashland, Ala., Oct. 10.—[Special.]—Cecil Guthrie, Clay county deputy sheriff, was indicted here today by the county grand jury on a charge of murder in the first degree in connection with the slaying of Clarence Bailey, 18 year old star high school youth athlete. Bailey was killed Sept. 8 when he fled from Guthrie and W. Z. Alexander, chief of police, who were attempting to arrest him on a liquor charge. Guthrie testified in preliminary hearing that he fired three shots to frighten Bailey, who had a jug, later found to contain liquor. The third shot struck the boy in the back of the head. Guthrie claims he stumbled and fell as the shot was fired.

Affidavit Accuses Deputy.
Galena, Mo., Oct. 10.—[Special.]—Fred Nelson, Stone county deputy sheriff, who yesterday killed Purcell Allen, 35, ex-convict, as he tried to elude arrest on a liquor charge, was charged with first degree murder today in an affidavit sworn to by Mrs. Ethel Beham, sister of the slain man. A coroner's jury had refused to order Nelson held.

HEAD OF DOCK CONCERN SEIZED IN LIQUOR CASE

Arrested with Officials in East Chicago.

E. F. Trombley, resident manager of the East Chicago Dock Terminal company, was arrested in his office yesterday by United States Deputy Marshal Harold E. Miner on a charge of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law.

Mr. Trombley, who is a leading citizen of East Chicago, is charged with having joined with Mayor Raleigh P. Hale, Chief of Police James Regan and many others in bringing in shipments of liquor for consumption in northern Indiana homes and speakeries. The government charges that Mr. Trombley permitted rum running ships from Canada to enter the harbor controlled by his company.

Many Others Arrested.
Marshal Miner was busy yesterday arresting and rearresting others who were indicted by the federal grand jury in South Bend at the climax of an investigation directed by United States Attorney Oliver Loomis. The prohibition crimes and vote frauds in Lake county.

Mayor Hale and Chief Regan were arrested and forced to post new bonds of $10,000 each. Attorney Lester O. Lehmer, a prominent Republican politician, was rearrested and gave new bonds of $10,000. Other citizens and officials of East Chicago placed under arrest by the deputy marshal.

Edward Higgins, president of the board of safety.

Charles Pitts, retired business man, father of Street Commissioner Abe Pitts.

Frank Bonaventura, a constable and Italian leader, whose brother, Leo, is chief deputy sheriff of Lake county.

Peter Sopka, a city detective.

Ralph Hart, police chauffeur.

Nicholas Makar, deputy sheriff and former police captain.

John Dressner, James Gaynor, colored, Joe Kowalski, Julius Kozach, and Enrique Oria, bootleggers, also were arrested.

All are named in the same conspiracy indictment, which has become known as the "Hale conspiracy" case.

Phil Colletter, who police said was "payoff man" for the East Chicago ring, was arrested at Burnham by Deputy United States Marshals Joe Regan, Roy Holcomb and Thomas Smith. He was locked up at the detective bureau last night, and will be arraigned before a United States commissioner today.

Serve Other Warrants.
Arrests were also made by Mr. Miner on an indictment charging conspiracy to obstruct federal officers, those taken on this charge being Attorney Ottenheimer, Hyman Cohen, a member of the East Chicago board of works and former city Republican chairman, and John Antonion, a hotel keeper.

The marshal made three arrests on indictments charging violation of the prohibition law. Those held are Elijah

300 RUSSIANS ENROLL AT NEW UNIVERSITY TO SPREAD ATHEISM

LENINGRAD, Russia, Oct. 10.—(AP)—

The first anti-religious university in the world was opened here today with elaborate ceremonies in the huge building of the House of Culture. Named after Stepanoff Skvortsoff, pioneer atheist in Russia, the anniversary of whose death was today, the new university began its sessions with 300 students, 47 of whom were women.

The institution, its founders say, is intended to prepare a large body of anti-religionists and active propagandists of militant atheism. In opening the university Prof. Yan Bogoras of the Russian Academy of Science declared that at the present time, "when the church is attempting to regain its lost power in Russia," a relentless struggle based upon strict science must be carried on against religion.

Moscow Follows Lead.
MOSCOW, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Following the action of Leningrad in creating an anti-religious university, the Society of Militant Atheists today opened a similar institute in Moscow. The students, who number more than 400, will have as their instructors Mme. Lenin, Commissar of Health Semashko, and a number of other prominent soviet leaders.

Rogula, George Stykrovich and Steve Ujjesenovich, Ujjesenovich is known as the new baron of East Chicago, having superseded Nicholas Sudovitch, now in the Crown Point jail awaiting trial for murder.

Nineteen members of the Gary police department, under indictment for conspiracy to violate the prohibition law, last night were called before the Gary board of safety, headed by Ralph Snyder, Gary publisher, and were notified they must resign or stand immediate trial for dismissal.

All nineteen, by agreement, consented to a "voluntary" suspension, under which they will withdraw from the Gary police force pending their trial. If they are found guilty, they will stand as discharged. An acquittal will restore them to active duty, with full pay for all the time they were suspended.

The board began the reorganization of the police department by appointing Detective Sergeant William Linn, former police chief, as temporary captain of detectives, and Sgt. C. H. McCarty as temporary captain in charge of the uniform division.

Doris Stevens Cuts Nuptial
Ties with Malone in Paris

PARIS, Oct. 10.—Doris Stevens, American feminist leader, today obtained a divorce decree from Dudley Field Malone, well known New York lawyer, whom she charged with abandonment. They were married on Dec. 5, 1921, at Peekskill, N. Y. Miss Stevens alleged that Mr. Malone left her soon after they were married, failed to provide for her, and refused to resume marital relations.

CULT PRIESTESS ADMITS 'BAKING' WOMAN IN OVEN

Treatment Prescribed for Paralytic, She Says.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Mrs. Jennie Blackburn, mother of Mrs. May Otis Blackburn, high priestess of "the Divine Order of the Royal Arm of the Great Eleventh," admitted to detectives tonight that Mrs. Frances Turner, a paralytic, had been subjected to "the baking cure" in a stone oven at the cult's colony in the Santa Susana mountains and later had died.

Mrs. Blackburn refused to say whether or not the woman had died in the oven. The cure was advised by angels, she said, who had talked with her daughter.

Check on Discrepancies.
Mrs. Turner was buried in Ventura, Cal., early in 1928, and alleged discrepancies in her death certificate are being checked.

The second major development in the investigation of the cult came with the discovery in Ventura of the grave of Mrs. Harlene Satoris, 30, former Portland, Ore., woman. Mrs. Satoris' death certificate was signed by Dr. F. A. Yeakum of Moor Park, Cal., on May 4, 1928. Dr. Yeakum said he had attended the woman during her last illness, but had not been present when she died at the cult's colony.

Relatives of Mrs. Blackburn, who is under arrest on grand theft charges, have requested Los Angeles authorities to search for Mr. and Mrs. Walter Blackburn, mother and stepfather of the priestess. They disappeared from Portland, Ore., after the father sold his business there for $30,000 and joined the cult.

Other Missing Persons.
Other missing persons are Mrs.

Katherine Bole, Mrs. Floyd Miller, and Mrs. Addie McGuffin.

In the San Bernardino mountains, W. P. Rhoads, foster father of 19 year old Willa Rhoads, who died while a member of the cult, is leading a search for a box he buried on his wife's instructions without knowing what it contained.

Willa Rhoads died four years ago and after two years in which weird rites were practiced over her body in hope of a resurrection, she was buried beneath the floor of the Rhoads home in Venice, Cal. The body has been recovered and vital organs are being analyzed to determine the cause of death.

Authorities are hunting for "The Sixth Seal," a book believed to hold the key to the cult's objectives and the meaning of its rites.

ROB GROCER, FIRE INTO FLOOR.
Two robbers walked into the grocery store of Joseph Grom at 1818 18th place last night and, after forcing him to lie on the floor of a living room at the rear, took $25 from a cash drawer. As they left one of them fired two shots into the floor beside Grom.

BERLIN'S MAYOR REFUSES TO CUT SHORT U. S. VISIT

Santa Barbara, Cal., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Dr. Gustav Hoess, lord mayor of Berlin, informed today that the Berlin city council had ordered him to return to Germany at once because of a graft scandal there, said he would decline to alter his itinerary.

Dr. Hoess said he had received no official notification from Berlin of the action of the city council. He was shown news dispatches reporting the council to have passed a resolution ordering him to return in connection with the Berlin contract graft scandal in which he was alleged to be involved. Previously he had cabled from San Francisco to the Berlin council that he did not deem it advisable to cut short his visit to the United States.

"No matter what has developed in Berlin, I am involved in no scandal whatever," he said.

3 OFFICIALS AND MURDERER HURT AS AUTO UPSETS

Chains Hold Prisoner to Injured Sheriff.

Sheriff Berney Shaw Maxwell of Porter county, Ind., probably was injured fatally and Chief of Police Robert Felton of Valparaiso, and Prosecuting Attorney W. W. Bosarth were injured seriously yesterday when the automobile in which they were taking a convicted murderer to the penitentiary overturned near Hanna, Ind. Jose Gallardo, the murderer was hurt slightly but was unable to escape because he was handcuffed to Sheriff Maxwell.

Gallardo was convicted last week of the murder of Joseph Fernandez, on May 26, 1929. He was held in the Valparaiso jail until yesterday.

The car was driven by Chief Felton. As he rounded a curve, near Hanna, the machine overturned and pinned the occupants beneath it.

Club Leader Is Injured.

Mrs. George E. Dickson, 56 years old, 1635 Ridge avenue, Evanston, a leader in the activities of the Evanston Woman's club, was found lying unconscious in the middle of Church street, west of Ridge avenue, last night, apparently the victim of a hit-and-run automobile driver.

At the Evanston hospital, where she was taken by passing motorists, she was found to be suffering from concussion of the brain and a fracture of the right shoulder blade.

An 8 year old schoolboy was injured fatally and three boy companions were injured seriously yesterday when they were crushed by an automobile which was swung on to the sidewalk at 64th street and Normal boulevard after colliding with a truck. All four were pinned against a light pole.

The dead boy was John Vretton, 609 West 62d street, and the injured are his brother Robert, 10 years old; Edward McMahon, 8, and his brother Bernard, 8. The four boys were walking to St. Bernard's school.

The driver of the sedan was Harry Burns, an automobile salesman, 6127 Cornell avenue. The truck was driven by John Hailey, 4206 Berkeley avenue. Both were held by the police.

Year's Toll Is 766.

This death and one other in Cook county raised the 1929 motor toll to 766. The victims:

Albert Seefurth, 33 years old, 1644 West Adams street, died in the county hospital of injuries received when he was struck Saturday by an automobile at Jackson boulevard and Campbell avenue.

Mrs. Emma Koehler, 74 years old, 1412 North Karlov avenue, was probably injured fatally when she was run down by a truck at North and Karlov avenues. The driver, Herbert Eich, 1402 North Hamlin avenue, was held. Morris Ravenage, 28 years old, of Gary, Ind., and his companion, William H. Rath of Chesterton, Ind., were killed instantly when their automobile was struck by a Pennsylvania passenger train at a Gary crossing. The men were flung clear of the wreckage.

Traffic accidents have been reduced and arrests increased as a result of the safety drive inaugurated by Commissioner of Police Russell, according to yesterday's report of the police traffic division. Only four accidents, one of which was fatal, occurred during the first three days of the drive, compared with an average of four major accidents a day for the last year.

Early this morning, Lieut. Blaul sent one of his men to the McCormick hotel to search Lamore's room. Another policeman was sent to Porter's apartment to question the colored maid, particularly as to why the couple she housed had no license plates.

Woman Explains 'Fib'

Under questioning Mrs. Knowles, at first insisted Mrs. Perky had been a guest at her own apartment, 1118 Hyde Park boulevard. Later when she explained the real circumstances of her meeting Mrs. Perky she explained the first misstatement as "a fib to keep Mr. Porter's name out of this."

She had known Porter more than ten years, Mrs. Knowles said. Porter was an army captain at the Rock Island arsenal and her husband was a noncommissioned officer there in war time, she explained. Later, both couples returned to Chicago and both obtained divorces. She had seen Porter often since then, Mrs. Knowles added.

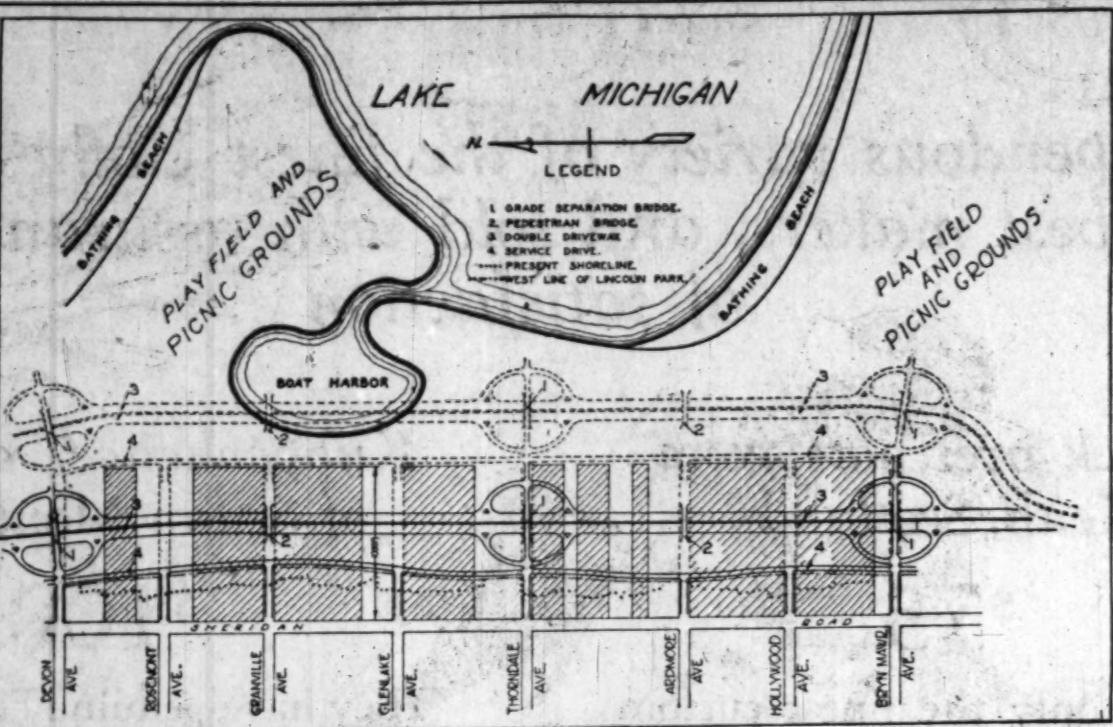

Second Woman Shot

Mrs. Sophie Cohen, 35 years old, 5452 Ingleside avenue, was shot in the left hand last night by a bandit who held her up in the vestibule of her home and robbed her of a pocket-book containing $9. Mrs. Cohen had returned from a neighborhood grocery and had entered the vestibule when the gunman, armed her. As she tried to pull away from him he snatched the purse and in the struggle the revolver was discharged, the bullet passing through her hand.

AUTO KILLS 2, HURTS 3 ON WAY TO A WEDDING

Reading, Pa., Oct. 10.—(AP)—An automobile which crashed into a group walking along a road on the way to a wedding tonight resulted in the death of two women and injury to three of their children. The accident occurred just outside the city.

The dead are Mrs. Viola C. Strouse, 33, wife of Assistant Fire Chief William Strouse; Mrs. Bertha Burket, 34, her sister. The injured are Eugene Strouse, 8, cuts and bruises, probable internal injuries; William Strouse, 11, knocked unconscious, treated at a hospital and sent home; Margaret Burket, 10, probable skull fracture.

The car was driven by Charles Gerth, 31, of Mohnton. Gerth, taken into custody by state police, will be charged with manslaughter.

2 Killed, 10 Are Injured When Bus Strikes an Auto

Reno, Nev., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Two persons probably were killed and ten seriously injured when a Yellowway motor coach bound for Salt Lake City turned over after striking a motor car seven miles east of here tonight. Two unidentified persons were crushed under the overturned bus and two hours after the accident they had not been rescued. It is believed they are dead.

DR. SHUMAKER, INDIANA DRY AGE, BELIEVED DYING

McBride in Indianapolis to Name His Successor.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 10.—[Special.]—Physicians and the family of the Rev. E. S. Shumaker, superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon league, have given up hope for his recovery, it was announced tonight.

"The end is only a matter of hours," E. A. Miles, attorney for the Anti-Saloon league, reported after a late visit to the bedside of the dry leader, who is suffering with a tumor.

A narcotic was administered this afternoon, but apparently had little effect, Miles said. Physicians said Dr. Shumaker's condition had reached a critical stage in the last 48 hours and expected him to go into a coma at any moment.

In Contempt of Court.

As a result of severe criticism of certain members of the Indiana Supreme court for decisions in liquor cases Dr. Shumaker was held in contempt, fined $25, and sentenced to 30 days on the penal farm. He fought the case for two years.

When he first arrived at the prison farm to begin his sentence Ed Jackson, then governor, pardoned him before he had started his term. Later, the court ruled the governor had no power to pardon in a contempt of court offense. Shumaker appealed to the federal court, but lost. Finally, last spring, he began his sentence.

While a prisoner the dry leader went on a diet to reduce his waist line. Some weeks after Shumaker left the prison farm he entered a sanitarium.

Treated at Sanitarium.

Following treatment at the sanitarium it was learned that he was imbibing a tonic with 25 per cent alcohol in it. When asked how he could reconcile his criticism of any one who used alcoholic stimulants with his taking an alcoholic tonic, Shumaker said he did not regard the alcohol as a stimulant.

National Anti-Saloon league leaders, believing Shumaker will not recover, are gathered here to name his successor. There is a possibility of a fight. Indiana Anti-Saloon league leaders have indicated they would prefer the Rev. Charles H. Winders, temporarily in charge of state league of scars here, but Dr. F. Scott McBride, czar of the national league, said he favored some one from outside Indiana.

PREPARE WAY FOR BRIDGE AT RIVER MOUTH

The south park board yesterday awarded to the Gray-Millager Drilling company the contract for making the test borings of the Grant park approach and south half of the proposed link bridge spanning the mouth of the Chicago river. The work will begin immediately. The borings will be made for the East Randolph street viaduct approaches and the bridge abutments, both in land, water, and rock strata about 100 feet down. The contract was awarded for slightly less than $4,000. The caissons for the bridge must reach the rock base.

THREE DOCTORS TO DECIDE FATE OF FALL TRIAL

Chance Bribery Charge
Will Be Dropped.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—[Special.]—Three of the capital's outstanding physicians named by Justice William H. Taft today to make a detailed medical examination of Albert V. Fall will report to the court tomorrow whether the aged former secretary of the interior ever will be able to face trial on a charge he accepted $100,000 bribe from E. L. Doheny, California oil magnate.

Dr. Thomas Clayton, pressed into service when Fall refused to submit to examination by Dr. Sterling Ruffin, informed the justice this morning that an incomplete examination made just before the court convened today convinced him that Fall, apparently suffering from a serious congestion of the right lung, was unable to leave his bed.

Three More Named.

Justice Hitz expressed dissatisfaction with the report and immediately appointed Drs. Frank Leach, W. D. Tewksbury, and John Thomas, the latter a heart specialist, to make another examination "as early as possible" to determine Fall's present condition and what it is likely to be during the next month. On the basis of their report tomorrow morning, Justice Hitz will decide whether to declare a mistrial and discharge the jury which has been locked up in a hotel since Fall collapsed in the courtroom Tuesday afternoon.

Fall's refusal to receive Dr. Ruffin as the one physician in the country he would permit to examine him, recalled an earlier encounter between the two when Dr. Ruffin was a consultant in attendance upon the late President Wilson, and Fall, then a senator, was one of a committee designated to call upon the latter in the White House when his fitness to continue in office was questioned.

Hot Words Passed.

Fall, it was recalled, over the vigorous protests of Dr. Ruffin, strode into the late President's sick room and, to satisfy himself as to Mr. Wilson's condition, pulled the covers from the President. Hot words passed between Fall and Dr. Ruffin, and Fall, it was said today, has never forgotten nor forgiven the rebuke administered by the doctor.

In addition, when Fall pleaded illness as his excuse for failing to appear before the senate investigating committee when the oil scandals first broke, Dr. Ruffin was appointed to examine the former cabinet member. He reported to the committee that Fall was physically able to appear and as a result Fall was compelled to answer the committee's subpoena.

Following the appointment of the three doctors today, both Owen J. Roberts and Atlee Pomerene, special government prosecutors, and Frank J. Hogan, chief of defense counsel, agreed that a mistrial in the present case is inevitable and Roberts added that unless a marked improvement is shown within a reasonable time the government probably will be compelled to abandon its efforts to bring Fall to trial.

MIMIC BATTLE WITH NEW GUNS THRILLS 15,000

Tanks Dash Into Action
at 40 Miles Hour.

Aberdeen, Prov. Ground, Md., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Modern combat weapons, which have rendered obsolete the present day fighting equipment of the American army, were placed on exhibition at the Aberdeen Proving Ground today before 15,000 spectators attending the eleventh annual meeting of the Army Ordnance association.

High administration officials and ranking officers of the army and navy, stood on the side lines as infantrymen and artillery men presented a picture of how wars will be fought in the future with rapidly moving machines on the ground and flashing planes in the air. Exhibitions of the latest model combat tanks, artillery weapons, and motorized equipment featured the demonstration which was witnessed by two cabinet officers—Secretary of Commerce Robert P. Lamont of Chicago, and Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams.

Double Army's Fire Power.
Comparison of the new weapons with the old disclosed that substitution of the new combat machines and weapons for the army's present day equipment would double the fire power of the army, greatly increase the speed with which it could cross the battle field and give increased protection for the American soldier.

A modern army, equipped with weapons already developed and combat machines that can be perfected when funds are made available by congress, would go into battle armed with semi-automatic rifles rather than the present day Springfield. It would make use of combat machines such as the armored car and tank which have from three to four times the speed, durability and protection which was built into the tanks and motorized vehicles used by the allies in the world war.

Protection for Doughboys.
In addition, it would utilize artillery weapons which shoot further, more accurately and more rounds per minute than the old French 75 of world war fame and other weapons of larger calibers. Armor protection for the doughboy. An attack made on a strongly fortified position by an armored force and accompanying infantry proved one of the most popular features of the day's demonstrations.

Combat tanks which flashed up and down the field at 40 miles an hour pouring hot metal into simulated enemy tanks shared honors in this "sham battle" with recently developed ordnance tanks and a motorized artillery unit which went into action with

MAYOR WALKER ASKS A $23,140,525 BOOST IN NEW YORK BUDGET

New York, Oct. 10.—(Special.)—The tentative budget calling for the expenditure of $662,078,223 by the City of New York in 1930 was submitted to the board of estimate this afternoon by Mayor Walker. The mayor wants $23,140,525 more with which to run the municipal government next year than he had this year.

None the less, Controller Charles W. Berry explained that the tax rate, according to present indications, would be no higher than the basic figure of $2.35 per $100 for 1929. The increase in property assessments, Gen. Berry pointed out, is about $1,250,000,000.

The tentative budget contains $5,000,000 to cover an increase in pay for firemen and policemen.

A precision that won the applause of the crowd.

The mimic battle was fought over a rolling terrain covered with scrub growth in the foreground with forest beyond. At the scream of a whistle, the new Christie vehicle, an eleven ton armored car and tank, which has been characterized by the infantry tank board as the best track laying tank chassis ever seen in action in this country, rumbled on to the field.

Picking up speed as rapidly as the average touring car, the combat machine dashed across the uneven ground at from 30 to 40 miles an hour. Two armored cars, equipped with machine guns accompanied the Christie vehicle as it dashed past the target and theoretically destroyed the position of the enemy.

Destroy Machine Gun Nest.
As the advance guard ran into enemy concentrations it turned to the left and flashed its information to the commander of the armed force. A moment later, two eight-inch light army tanks armed with 37 millimeter guns and armored to protect against machine gun fire, rolled forward at 20 miles an hour to the attack. These tanks were followed by a medium and a heavy tank as the latter a world war vehicle which destroys enemy machine gun nests.

Motorized artillery units following the tanks pouring a swift fire into the enemy position. As the artillery barrage lifted, unprotected infantry cars dashed forward carrying automatic rifle men. These were quickly followed by cargo carriers mounted on tank chassis. Infantrymen carrying machine guns rode in the carriers to the firing line. It was explained later that owing to lack of equipment the army officials were unable to complete the demonstrations as it would have been done in modern war.

As visualized by ordnance officials, infantrymen would be rushed to the front line in attacks on strong positions by armored forces in armor protected vehicles. In that way, the use of unprotected shock troops to take strongly entrenched enemy positions, would be avoided.

The aerial demonstrations, while spectacular and popular with the crowd, differed little from those staged last year. The dropping of a huge 4,000 pound bomb was scheduled as the highlight of the day's attractions, but it appeared like an overexcess of caution on the part of army officials, disappointed the huge crowd.

Anti-Aircraft Guns.

The widely heralded attack of three of the new Curtiss bombers, two of them carrying 4,000 pound bombs, went almost unnoticed. One of the bombs was a dud, the other fell four miles away, where it tore a giant hole 14 feet deep and 62 feet wide. But the giant pillar of cloud sent up by the burst could not be seen.

The demonstration of the use of anti-aircraft guns against an attacking aerial enemy proved popular. The batteries were in position close to the bank of the Chesapeake bay; the anti-aircraft guns used in the exhibition consisted of 3.90 caliber and 40 caliber machine guns and a battery of four 75 millimeter rifles.

The targets were sleeves of cloth towed back of two airplanes. The guns were aimed by so-called remote control fire control apparatus, but were loaded and fired by artillery personnel. Seven men worked an instrument which automatically computed firing data and transmitted it electrically to the guns. Eleven men at each of the four guns in the battery manipulated levers which matched pointers keeping the gun on the target.

2 WOMEN ACCUSE IKE NEWMARK OF SWINDLING THEM

The Newmark, 43 years old, brother of Ben Newmark, state's attorney's investigator who was slain a year ago, last night was facing two charges of swindling women who said he had promised to marry them.

Newmark was arrested Wednesday on complaint of Miss Edna Betts, 26 years old, 6240 Ingleside avenue, who charged that she gave him $200 two years ago. Last night Miss Pauline Green, 25 years old, 1422 East 67th place, appeared at the central police station and, after identifying Newmark as her former fiancé, signed a complaint charging him with operating a confidence game. She said she gave him $1,626.55 in September, 1927, after he had promised to marry her and had told her a story of losing heavily on the Dempsey-Tunney fight.

Miss Green said she had been seeking Newmark for two years and had found him at the home of her parents in Chicago. She said she was a widow, a son, and a daughter. Funeral services and burial will be at St. Francis.

The inquest was conducted by Coroner Bunde.

2,000 Parade in Chinese Independence Festival

The eighteenth anniversary of the Chinese republic was celebrated by the Chinese colony with a parade, patriotic addresses by leaders of the race, gala performances in native theaters, and a thanksgiving service according to the rites of Confucianism. Some 2,000 men, women, and children in picturesque Chinese costumes paraded through the narrow streets of the Chinese district, winding up at 23d street and Wentworth avenue, the heart of the district.

Blame Lodge Initiation for Death of Member

A coroner's jury yesterday found that John C. Van Sistine, 25 years old, 1103 North 24th avenue, Melrose Park, died of an injury received accidentally during an initiation of the Washington council of the Knights of Columbus last Sunday afternoon. The inquest was conducted by Coroner Bunde.

TEACHER, 32, TO BE NEW HEAD OF REFORMATORY

Harold Taylor, 32 years old, a school teacher at Mooseheart, was appointed superintendent of the Pontiac state reformatory yesterday by Col. Frank Whipp, superintendent of prisons. In announcing the appointment Col. Whipp said that his duties were too arduous to permit him to continue to give his personal supervision to the reformatory as he has been doing since the resignation of former Supt. Ira Lish.

Taylor has been at the Mooseheart school for two years. He was born in Montreal and educated at Mooseheart and the University of Pittsburgh. Following his graduation from the university he spent several years in eastern educational institutions before returning to Mooseheart. Pontiac is one of the largest reformatories in the country. All of its inmates are under 20 years old.

MEDICAL SOCIETY PROPOSES USE OF ADVERTISING

Hopes to Lift Profession in Public Esteem.

Medical advertising, long banned by ethical physicians, is now to be used as a means of elevating the profession in the public esteem.

The Chicago Medical Society, in its official bulletin issued yesterday, proposed an advertising campaign which is looked upon in the profession as a significant departure from the old time ethical rules. This move is regarded as particularly significant because the society just six months ago in a case which received nation-wide attention, ousted a famous physician, Dr. Louis M. Schmidt, because of his indirect association with the Public Health Institute.

Institute Employs Ads.

The Institute is a philanthropic one treating social diseases, and has at all times engaged in extensive advertising campaigns to tell the dangers of social diseases, and to offer medical services. Dr. Schmidt has appealed his ouster to the judicial council of the American Medical Association, which will consider his appeal at its next meeting.

"Publicity of various sorts received by the Chicago Medical Society during the last few months has put the society in the limelight," the bulletin states in explaining one of the motives for suggesting the advertising campaign. "The public and the profession are wondering what we will do next."

Hopes to Strengthen Position.
"Now is the psychological time for our members to determine to lead a constructive up-to-date campaign of education of the profession, of the public and especially of the philanthropists, in full with the scientific problems before us. It will strengthen our position so that we will have more influence in their solution and return the profession to its former enviable position."

"Visualize, if you can, the Oath of Hippocrates in a full page ad in the Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning papers one week. A brief history of organized medicine in general and of the Chicago Medical Society in particular, a couple of weeks later. Then print the ethics of the American Medical Association so that the public will have the opportunity to read that classic document and learn the truth about it."

"Later run an ad enumerating the services given free by the medical profession in Cook county. The fee table of the Chicago Medical Society should be given in full with the qualifying statement that the members are ready and willing to care for all of the sick all of the time regardless of their financial condition."

"Those Who Can Must Pay."
"In another ad it should be admitted that the experience gained by caring for the sick paupers is of great benefit to the members of the profession, but that the people able to pay for medical services are the ultimate beneficiaries through the increased ability and experience of physicians. If the medical profession is not to be pauperized, those who can must bear the burden of the free medical service rendered either by paying higher fees than they would otherwise have to, or by paying the physicians and surgeons."

PEARLS FOUND

(Chicago Tribune Photo.)

PARIS, Oct. 10.—Pollock and Chumet, jewelers, today announced that they have found all of the pearls alleged to have been missing from two necklaces that Mortimer Davis gave his wife, Rosika Dolly, the dancer, and which she handed over to the court when they sued for possession after Mr. Davis had failed to pay. The suit of the jewellers will be dropped tomorrow, but Rosy threatens to start libel action against the jewellers and newspapers who said she had failed to return some of the pearls.

for the services now donated. The truth about preventive medicine, dietetics, hygiene and sanitation would naturally follow in such an advertising campaign.

Would Eliminate Disguise.

"With paid advertising, we can tell the people what we believe they should know without having to defer to the city editors, without having to disguise items that are no longer new so that they may be treated as news. Business and industry use both methods and find them of great value."

The article estimates the cost of a year's campaign at from $40,000 to $50,000, and directs that the plan be discussed at all October meetings of the branches of the society.

MASONIC LODGE HALLS HELD TO BE TAX EXEMPT

CHIANG BLAMES OWN RACE FOR ILLS OF NATION

Says China's Troubles Internal, Not External.

BY EDGAR SNOW.

NANKING, Oct. 10.—In a stirring speech delivered beneath Sun Yat-sen's mausoleum at the Purple Mountain here today before high officials of the National government, as well as representatives of foreign nations, gathered in honor of the eighteenth anniversary of China's independence day, President Chiang Kai-shek declared that the nation's ills are due to a lack of spirit, courage and morale among the Chinese people themselves, rather than foreign imperialistic aggressions or internal dissensions.

"The most dangerous menace is the fact that the traditional moral virtues have vanished among the Chinese people," he said. "We have all become opportunists, each trying to profit by cunning, and we are concerned with our own interests to the exclusion of those of the country."

Forget National Patriotism.
"We fight for power and privilege, but do not comprehend national patriotism. Unless we eradicate this wicked state of affairs and take deeper roots, we have only to wait for foreign aggression or communism to extinguish our nation."

"Dr. Sun Yat-sen, whom we honor, once declared that the best way of serving China is the cultivation of the virtues of benevolence, knowledge and courage. The fundamental maxim, a sense of justice, is necessary before other virtues are attainable."

Coming from the Kuomintang party leader, this speech has left the Chinese people stunned, for it is the first time that it has been directly stated by Chiang Kai-shek that the evils of China are indigenous and not the result of foreign imperialism. The chairman slammed the reorganizationalists, however, saying:

Attacks Nation's "Wreckers."
"Those who are masquerading under false titles and stirring up trouble, called class struggle, and those who are fabricating malicious rumors, guised as freedom of speech, are undermining the moral standard of the people and are aiming to wreck the government, hastening the decline and extinction of the nation and the race."

"The proverb, 'We can administer the law but we cannot administer the people,' applies to China today, where intelligent cooperation is absolutely essential. All Chinese must feel humiliated at the spectacle of our incompetence in carrying out the perfect plans of our late leader, Sun Yat-sen. 'We cannot succeed as opportunists, but only through personal zeal and patriotic sacrifice for the development of national morality and through the struggle to overcome obstacles in establishing China in her rightful place in the family of nations. To this purpose I pledge myself to exert every ounce of my energy.'"

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs and colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritation, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.

The Original Fan-Equipped

Hot Water Heater

IT'S NEVER too cold to go driving if your car has a Tropic-Aire. In the most frigid, nipping weather it delivers plenty of heat, like a dozen sizzling radiators in your home.

No source of heat in your car is so great, so clean and so steady as your engine's hot water, used directly by Tropic-Aire, and circulated uniformly throughout the car by electric fan.

Simply turn the switch. The fan requires no more current than a tail light. You'll welcome it next summer, too, for cooling ventilation.

Models for all cars. A special model for the new Fords. Sold and installed by leading dealers and garages. Order yours now.

KARAWAY PICKS WITNESSES FOR LOBBY INQUIRY

First Hearing Tuesday.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Joseph B. Grundy, Pennsylvania Republican leader and Washington representative of the American League, William Burgess and Lewis, both former members of the tariff commission, and C. L. Johnson, executive of the Connecticut Manufacturers' association, were listed today as witnesses to be summoned to the senate lobby investigation under way next Tuesday.

Having decided in an executive session today to hold its first public hearing Tuesday, the committee left the list of witnesses to be summoned to the discretion of Senator T. C. Caraway (Dem., Ark.), chairman, and authorized him to issue the necessary subpoenas.

Oppose After Tariff Lobbyists.
"We are going first into the lobby of the tariff bill," said Senator Caraway. "We are going to get a list of those who are sitting around the tariff commission so close that the tariff is being framed in the lobby and not in the committee."

The Arkansas senator declared he had Grundy, a familiar figure in congressional office building corridors, as the first witness, and that Johnson, who was employed by Senator Hiram Bingham (Rep., Conn.), a member of the senate finance committee, to assist him in the tariff, would probably be the second witness named.

Mr. Johnson Chance to Explain.
"Johnson," the senator said, "will be given full opportunity to explain his position."

Burgess, a native of New Jersey and a former Republican member of the tariff commission, has been active in the tariff lobby, Lewis, falling in with the tariff commission, has been identified with the people's party and the Rawleigh bureau, radical organizations.

U. S. LABOR NOT IN POLITICS, BUT READY—GREEN

'America and England Differ Entirely.'

BY GEORGE SMITH.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 10.—American labor will not quail before the necessity of politically attempting to capture Congress and the state legislatures. President William Green of the American Federation of Labor made that point plain before the A. F. of L. convention here today after overseas fraternal delegates had extolled the political efforts and achievements of British labor.

James Bell, secretary of the United Textile Workers' association of Great Britain, had said that Premier MacDonald was the answer to the political efforts and achievements of British labor.

U. S. and Britain Differ.
"Geographically, socially, and psychologically," President Green said in reply, "Great Britain and America present such totally different political and economic problems, that there can be but little analogy."

The political successes of British labor do not necessarily constitute an urge to American labor to go and do likewise, and American labor even at the moment is not omitting to concentrate labor's political power in support of those who are the real friends of labor, and endeavoring to unite that same power in opposition to those who are our known enemies.

President Green added: "If the time comes when the great congress of labor believes that the best interests of working men and working women (of America) would be served through the development of a labor party we will not hesitate to face the issue. It is for the workmen and workwomen of labor to decide that policy. We have not failed in our endeavors to send labor men into the state legislatures."

Partnership of Capital and Labor.

In addition to President Green and James Bell, Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National railway system, addressed the convention today, stressing the value of "partnership" between capital and labor and visualizing such a relationship as the solution of future industrial difficulties. James B. Whitebone of the Canadian trades and labor congress conveyed Canadian labor greetings.

Tomorrow Secretary of Labor James J. Davis and the Hon. Peter J. Heenan, Canadian minister of labor, will address the convention.

JUDICIAL TICKET TO GO ON PARADE FOR DEMOCRATS

Some Fear for Dignity, but Agree to Show.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

The seventeen sitting Superior judges—nine of them Democrats and eight Republicans—are to attend the political meetings in their behalf, leaving the real fighting and the hot speechmaking, however, to the political battlers. The decision to parade the candidates was reached late yesterday at a meeting of the Democratic executive committee at the Sherman hotel. It settled a conflict of opinion which was dividing both the bench and the politicians into two adverse schools of philosophy over the item of judicial dignity.

Some of the judges, backed by some of the ward leaders, were against bringing the sitting judges into the campaign. Instead they were for huddling the judges into a quiet corner, immune from the storm and stress of the fight, in the name of judicial decorum.

Others Eager to Attend. Other judges balked at this idea. They said they would welcome the chance to renew their youth and freshness in old political acquaintances by touring the meetings. They were applauded by most of the Democratic and Deaneen leaders, who pointed out that it would be a hard job to warm up ward and precinct organizations at meetings from which the candidates were absent—too much like attending a football game with no teams on the field.

Judge John M. O'Connor and other judges casually put on an argumentative revolt against the idea of being tucked into a corner and gagged while the campaign is stirring. When this was carried back to headquarters the political leaders loudly acquiesced and laid it down that the candidates would not be dragged into politics if the judges appeared on the hustings but refrained from political speeches.

En Banc at Big Rallies. The proposal now is that the judges shall split up into groups to make ward organization meetings, and that at the big rallies in the final days of the campaign they should appear en banc. The plan is for them to be introduced, take a bow, make a few well chosen remarks, but to steer clear of politics. It's the old traditional custom, but this time it has been preceded by an unusual amount of palaver, due, perhaps, to the presence of ten Republicans on the Democratic ticket of 22 candidates.

As a curtain raiser for all this, Edward J. Brundage, former attorney general, tucked into the Democratic ticket and described it as a sort of webfooted camel, the product of a wet and dry "bi-partisan alliance." Speaking before the City club on "Coalition or Freedom of Choice," Mr. Brundage, who is sponsor of the People's Ticket Against Coalition, tore into Senator Charles S. Deaneen and Anton J. Cermak, Democratic county chairman.

"Echo of Another Deal." "Deaneen, the dry, and Cermak, the wet," said Mr. Brundage, "entered into a bi-partisan deal to control the sanitary district, its pay roll, its purchases, and its contracts. And the judicial bi-partisan state is but an echo of that transaction."

"Bi-partisanship extends throughout the South Park, whose commissioners are chosen by the Circuit judges. To continue that bi-partisan control the two Circuit court judges to fill vacancies must be affiliated factionally. Judges of the Superior court perform no political functions, but the halo about the sitting judge is politically inspired to bedim the motives behind the ticket making."

"The judges of the Superior court seeking re-election were mere chattels in the hands of the political manipulators. Men honored by the republican party for a score or more of years, and active in its affairs, now find themselves in the democratic column."

Deaneen did not control the republican convention, but his colleague, Tony Cermak, did control the democratic convention, so the republican victims of the deal find themselves seeking re-election under the democratic circle and so placed by the highest republican office holder in Illinois—the United States senator.

Election Tied to Ratification. "Party ties are taken lightly in these bi-partisan deals. The candi-

GRAND JURY ASKS TIME TO THINK OVER NEW EVIDENCE

The grand jurors decided they wanted to "sleep on the evidence" presented to them yesterday by Special First Assistant State's Attorney Frank J. Loesch and his staff regarding the recent exposure in the killing of Octavius Granady, colored candidate for ward committeeman against Morris Miller, in the 20th ward. After spending practically the entire day listening to the evidence the jurors announced they wanted time to think over the situation before taking any action.

Lieut. Phillip Carrell and his detective bureau squad, accused by the latest witnesses as having participated in the chase and shooting at the Granady car, were permitted to testify before the jury. The lieutenant offered to produce all statements taken by him as well as call on Deputy Commissioner John Stages and Sheridan Brusaux, colored investigator, who worked on the original evidence. The jurors, however, refused the offer temporarily.

The state marshaled some twenty witnesses before the jury. They were hidden in ante rooms and then, with their faces covered so no one could see them, were taken one by one into the jury room.

dates, naturally, are interested, but the people are chiefly concerned. Neither the judges nor the people were consulted in this transaction. It was presumed there would be, as in other coalition deals, but the same number of candidates submitted to the people for election as were necessary to fill the vacant offices. The election was to be a mere ratification.

"If bi-partisanship can deny to the people the right of selecting judges it requires but an extension of the bi-partisan trades to fill all offices." The Democrats countered on this by putting out a communiqué containing the years of service on the bench of the sitting Superior judges on the Democratic ticket—in the aggregate more than 500 years—as follows:

Superior Judge	Years on bench	Years on bench
Don E. Sullivan	18	Charles A. Williams	12
Albert C. Brown	24	Wm. N. Gennell	22
Michael J. McKelvey	18	John P. McGorty	15
Wm. H. McNeely	26	Marcus Kavanagh	36
William J. Lindsay	6	Hugo Farn	18
John M. O'Connor	16	Robert F. Gensler	9
Harry B. Miller	8	Joseph H. Fitch	19
Joseph B. David	13	Oscar Hebel	12
Joseph H. Hopkins	19

Activity at Republican headquarters was of an organizing aspect. There were no speeches, no statements, no fulminations or repartee, but precinct meetings were going apace, and the organization seems bent on what used to be termed in politics a "supreme effort" in behalf of its five candidates.

As a curtain raiser for all this, Edward J. Brundage, former attorney general, tucked into the Democratic ticket and described it as a sort of webfooted camel, the product of a wet and dry "bi-partisan alliance." Speaking before the City club on "Coalition or Freedom of Choice," Mr. Brundage, who is sponsor of the People's Ticket Against Coalition, tore into Senator Charles S. Deaneen and Anton J. Cermak, Democratic county chairman.

PICK DISTILLERS TO MAKE WHISKY FOR UNCLE SAM

Doran Names Kentuckians for Bourbon Output.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 16.—(AP)—Prohibition Commissioner Doran announced today the American Medical Spirits company and the Frankfort Distilling company of Louisville and the Glenmore Distilling company of Owensboro, Ky., had been selected by the government to manufacture whiskey.

The three, Doran said, are to make Bourbon whiskey. The distilleries to manufacture rye whiskey are still to be announced.

The selections were made under the government's plan of beginning late this year the distillation of approximately two million gallons of whiskey annually to replace the stocks in bond, which have dropped to about 8,500,000 gallons.

The program was outlined under the law requiring the prohibition bureau to keep an adequate supply of medicinal whiskey available.

Fat Man Walks Ten Miles

I don't care how fat you are or how much you hate to get out and walk a couple of miles.

If you will take one-half a teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning for 30 days—

You will feel so good—so energetic and the urge for activity will be so great that you will immensely enjoy a daily walk of several miles—and lose fat.

Why will Kruschen Salts make this great change for the better in me?—It is natural for you to ask.

Because Kruschen is a blend of the 8 vitalizing salts Nature says your body must have to keep every organ, gland and nerve in the body buoyantly healthy.

While you are losing fat you will be gaining in energy—in endurance—in ambition. Your skin will grow clearer and your eyes will sparkle with the good health that Kruschen brings.

Just try one life bottle of Kruschen Salts; it will last you 30 days. After you have taken one bottle the old arm chair won't hold you any more—you'll want to be up and doing—you'll enjoy work and active recreation and you'll sleep like a top.

You'll lose fat and probably five years longer. Get Kruschen at any live drug-gist's in America.

SAYS AUSTRIAN FASCISTS PLOT NEW "CIVIL WAR"

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] VIENNA, Oct. 16.—A new Heimwehr putch is being plotted for November with the backing of Magr. Ignaz Seipel, self-styled "Saviour of Austria," according to Dr. Ellenbogen, former under secretary of state, today in addressing a meeting of the Socialist Democratic party.

The speaker told the Socialists that he had proof that Dr. Seipel was engineering the putch with the hopes of forcing out Chancellor Schober and reestablishing himself as the Austrian Heimwehr.

chancellor. Although Chancellor Schober's sympathies are Fascist, he has already sworn to do everything in his power to put down any Heimwehr putch.

According to Dr. Ellenbogen, the ecclesiastic politician intends to capitalize on the chancellor's threat, thus putting him in an impossible position and forcing him from the job. The Fascist factions intend to terrorize the Socialists and put the country in a state of revolution, the speaker declared. Dr. Deutsch, leader of the Schutzbund, told the Socialists the membership of the Schutzbund had vastly increased since the threatened march on Vienna Sept. 29, and that this organization is now as strong as the Heimwehr.

RESORTS AND TRAVEL

The Malolo dining saloon seats all passengers at one time

Out the Golden Gate Saturday at noon

...Malolo lands you Wednesday in Hawaii

Only four nights at sea from San Francisco to Honolulu. Sailing on the fast Malolo, you can bask in Waikiki's soothing sunshine hardly a week after you leave dull winter here. That's speed as the modern world demands it.

You're exactly right, too, in assuming that the Malolo's speed means a boat modern in all other ways. Size, for instance. Decks, lounges, even staterooms were designed with a sweeping gesture. The dining saloon proudly soars to unusual height in keeping with its expansive area which seats all guests at once.

Elevators? Yes, to all seven decks. Telephones? One at each bed. Swimming pool, veranda cafe? Most assuredly. You'll enjoy the full Malolo story much more than these sketchy details. Just ask any travel agency or Matson Line, 140 So. Dearborn St., RANDolph 8344.

LINDY RETURNS FROM RUINS OF ANCIENT CITIES

Ends Central America Air
Tour in Miami.

Miami, Fla., Oct. 10.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh landed here at 6:15 p. m. today from Cosumel Island, Mexico, completing a 28 day inspection flight around the Caribbean sea, during which time he made several aerial explorations of ancient Mayan cities in Central America.

A heavy rain that had fallen all day ended shortly before the flying color landed his big amphibian ship in the dock on the Pan-American field.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Lindbergh, Dr. A. V. Kidder, head of the archaeological department of the Carnegie Institution at Washington, who made several aerial explorations with Lindbergh in Central America, and W. I. Van Deusen, representative of the Pan-American Airways.

Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh will spend the night here, proceeding on to New York early tomorrow in their own plane. Dr. Kidder, who collected numerous specimens and data on the ancient Mayan cities, will leave late tonight by plane for Washington.

Flies Over Ruins Again.
ABOARD LINDBERGH'S PLANE, Oct. 10.—(U.P.)—[By radio direct to Pan-American International Airport, Miami.]—Starting their last day of the three weeks' air tour around the Caribbean, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his party took off from Cosumel Island off the coast of Mexico and headed west toward the territory of Quintana Roo on the mainland. The object was a final flight of the Mayan ruins spotted yesterday on the air ex-

AVIATION NOTES

William F. MacCracken Jr., former assistant secretary of commerce for aviation, at a luncheon of the Elks club yesterday at the Hotel Sherman, declared that Chicago will lose its position as an air transportation center unless an effort is put forth to make Chicago attractive to airplane operators and manufacturers. He said the Municipal airport was unworthy of the city's position as a transport center. Chicago's present leadership in air traffic is due to the fact that Chicago is a rail center and not to any enterprise on the part of the city which has put obstacles in the way of air transportation development, he declared.

Maj. M. D. Mann, president of the Continental Air services, which plans to open an air passenger route between Chicago and New Orleans, announced yesterday that St. Louis will be included in the route. Other stops will be made at Memphis and Vicksburg, Miss.

The Universal Air lines will fly a football special to the Northwestern line.

pedition sponsored jointly by the Carnegie Institution of Washington and the Pan-American Airways.

Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh, together with Dr. A. V. Kidder of the Carnegie Institution; W. I. Van Deusen, reporter of the expedition, and Charles Lorber and William Ehmer, crew of the airplane, were the guests of Mosby Adams during their stay at Cosumel Island.

Trace of Highway Sought.

Following a plan of flight decided on last week, Col. Lindbergh headed for Cuba on the mainland, one of the largest Mayan ruins, but yet only briefly studied. The object was to try to pick up signs of a great ancient highway built of rock and believed to have been used to connect Cuba with other cities of Yucatan.

Forty-five minutes after the start the plane was over the great square temple at Cuba which, with pyramids, formed the central plaza of the old Cuba.

Wisconsin game tomorrow. The plane will leave Chicago at 11:45 a. m. and arrive at Madison at 12:45. Pass will be flown back to Chicago after the game.

A new Curtiss "Carrier Pigeon II," designed for air mail service, was flown to Chicago yesterday by Bert Locks, operations manager of the National Air Transport. The new ship is capable of carrying 3,000 pounds of mail. It is powered with one motor and equipped with a three-bladed propeller. A cruising speed of 138 miles an hour is claimed for it. The flight was made from Cleveland to Chicago yesterday in two hours and fifteen minutes. The Pigeon will likely be put in service over the Cleveland-New York run of the N. A. T.

Air mail service between New York and Buenos Aires via Chile and the west coast will be inaugurated Oct. 12 by the Pan-American-Grace Airways. Announcement of the new service which will make it possible to carry mail between the two points in ten days was made yesterday by J. D. McGregor, vice president of the air city. The community was strung along the banks of two lakes. After circling the central towers, the plane party clearly identified other mounds some distance away, but obviously part of the ancient settlement.

Dodges Rain Spots.

Only crumbling bits of masonry atop the highest pyramids can be seen today. The bush and jungle growths have swallowed all relics closer to the natural surface and have hidden them from the eyes of men aloft.

Col. Lindbergh spent some time circling around these sites, but no sign of the stone highway could be discovered. Therefore he turned back toward Cosumel, with low, broken clouds and a little rain ahead, but in spots which were easy for the machine to avoid.

By noon the plane had passed over Cosumel again and was well out over the Yucatan straits on its way to Cuba.

SEAWAY TO MAKE CHICAGO FIRST CITY—EMMERSON

Downstate Illinois is proud of Chicago, which is destined to become the world's greatest city after the completion of the lakes to gulf waterway. Gov. Emmerson declared yesterday at the North Central association luncheon in the Virginia hotel.

"During the next four years this state will do everything in its power to bring about that result," he said.

William Nelson Pelouse, chairman of the Illinois deep waterway commission, and Eugene S. Taylor, manager of the Chicago plan commission, also spoke. No improvements can help Chicago more than the lakes to gulf waterway and the St. Lawrence waterway, Mr. Pelouse said. A 20 per cent saving can be effected for midwest farmers and manufacturers by shipping by water, he asserted, adding that exporting by such waterways would save $10 a ton on lard, meats, etc., and $6 a ton on steel.

Volume of Air Mail Falls Off Slightly

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—(U.P.)—The postoffice department announced today that 655,589 pounds of air mail was transported in September, compared with 698,063 pounds in August. The decrease of 42,474 pounds was partly accounted for by the fact that the latter month had three less business days, but the daily average for September was 1,412 pounds less than in August.

The Chicago-San Francisco route showed the greatest poundage for September—158,987 pounds; New York-Chicago was second with 153,077 pounds, and Salt Lake City-Los Angeles third with 64,221 pounds.

AFTER SHAVING cools... soothes... protects

If you want a real treat in face comfort, do this tomorrow morning after you shave: Simply doise full strength Listerine on your face.

Immediately you note a glow of health—a tingling, zippy sensation that wakes up your skin.

Then, as Listerine dries—a wonderful feeling of coolness, as though a moist sea breeze were blowing against your cheeks. Gone that feeling of rawness. Gone that burning sensation.

Moreover, it eliminates the risk of infection. Because full strength Listerine, though safe and healing in action, kills germs in counts ranging up to 200,000,000 in 15 seconds.

Some men are so delighted with the freshening effect of Listerine on the face that they employ it before important engagements at which they must look their best. Try it yourself sometime. Lambert Pharmacal Co., St. Louis, Mo., U.S.A.

LIKENS GASTONIA POLICE KILLING TO HAYMARKET RIOT

State Asks Right to Drag In Commission.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 10.—[Special.]—Communism was brought up in open court today for the first time during the Aderholt murder trial. An effort by the state to parallel the slaying of the Gastonia police chief with the Haymarket riots of 1886, and other celebrated communist and anarchistic riots weakened a sleepy courtroom and gave promise of turning a now second degree murder trial into a case of international importance. Today communism, religion, and sex were paraded before the jury of farming men. Hints of coming legal storms cropped out with each witness.

Some Storm Signals.

Some of the storm signals appeared when:

A.—The state demanded the right to question defense witnesses on their communist beliefs, what radical papers they read, and what Red organizations they belonged to, in an effort to impeach their testimony.

B.—The state attacked a ministerial student for alleged misconduct that caused him to be dropped from official preaching in the local Methodist districts.

C.—When the sex life of witnesses was brought out under cross-examination, Judge M. V. Barnhill took the state's request that he reverse his former ruling to exclude communism from the trial under advisement and said to night he was reading the cases cited and would rule on admission of communist evidence "the next time the question arose in cross-examination of a witness."

100 More Witnesses.

This is not expected to take place until the defense places one of the seven communist organizers charged with the murder of the police chief on the stand. At the rate witnesses were "stepped down" today and in view of the fact that more than 100 others were waiting in the courtroom it may be a long time away.

The original exclusion of communism from the Aderholt trial came when the communists made a motion that references to communism be stricken from the bill of particulars. Judge Barnhill at that time said the case would be "conducted as a straight murder trial."

The two star witnesses of the day were Paul Shepherd, ministerial student, and Cliff D. Saylor. Each was on the stand for more than two hours. Shepherd came down with holes in his ministerial life and Saylor was "far out" when the day ended.

"I saw Aderholt fire and then I

PROHIBITION FILLS JAILS, SAYS PASTOR; FOR RETURN OF BEER

New York, Oct. 10.—[U. P.]—Prohibition is an ignorant experiment instead of a noble one and is filling our jails and causing misery, poverty and suffering everywhere, according to Archdeacon Joseph H. Dodson of the Episcopal church, formerly of Zanesville, O., and president of the Church Temperance society of the United States.

Archdeacon Dodson said that the return of light wines and beer must come about. He said that he observed little effort being made to enforce prohibition in Finland. The archdeacon declared that the temperance society of which he is the head has gone on record as being opposed to prohibition and in favor of light wines and beer.

heard other shots from the union hall," testified Shepherd, "but I do not know who shot who. I saw the chief walk off the lot."

Later under cross-examination Shepherd admitted Chief Aderholt had been shot in the back as he was leaving.

Under cross-examination Shepherd said he was an international labor defense speaker by preference, a piano tuner by profession, and that he was "studying to be a preacher."

Shepherd also made a damaging admission when he said, "Some of the shots that night came from knot-holes and windows in the union building."

Lawbored Hill Fellow.

Saylor, who has been one of the most active union organizers on the local staff, lumbered into the witness chair. He is the man who was kidnapped by a Gastonia mob the night Ben Wells, the British communist, was flogged.

Saylor told a disconnected story of the shooting of Chief Aderholt. He began two weeks before the actual crime with an account of threats he had received from Tom Gilbert, Gastonia policeman.

"Gilbert came up to me and called me all kinds of names," said Saylor, "and he was full of liquor. 'I got a good mind to kill you,' he said, and I backed off and said: 'You put that gun up or somebody is going to get hurt.'"

Saylor called every one on both sides this or that "gentleman." He was slow thinking and vague in his responses to questions and was so badly tangled before the cross-examination was well under way that he admitted having told lawyers several different stories about the shooting.

"A car drove up to union headquarters," he testified, "and the chief and Mr. Tom Gilbert and another gentleman stepped out. A union guard asked them if they had a warrant and Mr. Gilbert said, 'To hell with any warrant.' The guard held his shotgun pointed at Mr. Gilbert and Mr. Gilbert grabbed it and they started shuffling. Mr. Gilbert got the guard down and poked him with the gun."

From this point on Saylor's story differed little from the stories told by other defense witnesses.

CALL IS ISSUED FOR LIVE STOCK GATHERING HERE

Co-operative Associations
Will Meet Oct. 23.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Chairman Alexander Legge of the federal farm board today announced that a call has been issued for a meeting of the cooperative live stock marketing associations in Chicago, Wednesday, Oct. 23. At this conference the board will suggest plans for a national organization in which all livestock cooperatives can participate.

Coinciding with the livestock conference announcement the farm board chairman stated that "excellent progress" is being made by the subcommittee at work upon incorporation papers for the proposed $20,000,000 Farmers' Grain Marketing corporation, which was tentatively organized in Chicago a week ago. Members of the subcommittee spent hours today ironing out details of the plan with George Farrand, the board's counsel. Mr. Legge said he hoped the corporation would be in action by Nov. 1.

Proposes Buying Bonds.
That the secretary of the treasury be authorized to buy $100,000,000 or more of farm loan bonds from federal land banks to aid agriculture was proposed in a joint resolution introduced by Senator Brookhart (Rep., Ia.) today. Wall street "gambling business," he said, is reducing the market for farm loan bonds.

The forthcoming livestock session in Chicago is expected for the first time to bring the livestock industry definitely within the scope of the farm board's activities. Heretofore the livestock men have not asked for aid, but, according to Mr. Legge, the conference was called at their request.

Apparently the same procedure will be followed in organizing the livestock cooperatives as with those of the fruit, vegetable, wool and grain producers; the board's policy being to organize the cooperatives before giving aid. If a need for assistance in certain phases of the livestock industry is demonstrated financial aid may be proffered.

SIAMESE TWIN SAVES BROTHER ACCUSED OF MAKING A LEFT TURN

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Because Judge William M. Northrup couldn't find anything in the law that permitted him to make the innocent half of a Siamese twin combination suffer with the guilty half, the judge dismissed charges against Lucio Godino.

Lucio was arrested at 7th and Broadway, the main downtown intersection, for making a left turn and other traffic violations. The astonished cop took him to jail in spite of the protests of Simplicio Godino, his Siamese twin brother.

In court the innocent twin told Judge Northrup that he wasn't guilty and didn't think he should be jailed or fined for what his brother did.

try is demonstrated financial aid may be proffered.
"Of the livestock sold at terminal markets last year, $289,152,931 was handled by the cooperatives," said a statement issued by the board. "This represented 181,850 carloads composed of 1,751,599 cattle, 8,483,413 hogs and 1,686,889 sheep, or approximately 13 per cent of the livestock sold on the terminal markets of the country and ranges from 9 per cent on some of these markets to 35 per cent on others."

Others Are Invited.
In addition to these operating agencies, the presidents of the following national farm organizations have been invited "because of the splendid support they are giving cooperative marketing":

American Farm Bureau federation, the National Grange, the National Farmers' union, the National Equity union, and the American National Livestock association.

Mr. Legge's announcement that the grain marketing corporation may set up its sales organization by Nov. 1 was interpreted as a partial answer to the critics of the board on the charge that "it is acting too slowly."

"I am making no promises, but certainly there is hope that the Farmers' National Grain corporation will be able to help in handling the spring wheat crop," Mr. Legge said.

The senate committee on agriculture met today in executive session to consider the question of confirmation of the farm board members. A suggestion that action be postponed for two months was rejected. The committee will meet again tomorrow.

U. S. CENSORSHIP HOTLY ATTACKED ON SENATE FLOOR

Issue Is Injected Into Tariff Battle.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Censorship of obscene literature by customs officials drew the attention of the senate today as a fight was launched to amend the tariff bill by eliminating provisions of the present law which prohibit the importation of immoral articles.

Senator Bronson Cutting (Rep.,

N. M.) sponsored the amendment, which would strike out entirely not only the section of the present law applying to obscene books and pictures but also an amendment incorporated in the bill as passed by the house putting up the bars against admission of seditious literature.

Asserting that the censorship as practiced by the bureau of customs shows the "depths of absurdity to which bureaucratic government may go," Senator Cutting said that the issue is one of free speech and free thought and is of the greatest importance. He aroused the interest of senators as he told of various books which have been denied admission into this country by customs officials.

One Clerk Chief Reader.

"One clerk in the bureau of customs spends his whole time reading these works," said Senator Cutting. "If there is anything in the theory of regulations which seeks to bar writings which arouse improper thoughts he ought to be the most wicked man on earth."

Senator Cutting was in the midst of a lengthy speech when adjournment was taken for the day. A vote on his amendment is expected tomorrow. Republican regulars were cheered somewhat when a break in the ranks of the Democratic-radical coalition made possible the defeat of an amendment by Senator Pat Harrison (Dem., Miss.) to strike out a provision of the present law permitting manufacturers and wholesalers to intervene in appraisal and classification cases. As amended by the finance committee organized labor also was given the same privilege. The Harrison amendment, which struck out the entire section as amended, was defeated by a vote of 37 to 41.

Noting for the Harrison amendment were 37 Democrats and 10 Republicans. Against it were 35 Republicans and 7 Democrats. Two Republicans and five Democrats who have usually voted with the coalition swung over to the other side.

Philippine Plan Rejected.

The Philippine independence question was disposed of when the senate by a vote of 19 to 63 rejected the Broussard amendment for the calling of an international conference on the question. Several advocates of Philippine independence took the position that other nations had nothing to do with the matter. The amendment, as defeated, contained a declaration in favor of independence and authorized the President to invite such nations as he might desire to a conference to formulate an agreement to guarantee the independence of the islands.

The senate also rejected another Broussard amendment which provided for the levying of customs duties on all imports from the Philippines, revenues derived therefrom to be turned over to the insular treasury.

CUSTOMS AGENTS SEIZE CARGO ON LINER FROM U. S.

(Copyright, 1929, by the New York Times.)
BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 10.—The Munson liner, Western World, on which American customs officers discovered a highly organized band of whisky smugglers, at New York a year ago, is in trouble here, following the discovery by Argentine customs officers of large quantities of American tooth paste, cheap jewelry, silk ties, safety razors and cigarettes, which were to be smuggled ashore by members of the crew, customs officers say. The ship stays in port here ten days before making the return voyage to New York.

Customs agents spent several hours yesterday and today tapping walls and scraping away paint, thus uncovering carefully prepared secret recesses in several parts of the vessel, where smuggled merchandise had been hidden.

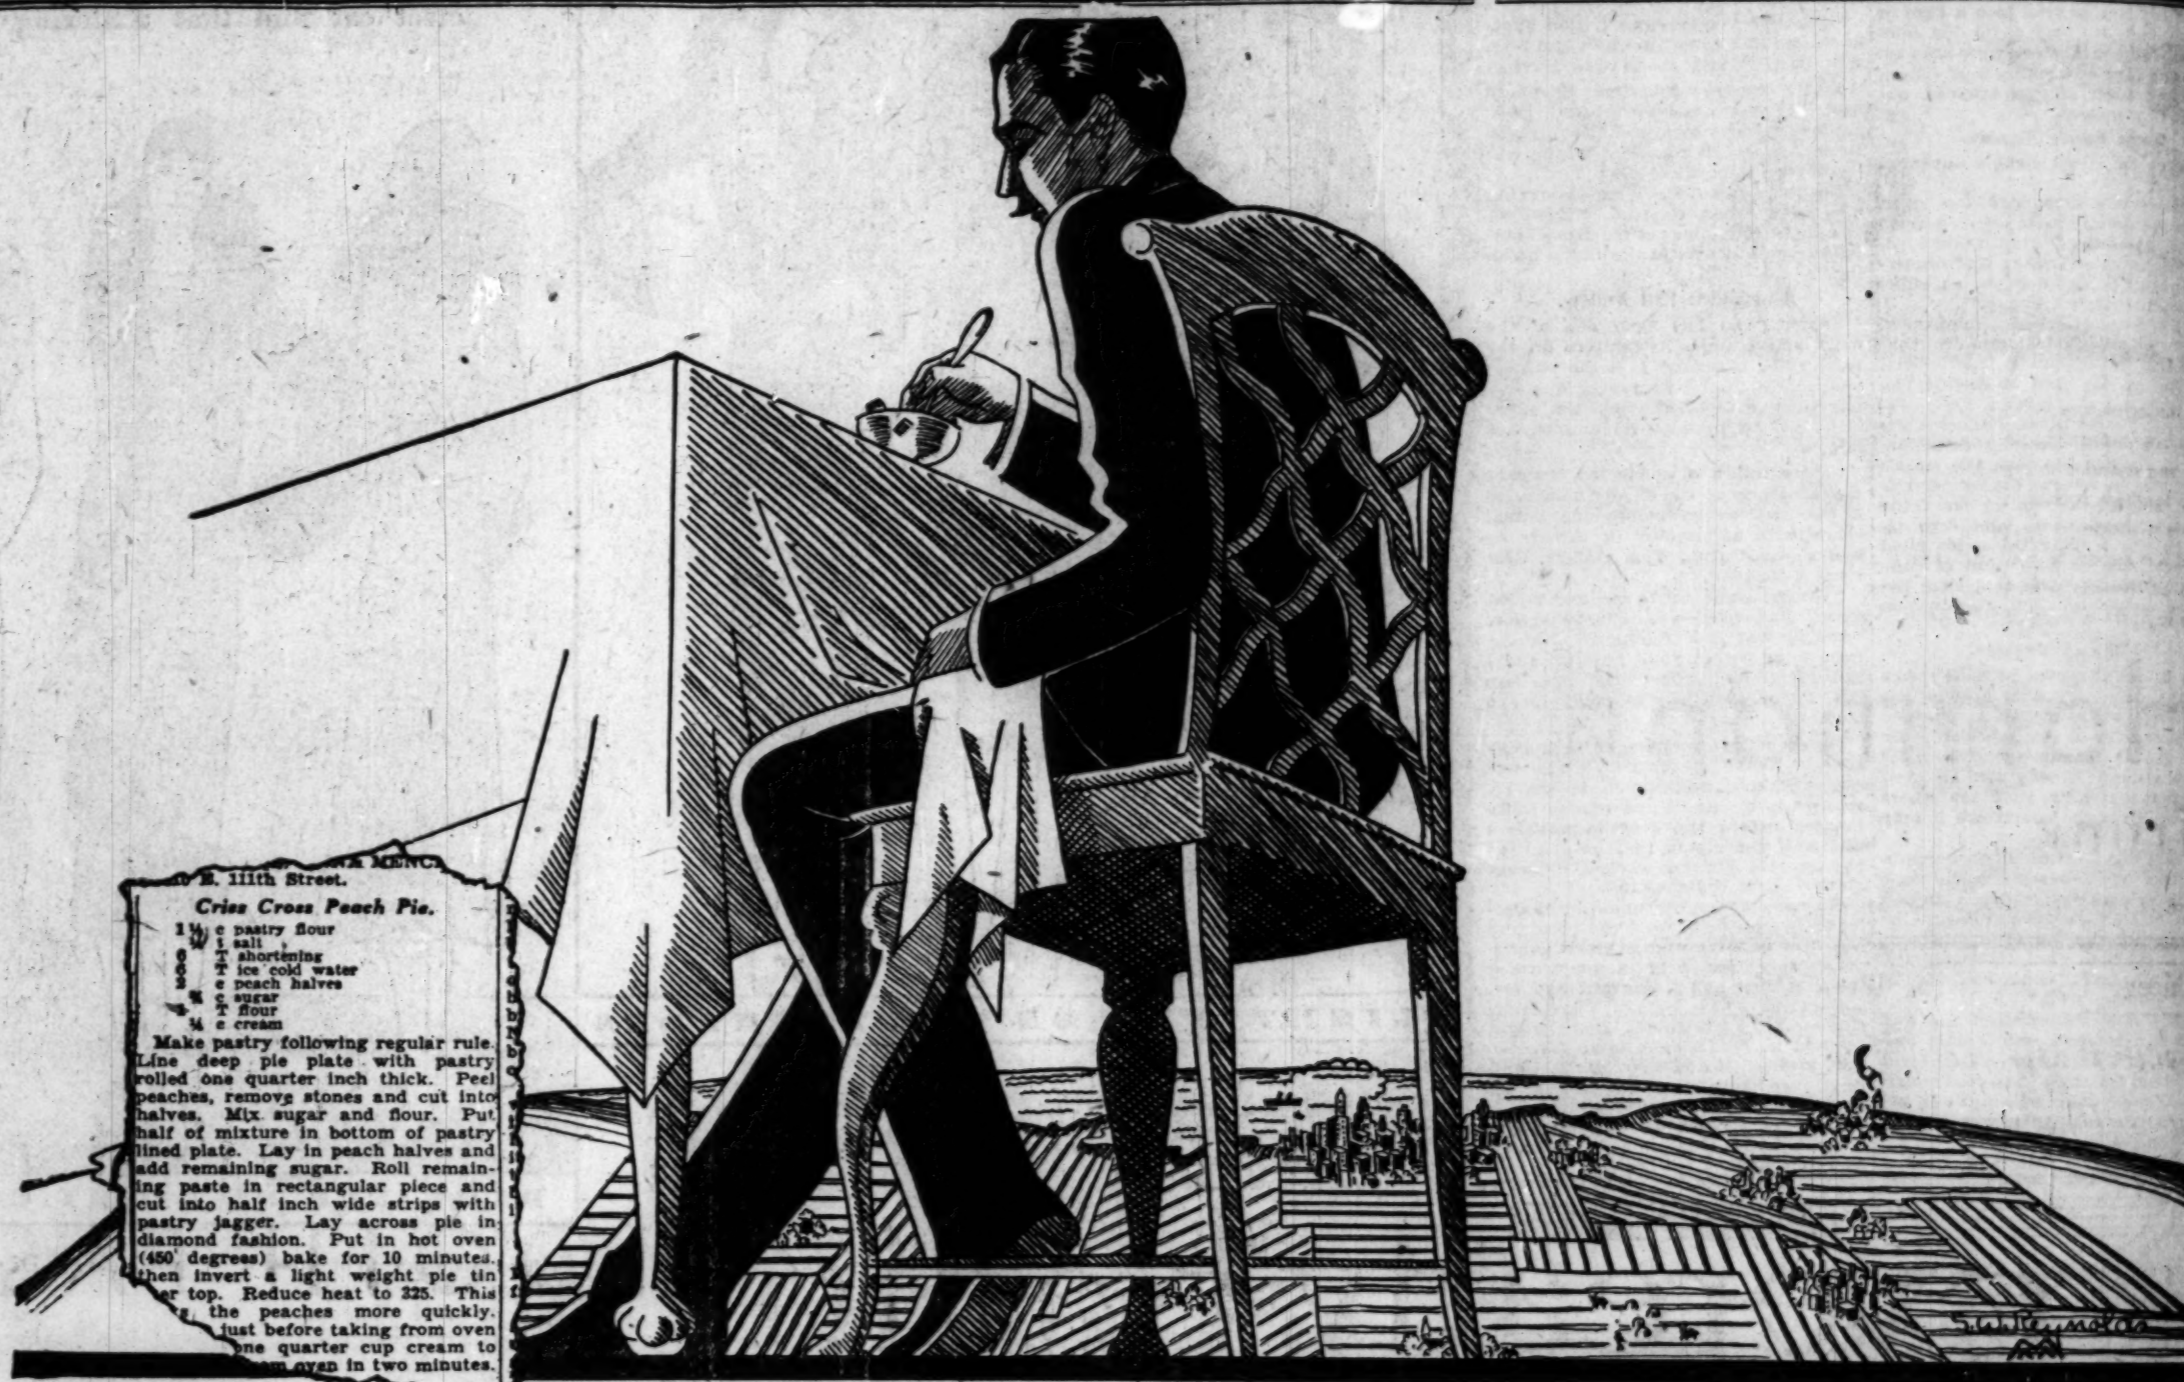

Merchandise seized on the Western World included 1,500 tubes of tooth paste, 1,500 imitation pearl necklaces, 250 safety razors, 200 packages of blades, 700 packages of cigarettes, and 300 silk ties.

CONFESS CRIMES, BUT NOT MURDER OF SERGT. FOX

Confessions to dozens of crimes were being made yesterday by the prisoners of the Hammond gun boat, survivors of the Hammond gun boat of Wednesday afternoon, but none of the five men would admit having killed Sgt. Leo Fox.

Deputy Coroner Chester Owens said it makes little difference which killed Fox as all will be charged with murder, but in order that all possible proof may be presented to the jury he would have an examination made of the five bullets taken from Fox's body. Through the science of ballistics it will be possible to establish positively from which of the guns each bullet came.

One of the bandits, Peter Augustinovich, was reported to be near death from the wounds he received when Sgt. Fox and Thomas Martinson of the Hammond force and Sgt. Cornelius Buils and P. L. Farago of Cook county highway police entered a flat at 909 Calumet avenue, Hammond, to arrest the men for the robbery on Sunday morning of the Lake Gardens roadhouse near Lansing.

IN NORTHERN OHIO men are eating Criss-Cross Peach Pie this week

MEN eat what women prepare. And what women prepare depends in large measure on what they read.

The sudden popularity of Criss-Cross Peach Pie in Northern Ohio can be laid at the Plain Dealer's door. A recipe, printed on one of last week's food pages, did the work.

If, some morning, you could spend a few minutes back stage in Northern Ohio homes you'd be surprised to see how expectantly the women read their Plain Dealers—and how eagerly they accept the suggestions they find.

A new food—a tempting beverage—a new dish for the after-bridge supper—a new idea in cooking—quickly becomes the mode in Northern Ohio once it appears in the Plain Dealer.

Any day of the week you'll find at least three pages directed entirely to women—often four—sometimes five. Saturdays, the Plain Dealer food page—with its cash prize menu-contest—editorial mention of new foods, beverages, household supplies developed by manufacturers. And a weekly story summarizing a personal visit to some food factory by the Plain Dealer's home economics editor.

All of it of real, vital interest to the tens of thousands of women who follow the Plain Dealer every day of the week.

And all of it of tremendous value to the advertiser.

MALONE MAKES OUSTER THREAT TO REVIEW BOARD

Demands Officials Be Held to Economy.

Ouster of the members of the board of review if they fail to comply with the rules of the state tax commission regarding conduct of hearings on complaints against the 1928 assessment was threatened last night by Chairman William H. Malone of the state commission. The warning was issued in an address before taxpayers in the Oak Park village hall.

The meeting was the first of a series to be held in country towns to arouse public opinion to prevent village boards and school trustees from taking advantage of increased valuations under the reassessment to secure tremendous increases in taxes. Chairman Malone urged the public to force economy in administration and to demand rigid adherence to the equitable assessment.

Malone Urges Economy.
"Economy in administration and the sanctity of the reassessment offer the only way for Chicago and Cook county to get out of their financial difficulties," he said. "Various administrative measures are now searching frantically for a way out of the bonds imposed on them by the state commission to bring equity in taxes. They are scurrying about for a hole by which to escape and fatten on public funds in an orgy of spending."

Mr. Malone referred to the recent action of the board of review in refusing to use the new form of complaint ordered by the commission, on the ground that the old form would be suitable. He intimated that this defiance will bring prompt punishment. He said he had obtained a legal opinion from County Attorney Hayden Bell, holding that the members of the board must obey the state tax commission.

Attacks Levy Boards.
Mr. Malone attacked levy fixing boards for their failure to protect taxpayers by reducing levies in rural

EMMERSON ASKED TO FIRE A. D. LEWIS AS STATE MINE DIRECTOR

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 10.—(AP)—The Illinois Miner, official publication of the United Mine Workers in Illinois, today demanded that John L. Lewis, international president, relinquish office, and urged Gov. Emmerson to discharge A. D. Lewis, state director of mines and minerals. The latter is a younger brother of John L. Lewis.

The Illinois Miner charges that A. D. Lewis opposed Gov. Emmerson in the last campaign. It also alleges that John L. Lewis forfeited his right to office as international president when he neglected to call the annual convention into session.

Removal of A. D. Lewis as mine director was also requested this morning by eleven miners, six of them Republican precinct committeemen in Springfield. They presented a resolution to Gov. Emmerson charging that Lewis attempted to "discredit you in every way possible during your campaign for the governorship," and concluding with a request that he be "let out."

He said that unless cuts are made the tax bills in villages may be doubled as a result of increased valuations.

Earlier in the day the board of review members held a conference with their attorney, Roy Massena, on the certification of reassessment pay rolls by the state commission. Chairman Malone had warned the members that he would resort to this provision of the law to whip them into line.

Chairman William H. Weber of the board refused to discuss the conference. It is understood Mr. Massena held that in the period of work on the assessment the rolls must be certified by the state commission. It was announced after the meeting that the board will open hearings on complaints next Wednesday, more than two weeks after the date set by the state commission.

JOHN VOLSTEAD GETS SENTENCE FOR DRUNKENNESS

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 10.—(AP)—A palpable "wet" with a famous "dry" name gave Municipal court attaches a shock today when he was charged with being drunk.

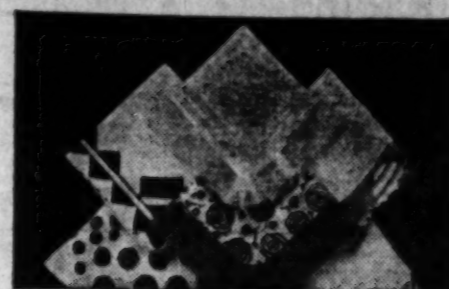

"What's your name?" asked the clerk.

"Volstead," replied the culprit.

"What's that?" came the startled query.

"Volstead—John Volstead," was the reply.

John, not related to his famous namesake, Andrew Volstead, was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 or spend 10 days in jail.

BRUSHED with the correct dentifrice, teeth that now are unattractive may become lustrous and beautiful—and in a very short time.

We waited many years before producing a tooth paste. During that time we studied every phase of dental caries (decay) and oral hygiene.

At last we produced a remarkable dentifrice—and gave it our name.

Now we ask you to try it—to give it a thorough trial. We ask you to note how naturally and gently it removes discoloration and tartar. Note, too, the wonderful luster it imparts to teeth.

That is due to modern ingredients which first cleanse, then polish. They are harder than tartar, so destroy it. But they are softer than enamel, therefore are harmless to it.

Your Own Juvenile Floor—the Fifth

Prepares for the Holiday With Many a Smart Frock and Suit

Tomorrow is Columbus day and a right good day it's going to be for shopping on the Juvenile Floor. Of course, Mother will find the same smart things here for you today, should she come shopping without you, but we selected them specially for you to come and see yourselves. Clothes have never been more attractive for you younger people than they are this Fall. They're really things you like to wear—and Mother finds them astonishingly practical for you, as well as becoming.

For Girls

Camel's hair warmly lined with kasha makes a coat for winter days—it's snug and cozy without being heavy. The shoulders are satin lined and it's belted all around. 8 to 14. $25.

Jersey for girls' frocks seems to be one important idea of a mode which does such interesting young things. A skirt of plain jersey, pleated, and a blouse of striped jersey in navy, tan, red or green. 8 to 14. $5.50.

A simple frock with pleats down the front has large scalloped collar and cuffs of linen. Comes in blue, wine, green, navy. 8 to 14. $5.50.

A littler girl's frock of jersey hangs simply from the shoulder in wide pleats, and has a linen collar. 6 to 10. $5.50.

Shoes

Football Shoes! With cleats on the soles, and heavy toes, just like grown-up football players wear, enough to make any boy's holiday a glorious success. Sizes 1 to 8 at $6.50 to $7.

"Kiltie" tongue Oxfords in tan elk-skin or tan and putty color combination. Sizes 1 1/2 to 8, $6 and $7.

Girls' Oxfords in brown kidskin trimmed with lizard patterned calfskin, sizes 3 to 8 are $9.

T-straps in brown suede, patent leather or blue kidskin, sizes 2 1/2 to 8, $9 to $9.50.

Side buckle slippers in brown or blue lizard patterned calfskin with kidskin quarters, sizes from 3 to 9, $8.50.

Girls' suede ties in black or brown with lizard trimming. Leather heel, sizes from 2 1/2 to 8, $8.50.

Do You Want a Toy Airplane? There's One Here for You in the Boys' Section

The Angora beret—it's as much fun to feel as it is to wear, so soft and fuzzy, and what colors—plain or combinations. From France. $7.50.

Boys' knicker hose, wool and cotton, $1.50. Five-eighths length hose for smaller boys and girls, $1 and $1.50.

Brisk weather makes a heavy knit sweater a very practical choice for every little girl. Red, tan, navy blue, sizes 10 to 16 years. Coat and slip-over styles, $7.95. Caps, $1.95.

And Toyland on the Seventh

Stages a Celebration On Saturday

A real live pony is coming to Toyland tomorrow. And a very unusual pony at that. For he can add and subtract and multiply—to say nothing of telling family secrets. Perhaps he'll even give you a ride, if you are very nice to him.

His name is Sir Victory, and he'll be here from 11 till 1 and 2 till 4 on Saturday, just for the express purpose of entertaining you—so be sure that Mother manages her shopping so as to have you there sometime during those hours to see him.

Seventh Floor, Wabash.

For Boys

Fall suits for the boy are made of hard finish, durable materials in warmly colored mixtures. With two pairs of knickers in sizes 8 to 16 and two pairs of long trousers in sizes 14 to 18. $25.

Leather coats, 8 to 18—the kind that every real boy wants, $16.75. Helmet to match, $3.95.

Chinchilla overcoats for the lads of 3 to 10, beautifully tailored in navy or cinnamon. $15.

Slip-over sweaters—the ever-practical garment for boys—in many patterns. $3.75. Knickers to wear with them. Sizes 8 to 16 years. Very special, $2.95.

To Identify the Youthful Sophisticate

Frocks with Metal Embroidery, $45 (Smart for Afternoon)

A simple silhouette in lovely rich colors is background for graceful little spots of embroidery done in gold-color threads. The frock sketched is one-piece with interesting collar, snug hips and flare skirt. It is one of two styles in wine, brown, green, navy blue and black. In sizes for misses only.

Fourth Floor, North, State.

Coats with Much Lapin $150

(And Muff to Match)

A wide band of lapin at the bottom—also deep cuffs and a wide collar that crushes around the face or is worn off the shoulders. Nutria Lapin on red or black Norma cloth. Misses' sizes.

Fourth Floor, North, State.

The Bow Hat, $12.50 (A hat that literally swathes the head)

It is unusual to find a hat that has so much meaning in its design. The bow gives a long line at side and back, and it is so arranged to effect a graceful sweep. Lustrous imported soleil in black and all the colors. This hat can be copied to fit any headsize.

CUBS PICKED TO FACE ATHLETICS TODAY

N. U. ELEVEN IN MADISON FOR FIRST BIG TEN GAME

'WIN' STUDENTS'
PARTING PLEA
TO WILDCATSConcede Badgers
Nothing—Hanley.

A cold rain failed to chill the enthusiasm of several thousand Northwestern students who assembled at Dyche stadium yesterday afternoon and escorted the Wildcat football squad to the Chicago and North Western railroad station, where they awaited for Madison, the scene of Saturday's encounter with Wisconsin.

Made from the Purple's big 125 piece band, together with the antics of a half dozen cheer leaders, served to liven up the student contingent. They served notice in no uncertain terms that a Wildcat victory is expected despite the somewhat battered condition of the team.

Concede Badgers Nothing. "We aren't conceding the Badgers a thing," was Coach Dick Hanley's parting message. "We have taken some hard knocks from injuries and hardships this week but they have only served to increase our determination to fight back harder. Maybe we're the under dog in this game but we will be battling in there all the way."

The Northwestern party, including 15 players, plus coaches, trainers and managers, arrived in Madison at 10 o'clock last night. Headquarters were established at the Parks hotel. Today Coach Hanley will take his boys over to Fortage, Wis., where they will remain until Saturday noon, returning to Madison just before the game.

With the possibility that the game will be played on a wet field, Coach Hanley worked his players in the rain yesterday.

The starting lineup remains a question which even Coach Hanley is unable to answer. Frank Baker, regular punter, may play, but not for long. His injured shoulder has kept him on the sidelines all week. Ted Egberts, his understudy, dislocated his knee last night while going down after a pass and was carried off the field. He will not be used. Bob Gonyea, a sophomore tackleman, is still banged up from the Butler game. It appears that Larry Opland will get the call at one end and Ralph Byler, a sophomore, will be at the other.

Key at Right Tackle. Jack Riley has taken over Hutchinson's duties at right tackle while Red Woodworth will be at the other. Capt. Henry Anderson will function at left guard with John Spivey, a possible starter at right guard. Jimmie Rydzak, who started last week, is still on the injured list. Mickey Erickson will be at center. The back field in all probability will be the same as the one which started last Saturday. It includes Hanley, Gruber, Brander and Caldwell, halves, and Berghman, full.

JUGGLES BADGER SQUAD. Madison, Wis., Oct. 10.—[Special.]—Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite turned his Wisconsin eleven upside down tonight and tried to shake out a lineup which would be more effective in scrimmages against the passes that he expects Northwestern to use in the Big Ten game here Saturday afternoon. Although he divided his back field across between two teams and juggled his linemen expertly, the Badger coach could not report the action a complete success.

The pairings, dressed in Northwestern jerseys which bore the numbers of Caldwell, Gruber, Brander, Hanley and Berghman, completed pass after pass for substantial gains. One of the fields had Russ Rehbock and Russell at halves, Grubbs at full back, and Walt Gracner at quarter. Sam Baker and Ernie Lusby worked with another team.

RETURNS LOST
SERIES TICKETS; WILL SEE GAME

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 10.—[Special.]—Since Saturday and up until 7 o'clock tonight Albert Bell had been worried himself as an unshorn lamb when the autumn winds had been untempered. At 7:02 p. m. he made a gesture to the stars and revealed that Diogenes, had he visited Philadelphia, would have kicked his legs into the first convenient gutter.

Mr. Bell found a man so honest that he was tired of attitude. His three sets of three tickets each to the world series, presented to him yesterday by Connie Mack last week, and which he lost from a pocket Saturday, are now safe again in his possession.

The jobless and modest individual who found them spurned a reward of $100 and accepted in lieu a ticket to tomorrow's game.

MAROONS WILL FIGHT HOOSIERS
ALONG GROUNDLack Passers for Overhead Game.

A rainy afternoon yesterday failed to provide much stimulation to the Chicago football team or to evolve a successful method of stopping forward passes. Inasmuch as Indiana, which invades Stagg field tomorrow to open the conference season for both eleven, is known to have a strong overhead attack, Stagg is at a loss.

All week the Old Man has concentrated on aerial defense. But last night the freshmen executed pass after pass, just as they have done every night this week.

Indiana relied on passes for most of its gains against Notre Dame last week, and undoubtedly will shoot them as often as possible tomorrow. The hope for a Maroon victory seems to hinge on stopping such an offensive.

Chicago will present an entirely different attack. Lack of speed in the back field and a mediocre group of passers forces Stagg to depend on hitting the line this year. Temple and McKenzie, two sophomore full backs, demonstrated marked efficiency last week, and should be able to crack the Hoosier forward wall for good gains.

All of the Maroons will be in shape for the game, with the possible exception of Jonathan Bunker, former Dartmouth tackle, who was injured last week. However, he may be able to play.

INDIANA HERE TODAY

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 10.—[Special.]—Indiana's football team was given a light practice this afternoon by Pat Page before leaving for Chicago, where they will meet the University of Chicago eleven on Stagg field Saturday afternoon. Twenty-five were singled out by Page to make the trip for the first Big Ten game of the season.

Indiana, however, lost Lowell Todd because of the sudden death of his brother, the latter part of the week. It is probable that Todd will not enter the game Saturday. A special train carrying the Indiana rosters and band to Chicago, will leave tomorrow night. The sale of tickets indicate that the Hoosiers will have a large delegation present. The trip will be the first of this season for Indiana's band of 100 pieces.

The revised squad is as follows: Faunce, Marion; Garrison, Indianapolis; Richardson, Martinsville; Lammert, Lawrence; Parnham, Brainerd; Fort, Wayne; Shields, Muncie; Mankowski, Detroit; McNamee, Clinton; Unger, West Point; Miles, Bay; Indianapolis; Ringwalt, Indianapolis; Shanahan, Gosport; Hinz, Detroit; Miller, McCracken; Monrovia; Antonini; Clinton; Joiner, New Castle; Ross, Warsaw; Crawford, Kirklin; Komer, Cleveland; O'Seller, East Chicago; Hansen, River Forest; Ill.; Galtier, Kenosha, Wis.; Jasper, Fort Wayne; and Hughes, Gary.

There hasn't been any clamor in Philadelphia for a violation of any of these rules, attention being rather focused on the triumphant A's, but the ruling and other things have served to make the McCarthy athletes somewhat wiser as they tiptoe about the spacious lobby of the Benjamin Franklin hotel, Cub headquarters here.

While acknowledged to be an effective reminder of the gravity of the baseball situation, the McCarthy rules of conduct may prove a curse to art, for the vaudevillians on the squad are restrained from practicing for the acts scheduled to be presented to the public immediately after the close of the season.

The situation is particularly serious in the case of Grimm, Cuyler, and Heathcote, who are scheduled to make their debut at a loop theater on Oct. 18. Grimm's voice now is too husky to be sweet, Cuyler has lost control of his vocal chords completely and Heathcote's ukulele has been confiscated by the Cub management. And besides these things rise the thought

Cubs May Revise Their Little Vaudeville Act 'How We Won'

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 10.—Warm sunshine and the famed spirit of brotherly love today cleared the misty veil from before the eyes of our punch drunk Cubs and tonight every one is doing as well as could be expected, thank you.

Nothing hilarious, understand. And not so much of the self-esteem as was evident during the closing month or so of the season. But the boys are a fighting bunch who think there still is time to salvage their honor and the dimmed prestige of the National league.

Forbid Church Suppers. After the first game in Chicago, Manager McCarthy issued a drastic order that no church suppers were to be attended, no commercial pep talks were to be uttered, no radio spots were to be mumbled, and that even the autographing of baseballs, programs, sofa pillows, etc., was taboo. The order is standing today, emphasized a couple of million per cent.

There hasn't been any clamor in Philadelphia for a violation of any of these rules, attention being rather focused on the triumphant A's, but the ruling and other things have served to make the McCarthy athletes somewhat wiser as they tiptoe about the spacious lobby of the Benjamin Franklin hotel, Cub headquarters here.

YEA, BO, THERE'S GOLD IN THEM
BLEACHER LINESIf You Don't Mind Sitting
Up All Night.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 10.—One sees much romantic literature in the papers about the Spartan devotion of the faithful bleacherite who sits on an orange crate outside the wall of a ball park for 48 hours before the ticket sale begins. But your correspondent has just returned from the Athletics' ball park and he will state that the faithful bleacherites who are sitting on the crates out there are as frowny a group as ever crowded the ball pen of a holdover jail.

They sit in a line about half a block long with a detail of police under a captain to keep them in order. Bundled in raveling sweaters and crumpled blankets, smoking cigars and strewing the butts and the rinds of their sandwich meals at their feet, the types are reminiscent of the unwashed, unemployed and unemployed guests who used to infest Hogan's shop, the nicker a night refuge in Chicago.

Have Hobs' Gay Abandon.

Dirty, scruffy and gay with the defiant devil-may-care of the abandoned bum, they seem to have crawled out of the doors of Philadelphia's rather extensive region of hobo lodging houses, hock shops and second hand shoe stores, and they are holding their places out of no devotion to Connie Mack or the heroic ball players but to sell them when the ticket windows pop open tomorrow.

In fact, it is my notion that if the ticket windows were to snap open this evening about 150 of the 200 loafers in the line would have to fall out again, not having the price of dollar seats. The boys up toward the head end of the line have rather grandiose ideas of the value of their places as they are asking $25 just now, with another night of waiting remaining, which probably means that they will want $30 by morning. Of course, they will get $10 or even $15 but no doubt there are 200 patrons without reserved seats who will be willing to pay as much as $10 or $15 for places far advanced as to assure them dollar admissions to the outfield seats when the sale begins.

The papers today printed a picture of a faithful bleacherite sitting in a rocking chair among the faithful gentlemen bleacherites, this evening, several photographers myself, I suspect that the boys hustled a rocking chair out of the parl- of one of the shabby houses which line the other side of the street for a nominal rental and got one of the neighborhood girls to sit for her photograph in return for the momentary fame which they were in a position to give her.

Perhaps they promised to tell Zukor about her and get her in the movies as they often do. At any rate, there was no faithful lady bleacherite in line when I was there.

Prepare Emergency Bleachers.

On the corner side of the other street abutting the bleachers, the street where the roofs of a rundown row of dingy brick dwellings overlook the wall and the playing field, carpenters were at work on quite ambitious emergency bleachers this evening, under the direction of the lessees or proprietors, preparing for a rush of business tomorrow. Lumber wagons had dropped piles of boards and planks along the curb and the carpenters were building false roofs of heavy lumber and on them tiers of bleacher seats, white, stout, bowy ladies of the type who sell hot dogs at bathing beaches hurried them to get the job done before morning.

The honest householders in that row have turned many a dollar this season selling space on the roofs to customers content with sniped views of the ball games, but when the world series approached there was some dis-

Ehmke, Foxx
Lead Vote for Series Hero

Thousands of ballots have been received by THE TRIBUNE and are being counted to determine the star of each of the two games of the world series played at Wrigley field.

Tabulators report that Howard Ehmke is running far ahead of all others in the ballots on the first day's game. The fans apparently were greatly impressed by the eight hit, one run performance of the tall right-hander. Undoubtedly the fact that he struck out 13 Cubs, setting a new record for world series pitching, clinched the argument in favor of Ehmke.

The majority of the ballots counted yesterday were votes on the first day star. But among the hundreds of second game ballots were was a wide diversity of opinion.

Foxx Leads Second Day.

For instance, in the first twenty of the second game ballots counted there were 10 votes for Jimmy Foxx, Athletics first baseman; four for Bob Grove, who finished the game after Barnshaw's departure for the showers; three for Simmons, who played a fine game in left field and hit a homer, and three for Earnshaw, who received credit for the victory.

QUINN, WALBERG
AWAIT MACK'S
WORD TO STARTCub Pilot Cancels Workout.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 10.—There's a dull edge to the world strike out series on the eve of its resumption here. The two stinging defeats inflicted on the Cubs in Chicago have loosened McCarthy's men argue that a hitting team can be held in check, but not for long. They think the change of scenery will revive them.

The man on the street, the experts, and even the Athletics, flushed by their triumphs, say the series in fact acts. McCarthy's men argue that a hitting team can be held in check, but not for long. They think the change of scenery will revive them.

Saturday will be merely a matter of going through the motions to conform to the rules and regulations prescribed for the big event.

The Cubs, however, are not going to be buried before they are dead, and they haven't passed away as yet. They took their two trimmings and swallowed hard, but today, after some leisure hours, they were just as confident of coming back as the new cocky Macks are of cleaning up the series in four acts. McCarthy's men argue that a hitting team can be held in check, but not for long. They think the change of scenery will revive them.

Calls Off Workout.

McCarthy today turned to psychology with the hope it might bring about the revival his men insist is going to come. The Cub chief intended to take them out to Shibe park and work them ragged. Just before their special train arrived here he passed along word that the practice idea had been abandoned.

Originally he figured a bit of batting practice would restore their eyes and at the same time acquaint them with the American league park, in which they've never played. He changed because he figured out that a day entirely away from a baseball park and all the paraphernalia of the game might set their minds off what everybody thinks must be trouble. The only thing he did was to ask them to get plenty of rest.

McCarthy is going to send Guy Bush to the pitcher's box in the third game of the series. He said this tonight, after a day in which he appeared more or less panic stricken whenever hurled possibilities were mentioned. There have been no intimations from Connie Mack as to what he has in mind.

Once McCarthy declared he would wait until five minutes before game time and hand somebody a ball, with instructions to warm up and prepare for a tough afternoon. When he said this he added he thought it might be a good idea to be mysterious like Connie Mack.

Decides to Gamble.

Later he settled upon Bush as the man for the job, after everybody had engaged in extensive speculations as to whether it would be Root or Blake. The general opinion had been that the decision, when made, would involve Root, but apparently McCarthy is going to take a chance.

"I won't use Root tomorrow unless it is to save the game," was the Cub chief's declaration when informed all the experts were figuring he would use his ace finger in a last ditch defense.

If Bush can escape with a victory and without requiring relief McCarthy will be in a fairly comfortable spot. At least, it will be far more comfortable than the present situation of no wins and two defeats.

He can come back on Saturday with Root, and it is logical to figure the star of the staff will get better breaks than he did in the first game, when vanquished, even though he gave up only three hits in seven innings. If Bush turns in a game such as helped to make him the league's outstanding pitcher the first part of the season McCarthy can handle some more.

Mack Expected to Choose Quinn or Walberg.

He has Blake available, and the big West Virginian, with a cloudy day and good control, undoubtedly could show the Athletics more speed than they've seen in many days. The hitch in this scheme is that Blake's good days have been few and far between.

Walberg or Quinn?

Mack is continuing as secretive about his pitching choices as he has been since the strange event started. Flushed by his luck in getting a great game out of Ehmke, a second string workman, in the opening battle, he might try to put over another stranger, but if he does it will merely prove he has no confidence in his two left handers, who are supposed to be about the best in their league. Neither does it follow that, if he makes an unexpected selection such as he did in the first game his luck will be the same.

What Mack undoubtedly will do is to weigh his judgment between Walberg, the southpaw, and Quinn, the spit-balling patriarch. Walberg is a more versatile worker than Grove, but the Cubs think they can keep him in trouble enough to weaken him as they did Ehmke. In the second game, as for old man Quinn, they do not believe he has the strength to last a full game if he has to bear down for the first five or six innings. Whether he'd have to give everything he owns on every pitched ball depends entirely on how well the Cub pitching succeeds in keeping the Athletics in check. Give Quinn or Walberg a lead and they might never be caught.

If Mack does turn up a second Ehmke it probably will be Rommel. It will be recalled by those who saw Ehmke fan 11-10 men, most of them the best hitters in the Cub layout, last Tuesday in the opener, that he did it on slow balls and slower ones. Full swinging hitters, such as most of the Cubs, have trouble gauging such stuff. Well, Rommel can throw the slow ones, too. He has a knuckler that baffles and also other things.

Is It Stage Fright?

There still are numerous questions being asked in connection with the record breaking feat of 26 Cub strikeouts in two games. Nobody has the answer. The most logical guess is that McCarthy's sluggers were considered rough, tough, and ready for stage fright and lightened up at bat. Their woeful showing also indicated they hadn't come out of the slump into which they permitted themselves to lapse as soon as they gained an unbeatable lead in the pennant race.

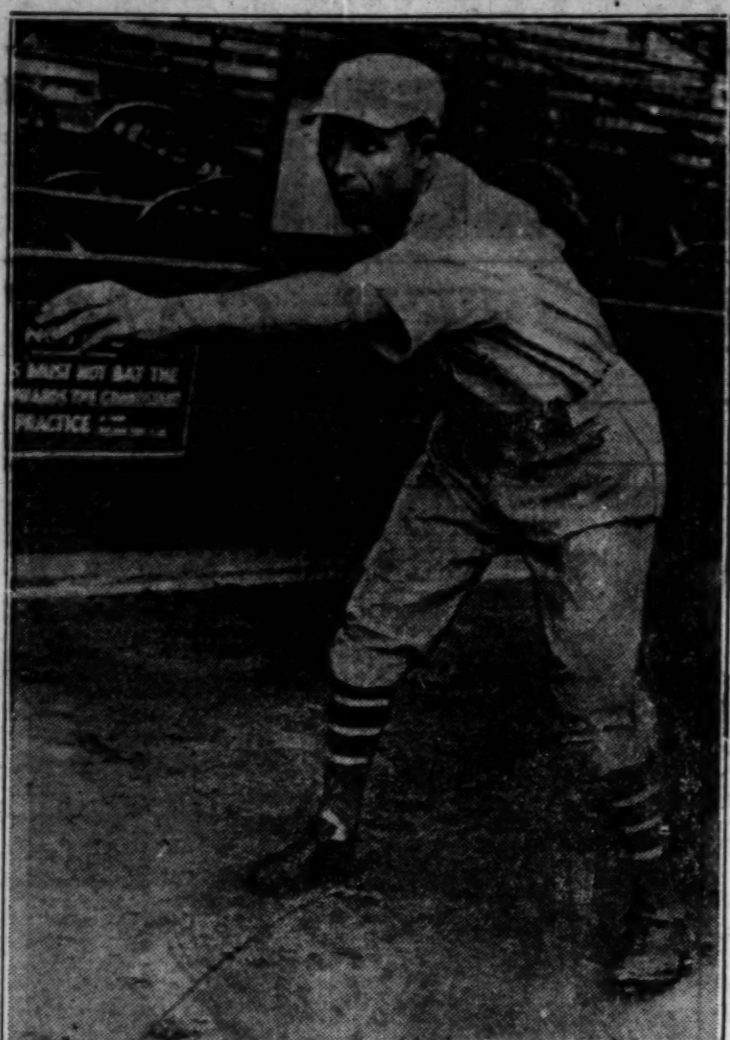

The suggestion has already been made that McCarthy, provided Mack pitches right handers, move Cuyler out of the lineup and substitute Heathcote. Cuyler fanned on his appearance in the opening game and again in his next time at bat. This discouraged the highly strung speedster and he continued to look terrible on the next day. Give him a couple of base hits, however, and he'll probably start traveling. Those base hits might come any minute and for that reason McCarthy isn't liable to bench him. It is no easy matter to take a normal .350 hitter out of the lineup. What the Cub hurlers now believe is that if they can put a stop to Cochran, Simmons and Fox, they can shatter the Mack morale. The success of this trio for two days indicates that the Cub hurlers don't have as much knowledge about their batting habits as they could have used.

Fox Likes 'Em Close.

From what Fox has done it looks as if anything not through the middle of the plate is meat for him. If already has been recorded of how he broke up the second game by hitting a homer on a ball that Pat Malone intended as a duster. Now Root says the same thing happened in the first game when Fox dumped a homer into the left center field bleachers. Root wanted to drive him away from the plate so threw one toward his head.

Root gives Fox credit for guessing just what was going to be thrown and setting himself to crack it. After this everything is going to be kept on the outside corner for the Maryland farmer boy.

THESE TWO A'S MAY SPELL TROUBLE

Rube Walberg is a likely starter for the Athletics today. He's a southpaw. Remember how the Cubs swung at Grove's tosses Wednesday? Connie Mack may remember also, and send another left hander right back.

Jack Quinn has been waiting spit-balls toward the plate for twenty-five years and may get a chance against the Cubs. Ehmke put his trick stuff over and Mack may look to Quinn to do the same.

Cubs and A's Lead Leagues in Fielding; Lag in Batting

New York, Oct. 10.—(U. P.)—Although the Philadelphia Athletics and Chicago Cubs, rivals in the present world series, have been described as the most powerful offensive clubs of recent years, final United Press averages for the 1929 season show that neither team led its league in team batting.

The Cubs finished the season with a .303 average to tie Pittsburgh for second place, six points behind the Phillies, who topped the National league with a .309 mark. The Athletics compiled an average of .295 and finished behind Detroit and New York, which took the first two places with averages of .300 and .296, respectively. The Cubs and Athletics topped their leagues in team fielding with identical averages of .975.

Neither pennant winner produced a batting champion. Lefty O'Doul, Philadelphia outfielder, topped the National league with a total of 400 and Lew Fonseca, Cleveland first baseman, taking individual honors in the American league with 359.

O'Doul, in addition to winning the batting championship, was one of five players to set new records in the National league. He cracked out 254 hits, four more than the previous record for a single year, held by Rogers Hornsby. Two other records held by Hornsby were surpassed, Charles Klein, Philadelphia, setting a new National league home run record of 43 and Hack Wilson, Chicago, batting home 153 runs, both marks being one higher than the league record held by Hornsby.

Hornsby took a hand in the record-setting by scoring 155 runs, topping the high figure of 144 set by Hansen Cuyler in 1925. Johnny Frederick, Brooklyn, established the fifth new record with 53 doubles, three more than the modern record of 50 made by Paul Waner in 1928.

American league players were less successful than their National league rivals in establishing records, failing to set a single new mark. The National league also produced the only hitless game of the season. Carl Hubbell, New York, was the successful pitcher.

"Lefty" Grove, Athletics southpaw, and Charley Root, Cubs right-hander, were the leading pitchers of the season. Grove topped his league with 21 victories and 40 strikeouts, while Root headed the National league with 19 wins and 6 losses.

Leaders in various phases of the game in the two leagues were:

Most home runs—Ruth, Yankees, 40.

ODDS 8 TO 5 A'S WIN TODAY; CUBS' MONEY SCARCE

The big plunkers in Chicago were offering 8 to 1 last night that the Philadelphia Athletics beat the Cubs put for the world baseball championship. The betting was at 5 to 4 that the Athletics win the third game this afternoon.

There was little Cub money on the series to be found at 8 to 1. The odds may go up to 10 to 1 before today's game starts.

CONNIE JUNIOR SHOWS FATHER'S TACT; NEEDS IT

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 10.—(U. P.)—Connie Mack may be sitting pretty with his Athletics and a two game lead in the world series, but his son is in a dilemma.

Connie Mack Jr., a tall, slender youth, is a regular end on the Germantown academy football team. Tomorrow his eleven plays Haverford. And yet tomorrow, too, his father will lead the A's into the third game of the world series with the Chicago Cubs. Young Mack is 17, a finely muscled youngster, and he knows his duty to his schoolmates. Then again there's the duty he owes his dad to be in there rooting for another Athletic triumph. He certainly doesn't want to miss his father's great moment.

Compromises have been necessary on both sides, but young McGillicuddy thinks he has the solution.

Femininity will come officially into its own tomorrow at the opening of the third game of the world series between the Cubs and Athletics at Shibe park. The A's have engaged 231 extra "usherettes" to help handle the women's vote.

Normally fifteen girl ushers are on duty at the American league ball park and twenty-five men. Tomorrow, however, is ladies day among the ushers at least, for the male contingent has been increased only to 105. Furthermore, married women will be in the majority among the ticket scanners.

"We feel that married women are most entitled to the $5 daily wage the job pays," say officials at the park.

The Chicago Cubs may suffer some hardships at the hands of the Athletics on the ball field but they could hardly ask for better treatment off the diamond. A special chef with two assistants will cook for the National league players and their families. They occupy one entire floor of their hotel with a private dining room pute as to whether the walls of the old houses would support the weight of formal bleachers with full loads of customers. It seems to have been decided that the walls are strong enough for this and by tomorrow afternoon the customers will know whether the engineers were right or wrong.

The baseball players are intensely interested in the financial statistics of the world series, and on the train from Chicago to Philadelphia Mr. Connie Mack's well-mannered young men perused the box office reports quite as earnestly as they studied box scores. Young Mr. Simmons, a Polish boy from Milwaukee who went to work at a tender age because his father died, ran his eyes over the item "players' share—$235,000.43" and leaned back with an expression of rapture.

He'll Be Even Fonder.

"I am very fond of our national game," Mr. Simmons said. His fondness will grow considerably before winter sets in, too, because he and Jimmy Fox, the young oyster opener from the Maryland eastern shore, are going on tour after the world series playing ball games on a long itinerary reaching to the Pacific slope, at a guaranteed rate of $1,000 per game, with an option on sixty per cent of the gross. Thus far James has hit two home runs and Al has hit one himself, and the boys realize that these feats will do their show no harm in the leaky roof ball parks within the next month.

The cares of journalism, in which most of them are technically engaged for the period of the world series, weigh lightly on them. I see articles in the papers attributed to almost all members of the club, but I have yet to detect any of these journalists sparring with a typewriter or even chewing among the accommodations. A private elevator to carry them to the clubhouse and a gymnasium and radio are among other comforts provided.

ing a pencil except to figure out sixty per cent of sixty per cent of some theoretical players' share, and divide that by twenty-five to arrive at a theoretical approximation of their dividends if they win. Jimmy Fox, one of the most prolific of the authors, received a compliment on this morning's composition as the Philadelphia papers were thrown aboard the train over in western Pennsylvania.

"That was a very fine article of yours," said Mr. Ralph Perkins, the aged catcher of 32.

"Thank you very much," said Mr. Fox, much pleased. "What does it say?"

Ehmke Will Be Back.

Howard Ehmke, the large, Polish boy from Milwaukee who struck out thirteen hitters in the first game, probably won considerably more than one ball game in so doing, for it seems quite likely that he will now be retained with the ball club for at least one year more. There was no likelihood of that before he pitched in the world series.

His wife, a delicate girl, who has been ill all summer, is improving now and in general you might say that things are looking up for the Ehmkes. Howard and Simmons were ostentatiously chummy on the train, wishing to be a published report that they had fallen out and that this rancor was responsible for Ehmke's omission from the team when the Athletics made their last western trip of the season.

"We have always been pals, haven't we, Al?" Mr. Ehmke said, winding his valuable pitching arm around Mr. Simmons' neck in an affectionate way. "Pals?" exclaimed Mr. Simmons. "More than pals. I am crazy about you."

"And moreover," said Mr. Ehmke, "I fixed some hitting soup for Al. Didn't I, Al?"

"You certainly did," Mr. Simmons said. "It was wonderful soup. Tell the gentleman about the soup."

How That Soup Worked.

"This soup is what I call hitting soup," Mr. Ehmke explained. "You know I am always inventing things and I got up this preparation to help the boys hit. I gave Al some one day and he got two triples and a home run, so I brought some to Chicago with me."

"It certainly worked, big boy," Mr. Simmons said.

"This secret preparation is a steady preparation for hitters," Mr. Ehmke resumed.

"You rub it on your hands and it draws your fingers close around the grip and it is remarkable to see a man begin to hit as soon as he tries it."

"It is wonderful stuff," Mr. Simmons testified.

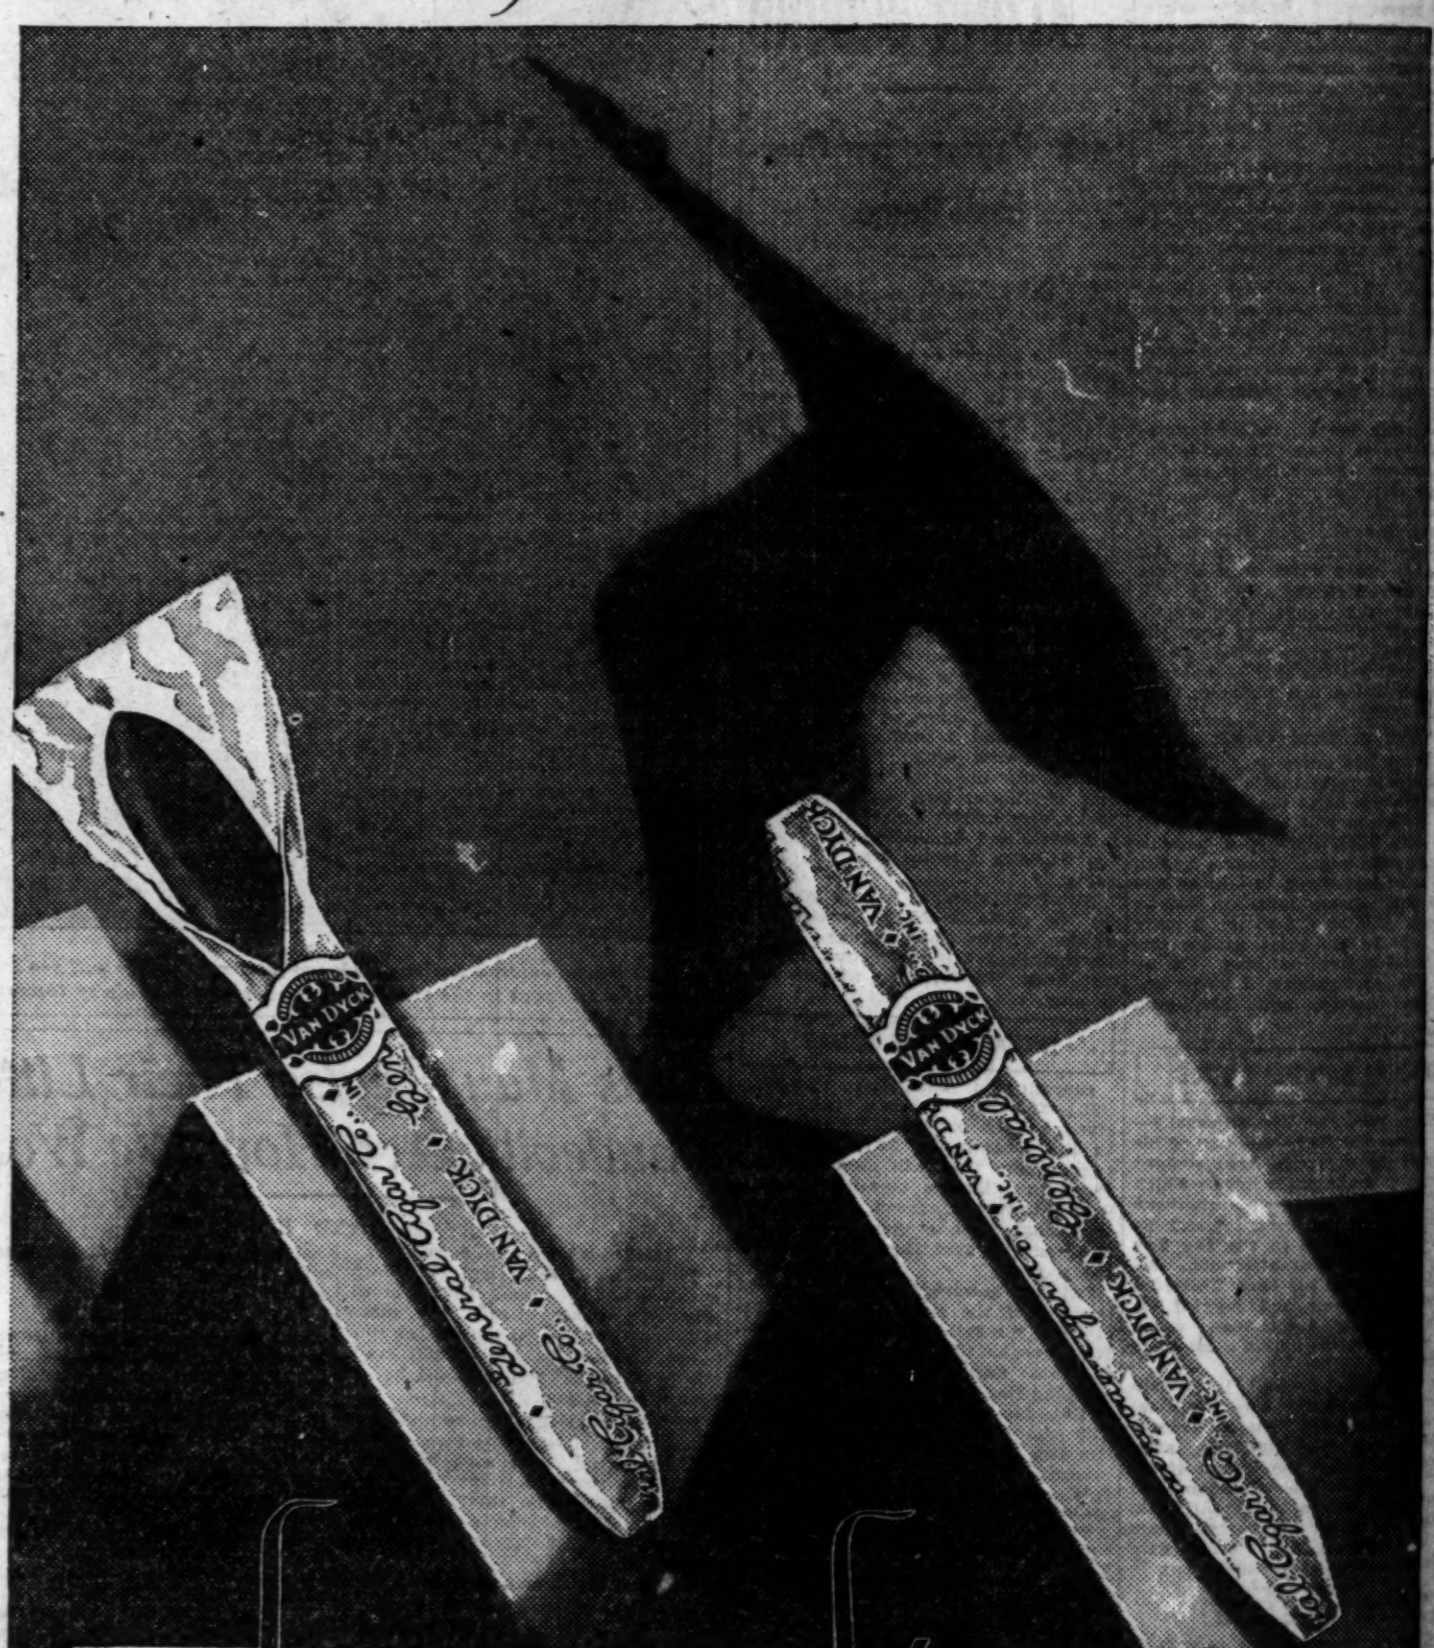

It appears that Mr. Ehmke is not a grifting inventor but a genuine inventor with a commercial mind and he is now arranging a laboratory in which to produce hitting soup in commercial quantities for a spring sales campaign, accompanied by testimonials from Simmons and Fox.

Just as Howard Planned.

Incidentally, Mr. Ehmke now states that his inventive mind conceived the exact plan by which he struck out 13 hitters and beat the Cubs as he was left behind in Philadelphia while the ball club toured the west. The Cubs came here to play a series with the Phillies and Mr. Ehmke attended the games with a pencil and note book, jotting down observations on all their hitters, with special attention to Hornsby, Wilson, and Cuyler.

"We had that game won before I ever stepped into the box," he said earnestly. "I pitched exactly as I had planned and the Cubs never had a chance. The trouble with most players is that they don't plan seriously. You have got to think things out and I tell you I nearly wore out my brain getting up this plan to beat the Cubs. But give Connie Mack the greatest credit. It takes a genius to recognize an invincible pitcher and he showed marvelous judgment when he picked me."

OHIO TESTS AIR ATTACK; OSHNER, FULL BACK, QUILTS

Coach Willaman Avoids Scrimmages.

Columbus, O., Oct. 10.—[Special.]—With emphasis on use of the forward pass in preparation for the Iowa game Saturday, Coach Sam Willaman today had his men heaving passes throughout most of the practice. Not once this week has Willaman had his charges scrimmage, preferring to avoid injuries. The Iowa squad is due to arrive here tomorrow morning and is scheduled to work out on Ohio field in the afternoon.

One of Willaman's hopes for the full back position, a constant source of worry to him, quit the squad today, Red Oshner, who started in the position against Wittenberg, turning in his suit. Athletic officials refused to comment on the action. It was believed that scholastic difficulties were responsible.

IOWA SQUAD DEPARTS.
Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 10.—[Special.]—Thirty-seven University of Iowa football players entrained today for their opening Big Ten battle against Ohio State at Columbus Saturday. An hour's forward pass defensive drill kept the Hawkeyes busy until departing time.

Neither Captain Glasgow, halfback, nor Brice Thomas, fullback, took part in the scrimmage. Coach Willaman hopes to start both of them Saturday, with Pape, halfback, and Sansen, fullback, as alternative choices. Others in his starting lineup include Reedquist and Rogge, ends; Westra and Ely, tackles; Myers and Roberts, guards; Magnusen, center; Jensen, quarter; and Farroh, halfback.

WALKER RETURNS TO I. U.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 10.—[Special.]—Frank Walker's return to active practice at Illinois after an extended absence because of an injured ankle made a workout in the rain seem brighter today. Despite a wet, slippery gridiron, Walker ran signals with one of Kuppke's eleven and indicated he will soon be in shape again. Last year, as a halfback, he was one of the most consistent ground gainers for the Illini.

During the first few weeks of practice Walker hurt his ankle running after a street car. It is doubtful if he will be used against Bradley, but he probably will be ready for the opening of the Illini Big Ten schedule at Iowa City, Oct. 19.

Big Red Lewis, who won his letter at end last year, is making a bid for the position of general utility man. He was at center for a while, and now has been shifted to tackle. Although Bradley must be met Saturday before work is concentrated on Iowa, the coaches already are making preparations for one of the season's toughest battles against the Hawkeyes.

Blues Defeat Red Wings; Lead Series

Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Reigning batting strength, Kansas City treated five Rochester pitchers to a lesson in hitting today as the American Association title holders won the seventh game of the Little World series, 9 to 1. The victory gave Kansas City a lead of four games to three with the eighth game to be played Saturday.

Bag Limit Not Increased by Paid "Pusher" Foul Costs Tommy Grogan Decision in Greenberg Bout

BY BOB BECKER.

Uncle Sam's game protectors are on the trail of the duck hunters who put an assistant in a duck boat and then sail forth to the blind with the intention of shooting twice the legal state allowance or 20 birds in the course of a day's hunt.

This practice is against the law, according to the federal regulations as printed in the official bulletin of the department of agriculture. The federal bag limit on ducks is 25, which is ten more than the state limit. But that 25 if a hunter is going to take a chance on getting away with a federal limit includes all birds that may be taken by an "assistant" or "pusher," as they call 'em in the duck country.

Here is the regulation: "A person may take in any one day during the open seasons prescribed therefore in regulation 4 not to exceed the following numbers of migratory game birds, which numbers shall include all birds taken by any other person who for hire accompanies or assists him in taking migratory birds—ducks (except wood and elder ducks—twenty-five in the aggregate of all kinds.)"

The phrasing of this regulation makes it plain that shooting a state limit of 15 birds for a duck boat pusher may mean trouble with Uncle Sam if the hunter's bag is inspected.

The maximum number of ducks which he may have in his possession when the federal wardens show up is twenty-five.

YALE GRIDDERS MOVE SOUTH FOR GEORGIA GAME
New York, Oct. 10.—(U.P.)—Yale's varsity eleven left for the southland today to meet the stalwart Georgia team Saturday.

Such long distance traveling is something new to Yale. Usually Yale trips are brief affairs entailing forays into neighboring fields. This time the New Haven boys are to help the University of Georgia dedicate a new stadium at Athens.

Despite pessimistic utterances from the Eli coaching staff, including Head Coach Mal Stevens, everything is in Yale's favor to win Saturday. In the first place, Georgia will be facing their new stadium jinx. There are those who believe no team can dedicate a stadium and win.

Albie Booth, touted Yale back field man, has been placed on the substitute list. Booth weighs less than 145 pounds. Although only a sophomore, he was supposed to be the big Yale star. Now, it seems, Booth will be used only at certain stages of the game.

MARQUETTE GRID TEAM DRILLS FOR GRINNELL GAME

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 10.—[Special.]—The greatest worry of Coach Frank J. Murray of the Marquette university football team is that overconfidence may creep into the local squad, and he is exerting every effort to prevent it.

Murray's contention is that scrimmage against the freshmen and the lopsided win over Lawrence last week were not real tests for the Golden Avalanche, and he wants to wait until after the Grinnell tilt Saturday and the night skirmish with Iowa State, Oct. 18, before passing judgment.

Reserves spent most of this afternoon in scrimmage against the Grinnell spinner plays and passes, while the regis drilled up and down the field on signals and formations.

No injuries have hit Marquette thus far, and Murray will be able to start his regular lineup against the Pioneers. The Grinnell squad will arrive here tomorrow morning, and will take an afternoon workout on the Marquette field.

BIG TEN FAILS TO ACT ON FUHRMAN REINSTATEMENT
Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 10.—[Special.]—Hopes for the reinstatement by the Western conference of John Fuhrman, veteran guard, who was declared ineligible last night on professionalism charges, faded today at a meeting of the University of Iowa athletic council.

The board received word from Prof. Thomas French of Ohio State university, member of the Big Ten eligibility committee, that that group had no power to act on such a reinstatement plea.

Since this is Fuhrman's third season with the Hawkeyes, and since the Big Ten meeting will not be held until the close of the football schedule, C. C. Williams, Iowa athletic board head, said he saw no way to win Fuhrman's reinstatement.

BROKERS' LOANS
REVERSE TREND,
SHOW DECLINEUnfilled Orders of U. S. Steel Gain.

BY O. A. MATHER.

For the first time in a number of weeks, today will not be a "blue Friday" for stock market followers. In fact, the chief news yesterday was so cheerful, taken as a whole, that Wall street La Salle streets could hardly believe it true.

First, the United States Steel corporation reported a gain of 224,370 tons in unfilled orders for September. The statement caught everybody unawares, for a decline of 200,000 to 300,000 tons had been commonly predicted, based on reported slackening in demand and lower mill operating schedules.

Then, after the stock markets had closed, the federal reserve board's weekly report on brokers' loans came out and showed a decline of $1,000,000. It was the first time in eight weeks that a decline had occurred. Still later, the New York Federal Reserve bank announced no change in its 6 per cent rediscount rate and the weekly condition statement of the federal reserve system showed a strengthening, with the member banks reducing their borrowings sharply. Previously, the Bank of England had announced no change in its discount rate.

Increase Is Novelty.
The novelty of an increase in the U. S. Steel corporation's forward orders, which had declined for the four preceding months, sent the dopests leaping for reasons.

Largely orders for rails and railway equipment during the last half of September, coupled with the fact that mill operations were cut to 85 per cent of capacity, were assigned as the prime causes. Anyway, unfilled orders in Sept. 30 totaled 3,905,551 tons, which compares with the high point of 4,417,728 on April 30 and 5,595,355 tons on Sept. 30, 1928.

The report on brokers' loans showed a total of $4,713,000,000 being loaned by the New York reserve member banks. The first effect of the report was disappointment at the smallness of the decline, in view of last week's sharp decline in stock prices and the aggregate increase of $852,000,000 during the seven preceding weeks.

There had been estimates of a decline ranging from $100,000,000 to $1,000,000,000. But last week again was marked by a large amount of new financing and consequent increased demand. The loan total still stands $2,125,000,000 above a year ago.

The decline in brokers' loans was due entirely to withdrawals by the banks. The New York banks reduced their own loans by $38,000,000, although they still are lending $104,000,000 more than a year ago. Interior banks cut their loans by $27,000,000 but their expansion still is $24,000,000 for a year.

Reduce Borrowings.
On the other hand, corporations and other lenders turned in an additional $1,000,000,000, bringing their loans up to $1,101,000,000 compared with a year ago.

The condition statement of the fed-

Traffic on Lake Michigan
Growing, U. S. Survey Shows

BY SCRUTATOR.

Figures oftentimes make dull reading. But only by the use of statistics can the growing traffic of the lake ports at the lower end of Lake Michigan be accurately described.

New data by the United States engineer's office at Chicago, recently approved by Washington and to be published soon, show that in 1928 the incoming and outgoing lake shipments from the ports extending from Waukegan to Michigan City expanded by about twelve million tons over the 1927 traffic.

The port of Chicago, which includes South Chicago as well as the area touching the Chicago river, increased from 14,095,519 tons to 17,808,925 tons, the entire 1928 shipments, about fourteen and a half million tons were brought in and the remainder sent out. The value of the merchandise handled in shipping on the lakes was fixed officially at more than a quarter of a billion dollars.

Calumet River Tonnage.
Tonnage in the Calumet river and harbor, which was eleven and a half millions in 1927, grew almost to fifteen and three-quarter millions in 1928. The value of this particular section's incoming and outgoing goods reached over thirty-one million dollars. Indiana Harbor in the latter year had shipping of 7,359,523 tons, valued at fifty-four million dollars, against 5,787,919 tons, worth forty millions, in 1927. Ore and coal for steel operations furnished the bulk of the water traffic in the southern part of the metropolitan area.

Gary's tonnage, largely ore, coal and limestone, increased from the 1927 figure of 5,296,985 tons to 7,231,643. The products handled showed a growth in value from eighteen to twenty-four million dollars. Buffington's shipping, also almost exclusively composed of materials for steel trade, grew 300,000 tons to 1,652,520. Waukegan's tonnage, although it was only 267,000, was still eral reserve system showed that the member banks reduced their borrowings by $1,257,000, bringing the total down to $457,396,000. The reserve banks aided the credit situation a trifle by taking an additional $10,335,000 of bankers' acceptances, although they reduced their holdings of government securities by $4,994,000. Deposits dropped $53,301,000, but note circulation rose $1,133,000.

Gold and total reserves increased $29,435,000 and $20,565,000, respectively, and the ratio of reserves to liabilities rose to 74.4 per cent, compared with 72.7 per cent last week. The gold movement at the port of New York resulted in a net gain of $2,497,000 for the week, although there was an increase of $1,000,000 in gold earmarked for foreign account.

Reports of Banks.

The report of the New York reserve bank showed a decline of $20,420,000 in member bank borrowings, due entirely to a reduction of $35,000,000 by the city banks. Total borrowings now stand at $131,193,000. Bankers' acceptances increased $24,235,000, while deposits dropped $53,411,000. Reserves increased $9,417,000 and the reserve ratio rose to 85.3 per cent, compared with 81 per cent a week ago.

At Chicago, member bank borrowings declined $27,194,000, with the city banks reducing their takings by $21,000,000. The total now stands at $125,617,000. Bankers' acceptances increased $9,781,000, and deposits receded $6,446,000. Reserves increased $9,407,000, and the reserve ratio rose to 78.1 per cent, compared with 73.7 per cent a week ago.

At Chicago, member bank borrow-

Other Lake Cities.
Figures on Ludington, Muskegon, Milwaukee, and Grand Haven are not available here for 1928, but the 1927 figures showed them all to be important shipping points and it is fair to assume that Milwaukee, and possibly all of them, had a great upswing last year. Milwaukee's tonnage by water in 1927 exceeded eight million; Ludington's two million and Grand Haven's one million. One-fourth of Milwaukee's shipping was car ferry movements and the majority of Ludington's and Grand Haven's were the same.

So far as this column is aware, no collection of figures on lake shipping has been made for these ports in 1929. The engineer's office does not attempt to gather its annual figures until the end of the year. But the shipping men maintain that there has been a great increase this year over 1928. Important shipments of sugar from New York and Philadelphia and a large increase in newspaper paper receipts have occurred.

Sugar from Philadelphia.
It is significant that a number of barge loads of sugar have come in the same bottoms from Philadelphia to docking facilities in Chicago through the open sea, the Hudson river, the New York barge canals and the great lakes. Return cargoes have been furnished the barges by a condensed milk concern. Milwaukee and the other ports have shared in the same traffic. In the same way they all will share in the benefits of the lakes to the gulfs waterway. The proven feasibility of boats that can navigate both canals and lakes makes it certain that all ports along the shores of Lake Michigan will be benefited by the canals to the south and that Chicago has no more to gain from its completion than they have.

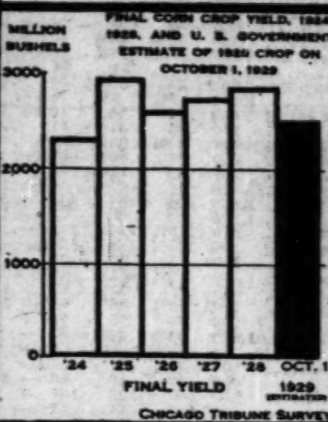

BANK OF REPUBLIC
OFFERS NEW MELON
WORTH OVER 5 MILLION

Still another melon in the form of stock purchase rights worth more than $5,000,000 was announced by the National Bank of the Republic last night. The directors voted to increase the capital stock from $10,000,000 to $10,500,000, or from 500,000 to 525,000 shares of $20 par value, and called a stockholders' meeting for Nov. 20 to ratify the proposal.

Stockholders of record Dec. 3 will be offered one additional share at $20 for each twenty shares held and rights must be exercised by Dec. 16. At yesterday's market price around 244 for the present shares, the subscription rights would be worth about $10.67 a share and the total value on the number of shares now outstanding would be $5,355,000.

Paramount Quarterly
Net Shows Big Increase

New York, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Paramount-Famous-Lasky corporation reported for its third quarter this year a consolidated net profit of $4,600,000, an increase of 115 per cent over the corresponding quarter in 1928. The figures include earnings of subsidiary companies after deduction of all charges and taxes.

Merger of Chicago Stock, Curb Exchanges Seen Near

Plans for the establishment of interlocking boards of governors in the Chicago Stock exchange and the Chicago Curb exchange which may lead to an eventual merger of the two will be discussed next Tuesday at a meeting between R. Arthur Wood, president of the Chicago exchange, and Adolph Kempner, president of the Curb Market association.

Arrangements for the meeting were completed yesterday and if the session is successful from the viewpoint of an interlocking directorate idea, the plan will be another step in the expansion of the Chicago exchange, already the principal security mart of the middle west.

Easier to Negotiate.

Enthusiasm pointed out that such a plan if arrived at gradually would be easier to negotiate than a merger of the exchange with the Board of Trade. Feeling between members of the Board of Trade and the stock exchange have not been of the best since the Board of Trade refused to refrain from duplicating listings already on the Chicago Stock exchange board.

On the other hand, the Chicago Curb Exchange association grew from nothing to its present size in less than two years. Its policy during its expansion has led to a friendly position between it and the Chicago Stock exchange. Merged with the stock exchange, it is argued, the curb would become a greater proving ground for new securities than now.

Stock exchange executives are planning to take steps toward enlarging the board of governors. One reason is to give the new out of town members representation on the board. It has been suggested that three governors be added to the board. Bullish Argentine news ignored. Export demand slow. Losses 1 1/2% @ 1 1/2%. December, 1.35@1.35 1/2; May, 1.45@1.45 1/2.

New York, Oct. 10.—An unexpected increase in the unfilled orders of the United States Steel corporation; easy money at 5 per cent call rate; increased dividends in various quarters, and a declining oil output provided the ammunition for an old fashioned bull killing on the stock exchange today. Short traders were trapped right and left and the slaughter was fearful. The sudden appearance of huge buying orders sent U. S. Steel skyrocketing for some 12 1/2 points, and a long list of other so-called "rich men's" stocks spurted spasmodically in the wake of the old line leader came once more into its own. Johns-Manville, Consolidated Gas, General Electric, [Continued on page 31, column 1.]

...this UNION
POLICY AND PRINCIPLE

GREAT resources and physical size alone do not make a great bank. It was not merely an attempt to achieve great size that led to the union of these two Chicago institutions. Since their beginnings, both have been dominated by the same ideals, both have become known in Chicago as holding the same concepts of public service.

So closely parallel, in fact, are the policies and principles upon which these two banks were founded, that union seems the natural sequence. For through union there accrue advantages which will result in an even finer type of service.

The new institution will have an invested capital of $38,000,000 and resources of over $220,000,000. Physically, this institution will be one of the world's truly complete banking establishments.

Much as these great resources and physical size will mean, a deeper significance is attached to them because underneath will remain that true spirit of service which always has been a dominating ideal in the history of these banks.

Fifty years ago—the State Bank of Chicago was founded. Its avowed principle since the beginning has been to render a service which would win by merit the lifelong loyalty of its patrons.

Sixty-seven years ago—The Foreman National Bank was founded. Through the years the founders of this bank have likewise had as their ideal... a human, friendly, personal service.

Through union, the high ideals of these two institutions will find even more opportunities for expression. The union will result in a bank of even greater warmth and friendliness, and still greater service to all who enter its doors.

To the patrons of both banks we jointly pledge the same personal attention, in the new and greater institution.

will accrue to stockholders of record on Nov. 7, 1929, in the ratio of one to ten. Orders placed at once will participate in these rights and show the purchaser an immediate profit of $20 to $21 per share. Our assistance in exercising this privilege will be given without cost or obligation to all who apply, regardless of when or where the stock was bought.

CITIES SERVICE COMPANY, with assets in excess of NINE HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS, is among the country's largest corporations and, in point of size, its stockholders list is second in the world.

The Company's earnings continue to mount, with developments in its oil and natural gas activities forecasting still greater returns. Net for the twelve months ended August 31, 1929, were the largest in the Company's history.

The principle of diversification of holdings, so strongly recommended and so favorably accepted, is well cared for in ownership of CITIES SERVICE COMMON stock. With more than 100 subsidiaries, providing various types of service in 33 states and in Canada, Mexico and Europe, a very broad diversification both as to sources of income and geographical location of properties is provided.

Every purchaser of Cities Service Common who has held his stock has profited through market advance regardless of temporary set backs. It is significant that this stock held consistently firm, in sharp contrast with declining values in the recent market flurry.

We recommend immediate purchase in this advancing market. Stock purchased and paid for at once will carry November 1st dividend. Orders may be telephoned or telegraphed at our expense.

CHICAGO STOCKS SELL HIGHER IN ORDERLY MOVE

Ken-Rad Tube Is Up on Merger Talk.

BY GEORGE HAMMOND.

Chicago stock prices were mostly higher yesterday, although the volume of transactions continued on a reduced scale. The net gain generally was modest, the market falling to emulate the wild bullish demonstration which a 5 per cent call rate brought to New York.

Ken-Rad Tube was a feature of the radio list, pushing up 2 1/2 points on reports that negotiations are about to be completed for the acquisition of the company by National Union Radio. The latter concern recently announced that it plans to take over several additional companies. National Union advanced a point. Grigsby-Gruenewald was up 1/4 and U. S. Radio gained 1/8.

Offer's Rights.

Allied Motor Industries was unchanged at 4 3/8. Holders of both the common and preferred stocks will be notified today of the issuance of rights to purchase additional stock at $15.00 a share on the basis of one share for each five shares held as of Oct. 25.

On the basis of last night's close the rights are worth about $2 a share. The rights will expire on Nov. 25. The sale of additional stock will add around $1,500,000 to the company's working capital.

Katz Drug featured the general list with a rise of 7/8 points coupled with announcement of the opening of a new store in Kansas City and rumors of a big expansion program. Hornell Packing, Gleason Combine Harvester and Heli Printing were up a point or two. Initial trading in McGraw Electric was registered at around 39.

Central Public Service A was unchanged. Albert E. Peirce president, announced last night that the company has just acquired the public utility holdings of the Dawes interests. These companies are the Seattle Lighting company, New York and Richmond Gas company and the Central Indiana Gas company.

The aggregate gross earnings of the three come to about $5,500,000 annually, which will bring the gross of Central Public Service up to about $26,000,000. The properties were acquired on a cash basis, no financing or exchange of stock being involved. The acquisitions increase the properties held by Central Public Service by about 25 per cent.

Gains Five Points.

Middle West Utilities did stock gained five points while the new was up a point. General Water Works advanced three points and Community Water Service was 1/4 higher. Associated Telephone Utilities closed up 1 1/2 points.

Initial trading in Central Illinois Securities, the new Dawes investment trust, ranged between an opening price of 35 and a close of 40. Initial Utility Investments was up 1 1/2 and North West Bancorporation climbed 1 1/2 on announcement that stockholders had approved an increase in the capitalization of from $75,000,000 to $100,000,000 and the offering of 150,000 additional shares to holders of record Oct. 30 at $72.50 a share.

Cities Service was active but eased a fraction. Directors voted rights valued at $50,000,000. Stockholders were offered rights to subscribe to additional stock at $45 a share in the ratio of one share for each ten shares held. The rights are worth about $2 each based on the closing price.

September Sales Higher.

National Family Stores reported September sales of $586,668 against $149,410 a year ago. For the eight months ended Sept. 30 sales totaled $3,831,187 against $820,446.

John R. Thompson was up a fraction on a 100 share lot sale. The company reported September sales of $1,281,854 compared with $1,155,480 a year ago. The total sales for the first nine months of the year were $11,772,111 against $10,854,852.

GARARD TRUST TO FINANCE FLATS AT 69TH-H-CRANON

Work to Start at Once on 13 Story Building.

Arrangements for financing the thirteen story apartment building announced this department recently as contemplated for the southwest corner of 69th street and Crandon avenue were completed yesterday. The Garard Trust company is to underwrite a bond issue of $935,000 for twelve years at 6 per cent. It is stated that the investment will be in the neighborhood of $1,000,000.

A syndicate headed by John F. Ryan, south side real estate man, will erect the structure, which will consist of twenty-two flats of four, five and six rooms each. Leichenko, & Ryan are architects. Work is scheduled to start at once, with completion about Aug. 1, 1930.

Sell Two Glencoe Houses.
William J. Pickard and Mrs. G. P. Fuller, Evanston realty operators, report the sale of two residences immediately upon completion of the Skokie Country club district of Glencoe by a building syndicate they organized. R. K. Williams bought the house at 565 Woodlawn for a reported $11,000, and Donald W. Rogers purchased the residence at 577 Woodlawn for a reported $13,000. Mr. Lewis of Mrs. Fuller's office was broker in one transaction, and Mr. Pickard's office sold the other.

School Board Lease.
The board of education has leased by a term of five years space on the second floor of the Hotel Sherman building at 130 West Lake street for the storage of the board's cars. A private line will connect the garage with the board's offices in the Steuben building.

Ernest Buehler has purchased the three story and English basement building containing thirteen apartments at the northwest corner of Wacker and Winnetka from J. H. Greenberg for a reported consideration of $71,500. Phillips & Co. were brokers for both parties.

BUILDING SHOWS LARGE DROP IN ILLINOIS CITIES

Building permits for forty-four cities and towns in Illinois for September showed a decline in valuation of nearly $1,000,000 from the preceding month and $10,500,000 from September, 1928. The figures represented 16 more buildings than in August and 9 more than in September a year ago, but the cost was much less in both cases. The 1929 September total for all Illinois cities was $17,927,051; for August, $18,342,149; and for September of last year $23,432,463.

Butler Bros. Subsidiary Signs for 11 New Leases

News and Gossip of Stock Markets

Hits New High.

American Tobacco reached a new high on sporadic buying waves yesterday. One statistician has calculated an increase of $5 a share in earnings, based on the higher price for cigarettes, provided sales volume is maintained.

Is Closely Held.

Ludlum's spectacular spurs reflect a steadily declining floating supply. There are 188,000 shares outstanding, but much of this is closely held and not available for market purposes. The company earned 35 cents a share in 1928, with the present year's earnings running at a $10 rate. Prospects are good for a further large gain next year. It is said that two important automobile manufacturers shortly will announce the use of "norosta," a product of Ludlum, in place of nickel and chromium plate now being used.

Scents Bargain.

The head of one Wall street firm yesterday sent out the following wire: "If Nash Motors, earning about $5 a share and selling at 78, with about $50,000,000 in cash in the treasury, isn't cheap, then I don't know what is cheap." Studebaker, selling around 62 and paying $5 and also a stock dividend, has about $40,000,000 in cash and is showing good earnings. Yet there hasn't been any great rush for either stock in a long time.

Gold Dust's Position.

Gold Dust, according to one broker, should reflect in the near future the cumulative effects of recent expansion. As of Aug. 31, last, the company was in satisfactory financial condition. Total current assets stood at $3,418,412, of which $1,117,043 was cash. Current liabilities were $1,302,310.

Outlook Favorable.

The outlook for the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railway's junior securities, including the preferred and common shares, is becoming increasingly favorable from an earnings standpoint. Judging from present indications the road may close the current year with a balance of between $7 and $8 a share on the preferred stock, or $3 to $3 on the common, after allowing 5 per cent on the preferred issue.

Would Influence Trend.

The old story about a plan to wipe out back dividends on Missouri Pacific preferred is being revived. These are now being paid off gradually. Missouri Pacific is expected to show between $11 and $12 a share for 1929. Any bullish plan relative to the preferred stock would naturally influence the trend of the junior securities.

See Lower Reducement.

It is rumored that the Federal Reserve Bank of New York may be inclined to revise its policy regarding the money situation in the light of recent developments and reduce its rediscount rate from the present level of 6 per cent to 5 per cent in the financial district yesterday. The reserve bank officials in accordance with custom made no comment.

WATER SUPPLY CONSOLIDATION.
Consolidation of twenty-seven water supply subsidiaries of the American States Public Service company is planned by the Pacific coast division of the company. It was announced today. All of the subsidiaries involved operate in the vicinity of Los Angeles.

OWENS-ILL. GLASS, CONTINENTAL CAN CO. PLAN MERGER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
New York, Oct. 10.—Plans for consolidation of the Owens-Illinois Glass company, formerly the Owens Bottle company, and the Continental Can company have been approved by directors of both concerns. Formation of a new company, Continental Containers, Inc., as a holding company in the container field, was announced today.

Continental Can and Owens-Illinois have been expanding steadily this year. The former recently secured virtual control of the largest container manufacturer in Cuba.

It is expected that the two companies will continue to be operated independently in their respective fields. It is contemplated that the holding company, which will have authorized capitalization of 5,000,000, no par shares, will acquire by exchange the common stocks of the constituent companies on a share for share basis. Directors of the new company will include the boards of the existing companies. Proposed consolidation will become effective if two-thirds of the common shares of each company approve. It is understood that the new company will obtain additional funds through offering subscription rights to shareholders making the exchange.

OPEN BRANCH OFFICE.
Evans, Seares and company, Chicago investment bankers, announce the opening of a branch office at Cedar Rapids, Ia., and that Harvey C. Leason, R. H. Ewing, and Harold W. Johannes have become associated with the firm.

Estimated receipts at Chicago today, 2,000 cattle, 17,000 hogs, and 10,000 sheep.

Medium and weighty hogs held firm again yesterday, while light ruled weak to 25c lower, closing at the low point of the day. Medium weight butchers outlasted top light for the first time of the season.

Conditions were the reverse in the cattle division, where heavy steers were neglected at further price cuts of 15¢ to 25¢, while light weights and yearlings sold under brisk competition at gains of mostly 15¢ to 25¢. Cattle averaging 1,000 lbs. are selling 50¢ to $1.00 above 1,500 lbs. steers of similar quality and finish.

Range of hog prices reached the narrowest point since June when light hogs dropped mostly 15¢ to 20¢ more yesterday, bringing the extreme top down to $10.25, equaling the lowest since Feb. 8.

Holds Average Steady.
Strength in weighty hogs and the larger proportion of light weights in offerings, held the general average steady at $9.70, within 5¢ of the highest in nearly two weeks.

Quality continues fairly good, but the number of hogs averaging over 250 lbs is smallest of the season. However, there is no oversupply of under-

American Sumatra Tobacco.

W. H. G.: American Sumatra Tobacco corporation grows, purchases and distributes tobacco in Connecticut, Massachusetts, Georgia, and Florida. It also owns the capital stocks of American Sumatra Tobacco corporation of Georgia and American Sumatra Tobacco company of Massachusetts. The corporation's income for the year ended July 31, 1929, was larger than that for the preceding fiscal year, but the increase was due to profits from the sale of excess properties and other nonrecurring items. Operating profit was $251,727, against $597,659 the year before.

Other income was $524,767, against $105,869 the year before. Net income available for dividends amounted to $715,494, equivalent to $2.94 per share on 216,300 shares of no par common stock, after preferred dividend requirements were provided for. Net income in the preceding fiscal year was $454,028, or $2.02 per share on 175,000 common shares.

All outstanding 7 per cent preferred stock, par $100, was called for redemption on June 1, 1929. Funds for the retirement of the preferred were provided by increasing the number of common shares outstanding to 216,300. As of July 31, 1929, earned surplus was $1,370,550 and capital surplus $2,576,782.

Current assets were $4,037,595 and current liabilities were $200,823, leaving a net working capital of $3,837,072. Dividends on the preferred were $3 per year. This stock is semi-speculative.

weights and pigs. After the lower price basis had been established, demand widened and with only 17,000 estimated for today, some of the 7,000 left at the close were being held off of the market.

With the exception of high priced specialties, the market for cattle moved slowly at recent declines, with only occasional sales above $15.75. Top yearlings averaged 1,044 lbs. at $15.50, highest in over two weeks.

Prime weighty steers stopped at $15.75, although many loads of medium quality 1,300@1,500 lb. steers are selling around $13.00, which show 25¢ to 50¢ loss since a week ago. Yearlings are up 25¢ to 50¢ for the week. Cows and heifers showed little change yesterday. Calves were steady and stockers and feeders strong.

Lambs Hold Gains.
The lamb market proved an active affair and held all of the recent sharp advance, prices showing gains of 50¢ to $1.00 since the low spot the middle of last week. Arrivals yesterday exceeded expectations slightly, but met early clearance at steady to strong prices, some eastern orders running short at the close.

An advance estimate of only 10,000 for today added zest to the late trade. Good to choice natives sold at $13.00@13.50, with city butchers taking a load at $13.60, while most westerns brought Central States Electric Corporation.

W. F. C.: Central States Electric Corporation reported gross of $3,542,417 for August, 1929, which compares with $3,323,479 gross for August, 1928. For the twelve months ended August 31, 1929, gross amounted to $39,885,689, against $33,450,189 for the preceding twelve months.

After charges and provision for preferred dividends, there remained a surplus of $25,004,221, available for common dividends and reserves. This would equal $1.13 per share on the 22,270,544 no par common shares outstanding. For the twelve months ended Aug. 31, 1928, earnings were equal to $1.24 per share on the smaller number of common shares then outstanding.

Dividends on the common are 30 cents per year. In addition, special common stock dividends are being paid at the annual rate of 6 per cent. The common stock deserves a fairly good rating.

Inland Utilities, Inc.

F. H. I.: Inland Utilities, Inc. (Delaware), $3,350,000 five year convertible 6 per cent debentures, dated June 1, 1929, and due June 1, 1934, are the direct obligation of the company and constitute its only funded debt, subject to divisional liens of $18,000. The consolidated balance sheet shows total assets of $7,744,483, which, after deduction for divisional liens and minority interests in subsidiaries, is equivalent to more than $2,000 for each $1,000 debenture.

Net income in 1928, before income tax, was $501,721. Interest on the debentures amounts to $195,000. These debentures are somewhat speculative.

Underwood Elliott Fisher

Earnings Up 56 Per Cent
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 10.—The Underwood Elliott Fisher company reported today a 56 per cent increase in net earnings for the first three quarters of 1929 over the same 1928 period. Consolidated net income for the nine months ended Sept. 30 was $4,711,533, after all charges and federal tax, equal after preferred dividends to $6.36 a share on 696,338 no par common shares outstanding. This compares with $3,014,346 or $4.16 a share on 655,410 no par common shares in the same 1928 period.

The following information has been summarized by Mr. D. P. Hamilton, president of the Root Refining Company, from letter dated October 2, 1929, copies of which may be obtained upon request and is subject to more complete information contained therein.

BUSINESS AND PROPERTIES: Root Refining Company, a Delaware corporation, specializes in the manufacture of a high grade anti-knock gasoline and is one of the few independent refiners authorized by the Ethyl Gasoline Corporation to manufacture and distribute "Ethyl Gas." The business also includes the producing, buying, selling and transporting of crude petroleum and the manufacture of other products, including kerosene, heavy lubricating oils, fuel oil, road oils, various grades of paint-ers, cleaners and solvent naphthas, etc. The sales territory embraces the states of Arkansas, Louisiana, Kansas, Missouri, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee and the southeastern states. The company also exports its products to the foreign coastwise trade.

The Company owns a refinery located near Eldorado, Arkansas, which comprises topping and cracking plants and an absorption plant, all of which are modern and highly efficient. At present the refinery is producing approximately 130,000 gallons of gasoline daily. An additional refinery unit of a new type was completed early in 1929, this has further reduced operating costs of the refinery, which now compare favorably with those of similar plants. The refinery is advantageously located within five to fifteen miles of important oil fields, including the Smackover field, East field and Rainbow (Champaign) field, and is connected with this crude oil supply by a system of pipe lines owned by the company, aggregating approximately 50 miles and having a daily capacity of approximately 40,000 barrels of crude oil.

The Company owns, or has an interest in the production from, leases having a daily settled production of about 1,800 barrels of crude oil and has full or fractional interests in leases on more 400 acres of undeveloped land. In addition to the above crude oil supply, the pipe lines of the company give access to the properties of many producers, including the Pure Oil Company and Sun Company, with whom very amicable relations are enjoyed and with whom the company has contracts for the purchase of crude oil.

EARNINGS: The net income of the Company and its predecessor for the three years and six months ended June 30, 1929, after deducting depreciation (based on cost for the three years ended December 31, 1928, and on appraised values thereafter) and provision for Federal Income taxes, as certified by Messrs. Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., was as follows:

Year ended December 31, 1926.....	$219,688.64
Year ended December 31, 1927.....	11,226.19
Year ended December 31, 1928.....	528,326.98
Six months ended June 30, 1929.....	400,991.60

After deducting from net profits as above for the six months ended June 30, 1929, an amount equivalent to six months' dividend requirements of the outstanding Prior Preference and Preferred stocks, the balance is equivalent to $3.12 per share earned on the outstanding common stock for the six months' period, or at the annual rate of $6.24 per share. In common with other refining companies, the Company showed only a small profit for 1927.

Such common stock as was offered privately was purchased from individuals and represented no new corporate financing.

THIS outstanding quality motor fuel is colored blue to help you identify it and protect you from imitations.

Is it not a fair assumption that no other refiner would follow our lead and market a blue gasoline except with intent to deceive?

4 U. OF ILLINOIS BOYS CLEARED IN BURGLARY CASE

Students Ask Hearing for Their Ousted Leaders.

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 10.—[Special.]—Petitions demanding that University of Illinois authorities either give ousted student organization officers an opportunity to present their side of the case or reinstate them were being circulated on the Illinois campus by scores of students today.

Ten student organization officials were removed from office by the university council of administration as the result of "disgraceful episodes" in connection with class elections held last Friday. Four leaders of the Old Line party were arrested and charged with burglary.

Plaintiff Pays Costs.
The quietest, C. F. Edwards of Kansas City, Mo.; Y. L. Kretschmer of Elgin, Ill.; W. K. Jordan of Oak Park, Ill., and William M. Cameron of River Forest, Ill., were cleared in city police court this afternoon. Judge George James dismissed the charge of burglary for lack of evidence and ordered the costs, amounting to $25.60, assessed against John Granata of Chicago, leader of the Independent party and the plaintiff in the case.

Granata said tonight that he is glad the case was dismissed, as he is satisfied the men named were not the ones guilty of breaking into the Independent party's headquarters and carrying off campaign supplies.

Cleanup Is Expected.
Students removed from office as a result of the turmoil now assert that they will take the matter to the state legislature if they are not given a hearing by university authorities. Among those ousted were C. F. Edwards, head of Illinois Union; Thomas A. Watson, senior president; and James W. Ashby, sophomore president.

A wholesale cleanup of student politics is expected. The next meeting of the council of administration will be next Tuesday evening.

FORMER KING OF AFGHANS PASSES UP OLD THRONE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
ROME, Oct. 10.—Amanullah, former king of the Afghans, whatever his faults, understands the meaning of the word gratitude. In ecstasy today over the fall of Kabul to his favorite, Nadir Khan, he said:

"Nadir has always been more than loyal to me, but if he thinks his victory entitles him to the throne of Afghanistan then let him take it. Moreover, I would be willing to be his minister to Rome—I, his one time master. So far as my own return is concerned I would do nothing to prejudice the situation there, and prefer to sacrifice myself to compromising the happiness of my people."

Afghans Flee to Persia.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
TEHRAN, Persia, Oct. 10.—An increasingly large number of Afghans are seeking refuge in Persian territory in order to escape the internal warfare in their own territory, particularly at Herat. The refugees say that Nadir Khan's popularity is growing and that large numbers of tribesmen are joining him. They add that Habiullah has lost the support of his followers because the royal purse is empty. Habiullah is the "water-bearer king," who fled Kabul by plane.

OLD BUDDIES HONOR 2,000 U. S. WAR DEAD AT BELLEAU WOOD

Paris, Oct. 10.—[Special.]—The 26th division, A. E. F., under the leadership of Gen. Clarence R. Edwards and Gen. John H. Sherburne, dedicated today the rebuilt village church of Belleau as a memorial to their dead comrades, in an impressive ceremony, during which four Americans were conferred the Legion of Honor.

Dignitaries of the Catholic church, high officers of the French army, and veterans' organizations and inhabitants were addressed by Gen. Sherburne, Edwards, and Gouraud.

As the last strains of the Star Spangled Banner and Le Marcellaise died away, across the nearby cemetery, where 2,000 doughboys are buried, Gen. Gouraud conferred the Legion of Honor upon the four Americans.

Dignitaries of the Catholic church, high officers of the French army, and veterans' organizations and inhabitants were addressed by Gen. Sherburne, Edwards, and Gouraud.

JUDGE FREES FIVE, REBUKES FEDERAL DRY SNOOPERS

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 10.—[Special.]—Asserting that "it is the duty of the court to protect citizens as well as protect society against bootleggers," Federal Judge Robert C. Baltzell stopped trial of five Vincennes men charged with conspiracy to violate the liquor laws, and instructed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty.

Judge Baltzell also bitterly denounced methods of prohibition agents who obtain evidence by misrepresentation and act on information given by convicted bootleggers, rather than seeking to gain evidence regarding the reputation of defendants from the county and city officers as well as from citizens.

The five defendants were John F. Blair, George H. Zeigler, Maurice Boeckman, Thomas Walker, and Lewis A. Walker, all employees and proprietors of the Walker Hardware company, Vincennes.

Wife of Barney Bertsche Dies After an Operation
Mrs. Margaret F. Bertsche, wife of Christian P. "Barney" Bertsche, died in her home at 5908 Magnolia avenue yesterday after an operation, following a three-month illness. She is survived by her husband, and two brothers and two sisters. Funeral services will be held on Monday at the residence and at St. Rita's church. Interment will be at All Saints' cemetery.

Mrs. Elizabeth Part, Ex-Teacher, Is Buried
Funeral services were held yesterday for Mrs. Elizabeth P. Part, who for nearly forty years was a teacher and principal in the Chicago public schools. She died Tuesday at her home near Wheeling. Mrs. Part retired from the public schools to become superintendent of the Crane fund for widows and children which was founded by Mrs. Frances Crane Lillie and endowed by her father, the late Richard T. Crane.

James Mitchell, Retired Lake Forest Jeweler, Dies
James Mitchell, 60 years old, a retired jeweler, was found dead in bed at his home at 80 Westminter avenue, Lake Forest, yesterday morning. Death was caused by heart trouble, a coroner's jury held. Mr. Mitchell had lived in Lake Forest for 40 years. He retired five years ago, after operating a jewelry business for twenty years. He is survived by his widow and a daughter.

FINANCE EXPERTS FIX "DON'TS" FOR BANK OF WORLD

Baden Baden, Germany, Oct. 10.—[Special.]—The conference on the bank for international settlements, which is to handle German reparations payments under the Young plan, made decided progress today by agreeing provisionally on several things, which the institution will not do.

It was decided that the new bank will not issue notes nor create credits, but will merely transfer, distribute and mobilize existing credits. With these "don'ts" clearly established, the delegates tonight felt that they had avoided dangers that might have arisen from inflation, the interference of the international bank with private enterprise, or the domination of the economics of any country.

The French were especially cautious not to give the bank wide powers from the start. They thought that it would fully justify its existence as a receiver and distributor of reparations, and as a stabilizer of exchange. Diametrically opposed to this viewpoint, but not pressing their ideas at present, were the Germans. They feel that Germany could gain if the bank were given the widest possible field. They were especially enamored of the reference in the Young plan to stimulation of world trade, hoping that German exports would thereby be furthered.

ENGLISH CHEER YANKEE CLEARED IN MURDER CASE

[Copyright: 1929: By the New York Times.]
LONDON, Oct. 10.—A cheering crowd of 4,000 surged around Philip Yale Drew, American actor, at Reading today when the coroner's jury, after deliberating two and three-quarter hours, announced it had not been able to determine who murdered Alfred Olver, elderly tobaccoist, who struggled to get close to Drew, seeking to hug him and pressing bouquets into his hands.

In the packed courtroom men and women sprang to their feet clapping, shouting, and waving handkerchiefs when the foreman of the jury read the verdict. Outside the court the police had to fight a way for Mr. Drew through the milling crowd which stretched from the town hall far down the street. Hysterical women struggled to get close to Drew, seeking to hug him and pressing bouquets into his hands.

When he reached his hotel, Mr. Drew went to the police and addressed the crowd below, saying: "I want you to know how much I appreciate this wonderful demonstration—the prayers that have been sent up for me and the glorious sympathy extended to me. The Lord above, like myself, knows I had nothing whatever to do with this crime."

H. P. Hathaway, Railway Agent, to Be Buried Today
Funeral services for Harry P. Hathaway, 6303 Kenmore avenue, assistant general passenger agent of the Chesapeake and Ohio railway in Chicago since 1917, will be held at 11 a. m. today in a chapel at 6959 North Clark street. Interment will be private. Born in Hastings, England, 66 years ago, Mr. Hathaway had been connected with the Chesapeake and Ohio for 41 years, first as European representative in London and subsequently as agent in Cincinnati, St. Louis and Chicago. He died Wednesday. His widow and a daughter survive.

Shearer Inquiry Body Seeks Documents Source
Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—[Special.]—Inquiry into the source of the alleged secret British document now before it will be undertaken next week by the senate committee investigating William B. Shearer's activities for American shipbuilders at the 1927 Geneva naval conference.

The committee will confer tomorrow. Photostatic copies of the so-called British paper were presented to it by Shearer at the recess of hearings last week.

High Court Ruling on Paroles Affects 600 State Convicts

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 10.—[Special.]—Convicts serving terms of "ten years to life" must serve a minimum of ten years before they are eligible for parole, the Supreme court ruled today in reversing Judge David of Chicago, who ordered Hargrove Jennings released from prison after he had served six years and three months.

More than 600 Illinois convicts are affected by the ruling.

Salesman Kills Employer in Duck Hunting Accident
Charles Hunter, 2929 Cortland street, president of the Acorn Motor Truck company, was shot accidentally by Albert Reeves, a salesman for his company, while duck hunting Tuesday on the Mississippi river near Burlington, Ia. He died from the wounds in a hospital in Burlington yesterday.

Agents Seize Large Still on Farm Near Naperville
A large beer distributing plant, hidden on a farm in a clump of woods near Naperville, was discovered yesterday by prohibition agents working under Assistant Administrator George H. Hurlburt. Although only fifteen barrels and 640 bottles of brew were found in the farm buildings, the presence of 5,000 empty bottles, a large quantity of labels, and complete equipment for bottling, led the agents to believe that the spot is used by Chicago bootleggers as an out of the way point to bottle and truck away their beer. William Ehrhart was taken into custody.

U. S. LINES ASK BIDS FOR 2 BIG PASSENGER SHIPS

New York, Oct. 10.—[Special.]—The United States Lines today announced it had invited American shipbuilders to bid on the construction of two passenger and cargo liners which would be "second in size to the Leviathan" and the largest liners ever to be built in this country.

The proposed ships, which are intended for the North Atlantic trade, will be of slightly less than 30,000 tons, and will attain a speed of 22 knots, faster than any American ship except the Leviathan, the announcement said. They will be 705 feet long and will have accommodations for 1,300 passengers.

It was stated that specifications are proceeding with dispatch for "monster vessels, larger and faster than the Leviathan."

Find Skeletons of 48 Men Dead Since 4th Century
Brescia, Italy, Oct. 10.—[U. P.]—Four tombs of the fourth century were found today by excavators working near the cathedral. It was believed that the bodies of 48 men found in the tombs were those of soldiers killed in battle or of persons who perished in a catastrophe. Some of the skeletons were standing upright. The tombs were 10 feet below the surface.

When Does a Spring Chicken Become a Hen?

Well Bred Ones, Make Debut at 15 Months.

BY PAUL POTTER.

When does a spring chicken cease to be a chicken, and when should it graduate into the stewing hen class? That is the present problem of educators in the school of poultry production and marketing. Modern methods of feeding and breeding tend toward more rapid maturity throughout the domestic animal kingdom. Today, the poultry industry is trying to key up its curriculum for young chickens to compete with a steadily increasing demand for baby beef, 250-pound porkers, and choice well-fed lambs.

So far as the poultry marketing authorities are concerned, they are expecting that every well-bred chicken shall graduate into the laying or stewing class at the end of fifteen months. Either a farmer must hurry his feeding program to make spring fryers, or consign the held-over birds to the laying pens to earn their bread and butter.

Why Prices Are Lower.

According to Harrison F. Jones, veteran secretary of the National Poultry, Butter and Egg association, farmers are beginning to realize the value of this program. And the increasing dangers to profit realization from disease that sets in older flocks is hurrying the general practice of pushing young poultry right along to market.

As a result, he says, this season's crop of poultry is moving along more briskly and in larger volume than in previous seasons. For this reason, there is an opportunity this fall for consumers to get the kind of poultry they want at prices lower than formerly prevailed.

"The primary reason for this season's brisk movement is the fact that farmers have learned that poultry must be marketed when it is young and soft fleshed, and at that particular season of the year when practically every bird is of prime quality," says Mr. Jones. "During the last year, in particular, they have learned that keeping chickens on the farm until they become old and tough is not a paying proposition."

Another Factor.

A contributing factor in the situation this fall is the likelihood of high priced grains for winter feeding of all farm animals. Poultry to become either fat or to lay well must have constant care and a balanced diet. The fact that the bulk of the nation's chickens are kept on just average middle west farms makes the poultry market dependent on general farm conditions to an increasing extent.

Although no radical downward movement in poultry prices has been noticed as yet, there is plenty of reason to believe that the abundance of broilers and fryers, and young, soft-fleshed roasting chickens will make this choice food of all the family available at prices ranging from five to ten cents under prevailing prices of a year ago.

There is a decided increase in movements of dressed as well as live poultry into Chicago by truck. Ambitious truckers, starting as far away as western Iowa, start in along the highways buying up the surplus from farm flocks until they have a full load for the metropolitan produce markets. A corps of inspectors under city administration is being kept busy checking up on the admissibility of this poultry.

Dressed Before Shipping.

Live poultry, shipped for years in special cars, slatted and provided with drinking and feed troughs, still travel on these accommodations, but in steadily decreasing amounts. Small packing plants and poultry stations are forming a network through the Mississippi river valley, and the poultry are killed and dressed before shipping.

This sweeping change in poultry marketing has come faster than the

DAIRYMEN IN MOVE TO IMPROVE MILK SUPPLY OF CHICAGO

A campaign for bettering the Chicago market milk supply was launched yesterday by representatives of 137 local dairymen's organizations comprising the Pure Milk association, meeting at the Morrison hotel.

Although no final action was taken toward deducting 1 cent per hundred pounds of milk from the farmer's monthly checks to cover this and other proposed activities, association officials anticipated that the 18,000 member farmers would approve the plan in a later meeting.

A reserve fund is planned to insure milk producers of their income in case they suddenly lose their market outlet because of disease outcroppings. Additional means of protecting the farmers' local market were discussed. Hand in hand with the educational program on milk consumption, association officials propose a campaign of educational advertising to increase the consumption of milk in Chicago and suburbs. W. C. McQueen of Elgin, president of the organization, said.

Some pioneering in the supplying of whole chickens in cans is being done, but this new development is still in its infancy. Government inspection service has been provided in recent months for the certifying of chicken meat, whether for the dressed market or for canning.

ATTACKS BRITISH SELLING IN SOUTH AMERICAN FIELD

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Strong criticism of British manufacturers' methods and salesmanship—similar to that of the prince of Wales last February—was made by Lord D'Abernon, head of the British economic mission to South America, returning to England yesterday. "British manufacturers," he said, "must adapt British products to what South America requires."

The criticism of South America, declared Lord D'Abernon, is that English made goods lasted too long and were too dear. "You give us not what we like but what you think we ought to like," the South Americans said, declared Lord D'Abernon.

NEW YORK'S FUEL AND GAS DRIVERS NOW ON STRIKE

New York, Oct. 10.—[Special].—With the strike of those members of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters and Chauffeurs who handle the city's fresh food supply scarcely settled, a walkout by another branch of the same union today spread through the metropolitan district and menaced the supply of automobile fuel and oil.

Fuel and Gas Drivers' local 553 of the brotherhood, numbering over 3,000 employees of the Standard Oil Company of New York, the Tidewater Oil Sales corporation, the Utility Oil company, and various other companies, have walked out to enforce demands for a substantial wage increase, recognition of the eight hour day, and time and a half for overtime.

Enticing New China and Linen for the Hostess

Novelties Make It Fun to Entertain.

BY SALLY LUNN.

Now is the time to take stock of your facilities for entertaining before the winter's busy round of activities is in and to take advantage of the things offered by the stores if your supply of table appointments is not replenishing. While styles in tableware do not change as rapidly as radically as in clothes, there are many enticing novelties now on display for the autumn openings to inspire the hostess looking for that something effective to distinguish her table from her neighbor's.

On a random eye shopping trip I was impressed with the delicacy and pretensions of some of the new linens. The luncheon set of sheer voile was applied in a floral pattern of pale green, and another that was unusually dainty was white with an embroidered design of a modern design of arabesque and with crisp round finger bowl to match.

Cocktail Napkins.

Cocktail napkins of white voile adorned with tiny animal patterns in pale greens and yellows come attractively done up in round boxes and would make lovely gifts. Modern plates of silver gray ware are handed with a line of silver or rose luster and may be monogrammed in a triangular lettering or with a modern design.

Card sets consisting of cups and saucers for serving sandwiches or salad at a bridge party come in sets of four, in a clover leaf shape, or with one each of hearts, diamonds, spades, and clubs. They have a round ridge to keep the cup in place in lieu of the necessary saucer, and are lavender, blue, yellow, or orange.

Damask sets of fairly large cloth and napkins in green, yellow, or blue are not at all expensive. A novel luncheon set of yellow is hemstitched and has panes with hand painted centers partly sewed down so that the petals stick up from the cloth, and are considered greenery. I saw some beautiful colored dolly and runner sets adorned in flowers and fruit of conventional designs in quite brilliant coloring.

Unusual China.

In the complete service sets of china one of French pottery ware with faint scenic centers and stripes of blue and henna giving a plaid effect to the edges, some French dinner ware set too radically modern to clash with the conventional, with centers in pale pink and gray patterned like Lalique glass, and some English ware with delicate figure decorations appeared next to me.

My rambling eye was also caught by some hat plate pads in pastel colors of figured dolly in sets of three, a luncheon and pitcher set of rather severe lines in frosted and clear glass with tiered tumblers, and some cunning place card and tally arrangements of tiny flower pots with crepe paper flowers.

Cannon Deserts Politics for Brazil Conferences

Richmond, Va., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Bishop James Cannon Jr. of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, will take no further part in the Virginia political campaign, but will sail for Brazil on the steamer Eastern Prince, leaving New York tomorrow afternoon, to preside over three Brazilian conferences of the church. He will return to the United States on Dec. 3.

A POEM IN SILVER AND BLACK

Striking and novel are the glittering silver table appointments shown here. The vase and the plates are of blown silver glass, the goblets of black glass, the after dinner coffee cups of Wedgwood silver luster, and the four corner holders and flowers of shiny metal.

HOUSEHOLD DISCOVERIES

If you have an electric refrigerator it can be a great aid in making candy. Butter the tin used for the ice cubes and pour your fudge into them. The candy will harden almost immediately, and there will be no cutting to do. Miss A. R., Chicago.

When taking food in dishes to a church supper or a bake sale, place a piece of adhesive plaster with your name on it on the bottom of each dish. This will insure safety and less trouble in looking up dishes. Mrs. M. E. S., Niles, Mich.

Save bits of colored embroidery floss and work the center front button of baby daughter's bloomers to match the color of her dress, and she can easily put them on without asking which side is which. F. H. H., Geneseo, Ill.

Instead of pouring from the open box when filling the bird seed cups, I use a small necked bottle, which I keep filled with the seed, and save time and labor, as the seed is invariably spilled the other way. Miss A. R., Chicago.

In gathering bittersweet at this time of year, if you get it in the bud or berry and let it open indoors it makes a prettier winter bouquet than if you wait for it to open out of doors. Mrs. M. J., Germantown, Ky.

Before beginning to clean articles in naphtha, rub a little vinegar into the hands, as you would a hand lotion, and you will find that the naphtha does not irritate the hands so much. Mrs. J. I. M., Oak Park.

Most silk hose are too long in the leg for short women. I have found a good remedy for this, and also to save hose from runs. Before wearing new ones I stitch on the sewing machine two or three narrow tucks at the top of the hose, stretching the tuck as I stitch. If a run starts, the tucks stop it. Mrs. C. A. S., Winchester, Ill.

OUTLINES PLANS TO TRAIN MILITIA WITH REGULARS

Major Gen. Frank Parker, commander of the sixth corps area, yesterday was the guest of the state convention of the National Guard Association of Illinois, which was held at the Hotel La Salle.

Gen. Parker discussed the development of closer relations between the civilian soldiery and the permanent military establishment, and outlined plans for drawing together the three components of the army—the regular army, national guard and organized reserves—into a single unit for instruction. He said his plan would assist in forming a homogeneous army as a result of the personal contacts.

Five hundred officers of the national guard attended the convention, which ended last night with a dinner after a one day session.

Other speakers included Brig. Gen. Abel Davis, Maj. Gen. Roy D. Keehn, Adj. Gen. Charles E. Black, Maj. Gen. Milton J. Foreman, and Col. D. S. Myer, president of the guard association.

AGED first then ROASTED

Like Wine, Coffee to be Mellow and Smooth must be Aged.

It isn't always the cook. Sometimes it's the coffee that is to blame for an after-taste of bitterness.

McLaughlin's Manor House Coffee is the coffee that is "aged" before roasted. It takes time and money. Millions of pounds must be stored. The raw, green coffee crops must be tested and selected like prize vintages. Then the coffee is stored in ageing rooms until it has turned a golden yellow with age. It may take a year before it is fully mellow and ripe—but when it is finally roasted, all the harshness is gone. . . . Nothing but smooth, deep coffee flavor and aroma.

This extra money and patience is worth while. It is pretty hard to get a user of McLaughlin's Manor House Coffee to try anything else very long.

Nearly every wealthy, old family that you know selects it, of course—but so also do millions of others. For coffee luxury is cheap. McLaughlin's Manor House Coffee costs only about one-tenth of one penny more per cup than the best of the cheaply-made coffees.

Columbus Honored Tomorrow; Tell Child of Heroes

By Mrs. Devans

A "New Education Booklet," by Mrs. Devans, will be sent free on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

We were looking at some Madonnas by the early Italian masters. "Aren't they beautiful?" I said. "Yes, they are," my young companion answered, "but I wonder why some one doesn't paint a different kind of madonna. I'd like a Christ Child with his mother that looked more like the people we're used to seeing every day, dressed the way they dress."

Evidently, though it wasn't said—the little Christ and Mary seemed intimate, familiar figures to him—and yet he could not find in drawings or in paintings this every-day Christ Child and Mother that he visualized.

It made me think of the great figures of history, unfamiliar as books and pictures make them. For instance, I wonder if every child in this land of ours has only a remote feeling about the man whose achievement is celebrated tomorrow. To make history the vivid thing it should be, and to show that men and deeds live and are celebrated only because of qualities that stand out against the lesser qualities of lesser mortals and lesser events—that is something that we can do for our children when days like Columbus Day, the Fourth of July, Lincoln's birthday, and similar holidays come.

Tell your child, when these days come around, something of the men and events that they celebrate and the recital may have a deep, though not visible, effect on him. Lincoln, after his Gettysburg address, came away oppressed with a feeling of his inability to say to that audience what was in his heart. He did not know that out of the fulness of his feeling he had written a classic. Columbus, obsessed with the idea that the world was round and that the passage to India lay westward, was scoffed at, sneered at, laughed at, betrayed, and unbelieved in. Seven years he went from country to country trying to get funds to finance his voyage—persistently, with faith in his belief, doggedly. And when Queen Isabella of Spain had at last been persuaded and had pawned her jewels to get the necessary money, his troubles were not over. Only his dauntless courage and faith kept him from being thrown overboard by his terrified crew when after weeks and weeks of sailing no land appeared. Perhaps this picture will have more reality to your child than the prettier and more familiar one of Columbus landing on a verdant shore in a most beautifully decorative costume, perfectly groomed and with an equally romantic looking crew.

The remote deeds of our heroes are living actualities with inspiring main-springs of action. Try to get some of this over to your child.

New President of U. of C. to Speak at Luncheon

Harry A. Wheeler, chairman of the trustees of the American Library association, will preside at a luncheon meeting of Chicago men today at the Union League club. The speakers will include David Lawrence, president of the United States Daily of Washington, D. C.; Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, and Carl H. Milam, secretary of the American Library association.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each child's saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unsuitable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Aunt Dee, The Tribune, Chicago.

We had had a family with a number quarrelsome children in it live next door to us. To our great relief they moved out, but another large family moved in.

However, these children were unusually well mannered children and when our Bobby came home from his first play time at their house he said, "Why, mother, there isn't a single fight in that whole family." G. T.

I had my small niece downtown with me. After we had shopped quite a bit she lagged behind and seemed uninterested. I asked what was the matter, and she said she was tired. I said regretfully:

"To be sure, you must be. We will go right up and cuddle down on one of those big, soft chairs in the rest-room."

"O," she protested, "I always rest better on a hard ice cream chair. We'll rest there." M. T.

A Velvet Ensemble in Fashionable Plum Tint

BY LOLITA.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—A new meaning is given to the old phrase of "costly napery" this season. We mean all the covers for the nap of the neck which are provided by the new millinery. If the back of a single throat is left to the inclement elements it will surely not be the fault of the great Paris modistes, for no professional roofer could do the job much better. This extension at the back and at the sides in conjunction with a turnback front brim are two of the outstanding notes in present day millinery.

Today's costume gives one more proof of this taste in a hat of gray velvet bordered with plum colored velvet to match the accompanying frock. Plum? Yes. For again fashion is dividing the plum with her devotees. This tone, cherished all summer by the vanguard of fashion, is being employed today for all manner of costumes, both daytime and evening.

Nothing could be lovelier than this tone in velvet, and today's ensemble is dedicated to proving the fact. It consists of a skirt of the plain plum colored velvet with circular fullness and bordered in gray. The tuck-in blouse is of gray satin.

Jackets of the length sponsored above and some which are a hint longer are prominent in collections where the jacket of all types continues to be of outstanding interest. Many of these longer jackets are belted so high as to look just on the way to the Empire mode, and frequently they are bordered with fur.

Personal Hygiene Essential to the Dainty Femme

Some people have to deal with something more than the normal perspiration that is occurring in the body all the time. The sweat glands, due to some disorderly physical condition usually, work overtime. This occurs chiefly under the arms, along the soles of the feet, and in the palms of the hands.

The cause of such superactivity of the glands is often a depletion of vitality, improper elimination or a highly nervous condition.

Perhaps because these troubles are not acute enough to send for the doctor or go visit him, one goes dragging on in a writer of unpleasant symptoms, whereas sound medical attention, a change of diet, more rest, out of door exercise and cold morning showers to tone up the skin would probably effect a complete cure.

Local aids there are which ought not to be neglected. There are astringent powders, pastes and liquids that effect a temporary relief. It takes some experimentation, however, to discover which one is most pleasing for use on your particular skin and which is most effective without irritation. Certain preparations—excellent for another individual—may be too strongly acid for your skin/because you are under par.

A simple hint, not commonly familiar, is that of removing the hair under the arms to diminish the odor of perspiration. It is not wise to use any astringent until twenty-four hours after the hair is removed.

If, by bathing twice a day and by the use of deodorants, you do not free yourself entirely of this unpleasant perspiration odor, a doctor should be consulted. There is no question then but it is due to some internal derangement.

As for that other difficulty, bad breath, it is due either to an unhealthy condition in the oral cavity or to gases given off during the process of digestion. Mouth washes and breath sweeteners are helpful, but they can be of no permanent value until the unhealthy condition is cleared up. Infection of the sinus or tonsils or a decayed tooth will tinge the breath with its poison and not until the putrefied matter is removed will you cure the condition.

PEGGY ANN: STANDARD weight for a girl of 22, 5 feet 5, is 130 pounds. You are considerably underweight. Send a stamped, addressed envelope for weight gaining booklet.

E. R. J.: STANDARD WEIGHT for a girl of 15, 5 feet 8, is 134 pounds, making you eleven pounds overweight. You're too young for a general reducing course, but I have a set of exercises called "Youth Preservers," which you will find helpful. Send a stamped, addressed envelope for them—and in addition eat sparingly of bread, candy, and rich desserts.

DORIS G.: THERE IS NOTHING you can do to increase your height, unless you just naturally grow an inch or so in the next two years. We attain full growth by age 20.

ess of digestion. Mouth washes and breath sweeteners are helpful, but they can be of no permanent value until the unhealthy condition is cleared up. Infection of the sinus or tonsils or a decayed tooth will tinge the breath with its poison and not until the putrefied matter is removed will you cure the condition.

"IS ZAT SO"

An Ailing CHILD

Are you prepared to render first aid and quick comfort the moment your youngster has an upset of any sort? Could you do the right thing—immediately—though the emergency came without warning—perhaps tonight? Castoria is a mother's standby at such times. There is nothing like it in emergencies, and nothing better for everyday use. For a sudden attack of colic, or the gentle relief of constipation; to allay a feverish condition, or to soothe a fretful baby that can't sleep. This pure vegetable preparation is always ready to ease an ailing youngster. It is just as harmless as the recipe on the wrapper reads. If you see Chas. H. Fletcher's signature, it is genuine Castoria. It is harmless to the smallest infant; doctors will tell you so.

You can tell from the recipe on the wrapper how mild it is, and how good for little systems. But continue with Castoria until a child is grown.

IS YOUR HAIR REALLY LOVELY?

More and more women are learning that only with the help of Nestle ColoRinse can their hair retain the youthful color and lustrous high-lights that mean true hair beauty. For only Nestle ColoRinse can restore the natural color-sheen... robbed from every woman's hair by the dust... the carbon and acid fumes... found in the city's air. Harmlessly, too, for Nestle ColoRinse is neither a dye nor a bleach but a temporary vegetable coloring... quickly applied by simple rinsing—easily removed by a single shampoo.

Try it this very night! Shampoo your hair... and rinse with Nestle ColoRinse. Then let your mirror tell you the story of renewed attractiveness... of a hair loveliness you have never had before. Purchase a box of Nestle ColoRinse—today!

WILLIAM FOX THEATRES

Tomorrow, OCTOBER 12th

and continuing for the entire week, every Fox theatre throughout the United States will observe this event with a splendid entertainment befitting the attainment of a quarter century of remarkable growth.

THE story of William Fox is the History of the Motion Picture—a pioneer, who, by his courage, integrity, independence and foresight has transformed an obscure enterprise into a magnificent art. It is significant that the Fox enterprise is the only Motion Picture endeavor to attain a quarter century of world-wide growth and success.

FAR MORE IMPORTANT

Than even the entertainment, will be a message from William Fox of vital concern to the future welfare of every patron of Fox Theatres. In 25 years the Fox Organization has grown from a nickleodeon to the most gigantic enterprise in the world. This unparalleled success could not have been possible without the whole-hearted response and liberal support extended to William Fox by the American people. On this occasion William Fox will disclose through the Movietone screen of each Fox Theatre his plan to repay you in material profit for this quarter century of generous patronage.

Catholics to Recall Cardinal Mundelein Being Made a Bishop

Catholics of the archdiocese of Chicago will celebrate the twentieth anniversary of the consecration of Cardinal Mundelein as a bishop with colorful ceremonies at the Holy Name cathedral on Monday. Delegates from the 400 parishes will be in attendance. It was the wish of Cardinal Mundelein that the recent dedication of Holy Name rectory should constitute a sufficient recognition of the anniversary, but upon the request of Auxiliary Bishop Bernard J. Sheil as the representative of the diocesan clergy and laity, the cardinal consented to the coming ceremonies.

Cardinal Mundelein was consecrated titular bishop of Loryma and auxiliary bishop of Brooklyn in 1909. He was made archbishop of Chicago in 1915 and his creation as cardinal came in 1925. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Michael J. Fitzsimmons, vice general secretary, will be the celebrant at the anniversary high mass and the Rev. Timothy O'Shea will preach the jubilee sermon. The Very Rev. Msgr. D. J. Dunne will deliver the presentation.

Y.M.C.A. Says 386,398 Persons Attended Talk on Americanization

Attendance at the Americanization lectures conducted by the Chicago Y. M. C. A. during the last five months has broken all records for the 13 years the work has been done. There were 386,398 persons and 35 nationalities attending a total of 98 lectures. "Despite the virtual shut off of immigration, interest of Chicago's foreign born in Americanization continues to increase," Frederick A. Lorenz, chairman of the Americanization committee of the Y. M. C. A., said today in announcing the attendance figures. "One of the districts in which we have been holding lectures is a densely populated industrial district, which formerly was a center of beer running activities. At present it has become a peaceable and prosperous community, arrests of juveniles and adults decreasing steadily."

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—Mrs. Hoover, accompanied by her secretary, Miss Mary Randolph, attended the last concert of the autumn festival of the Elizabeth Coolidge Foundation, in the chamber music hall in the library of congress, given last evening by players from the Philadelphia orchestra, and conducted by Leopold Stokowski. Frank Hibb and Lewis Richards played two harpsichords and Lynnwood Farnum was at the pipe organ.

The concert yesterday morning in the same series, was given by the Jacques Gordon string quartet of Chicago and was one of the outstanding programs of the series. Mr. Gordon played the violin part of the Bach sonata for violin and piano, while Harold Bauer was at the piano. Mrs. Gordon was with Mr. Gordon. This is the first series since the hall was built by Mrs. Coolidge, which she has not attended. She still is in Europe where she spent the summer. The Gordon quartet made a very distinct impression on the Washington audience.

Mrs. William Waller announces the engagement of her daughter Elizabeth, to Smith Wildman Brookhart, Jr., son of the senator from Iowa. Miss Waller and Mr. Brookhart are students at the George Washington university, the former taking a course in liberal arts and the latter working for a degree in law. The wedding will take place in June.

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: Business Before Pleasure

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, Oct. 10.—Mrs. John Henry Clews will return from Europe on the Bremen next Saturday. Mrs. Judson Gilbert Hopkins gave a luncheon today at her home for the bride attendants of her daughter.

WEDDING

Miss Christine Stark Hopkins, whose marriage to Mr. Sherman Damon of Brookline, Mass., will take place tomorrow afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Francis R. Stoddard will give a dinner dance in the crystal room of the Ritz-Carlton on Jan. 2 to introduce their daughter, Margery.

The marriage of Miss Marie Carroll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis M. Carroll of 6827 Kenmore avenue, to John Hamilton Parish Jr. of St. Louis, Mo., was solemnized at noon yesterday at Holy Name cathedral, with Bishop Sheil officiating. The bride's cousin, Miss Katherine Nelson, was her only attendant. Janet Broadhead, a niece of the groom, acted as flower girl. Robert W. Knapp of St. Louis served as best man for Mr. Parish and the ushers included Eugene and John Carroll and John T. Conner of Chicago and Stanley Moon, Percy Orthwein, David G. Teasdale, and Lawrence Miller of St. Louis. The ceremony was followed by a breakfast and reception at the Blackstone hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Parish will reside in St. Louis.

A fine full chest
Straight legs
Sound, even teeth

Every mother knows how much these things mean to health and appearance all through life! To ensure them, physicians are telling mothers that their babies must have special protection. Even though your baby is breast-fed, still he needs protection against the ever threatening danger of poor bones and teeth. There are two common sources of the essential protective factor (Vitamin D). Sunshine and good cod-liver oil! But because of clothing, clouds, fog and smoke, it is almost impossible to get enough sunshine on your baby's bare body. Even ordinary window glass filters out the protecting rays.

Physicians say that the one dependable protection is to give your baby Bottled Sunshine—good cod-liver oil—regularly every day. And thousands of them say, "Give Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil." They prefer Squibb's because it is very rich in two essential vitamins—Vitamin D, the "sunshine vitamin," which helps to build good bones and teeth, and Vitamin A which promotes growth and increases resistance to infections. Your physician knows how much Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil will help in correct formation of your baby's bones and teeth. For your protection, insist on Squibb's, the vitamin-tested, vitamin-protected oil. Plain and Mint-flavored.
